Media Information

CREDENTIALS: Requests for working press credentials at Carolina home games should be made in writing on company letterhead to Rick Brewer in the Sports Information Office. Brewer's mailing address is P.O. Box 2126, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27514.

Because of the demand for credentials and the limited space available, media agencies which cover Carolina and the visiting school on a regular basis will receive top priority. Other credentials will be issued on the basis of circulation and the availability of space. Requests are screened with care to insure a working press box. Children, spouses and pets are not allowed in compliance with the working code of the Football Writers Association of America.

FILING COPY: The Department of Athletics furnishes a number of telephones for writers to use in moving their copy. Anyone desiring a private phone should contact Southern Bell in Chapel Hill.

The Carolina Sports Information Office has one telecopier which will be available for filing. An operator's fee of $10 will be charged for its use. This fee will go to a student assistant who will stay late to send copy.

PRESS BOX SERVICES: Programs, flip cards and statistics will be provided before each game. A play-by-play will be distributed at the conclusion of each quarter. Halftime statistics will also be available. Complete team and individual statistics, a scoring summary and coaches' quotes will be provided after the game.

Lunch will be served on the third level of the press box before each game and at halftime. Soft drinks and coffee are available on the second level (writers' area) throughout the game.

SIDELINE POLICY: Photographers will not be allowed on the sidelines without an armband. Armbands can be picked up in the press box prior to the game. Each photographer must pick up his or her own armband. Under NCAA and Atlantic Coast Conference guidelines, photographers are not allowed inside the 25-yard lines and must remain outside the restraining lines surrounding the field.

INTERVIEWS: Each Tuesday during the football season Dick Crum will be available to the media at a press luncheon. Television and radio tapes can be done at 11:30 a.m. with lunch being served at noon. The press conference follows the meal. Interviews with Crum at other times during the week can be set up by the Sports Information Office.

Player interviews should also be arranged by contacting the Sports Information Office. Generally, interviews will be in Kenan Fieldhouse. However, Carolina's actual locker room is closed to the press during the season except on Saturdays following games. Player interviews are not allowed on Fridays preceding games.

RADIO AND TV SHOW: Over 60 stations in three states will once again carry the Tar Heel Football Network. The network is operated by Village Companies of Chapel Hill with Diane Smith as manager and Jim Heavner as executive producer. Woody Durham handles the play-by-play work with Freddy Kiger adding color commentary.

The Carolina Football Show will be televised across the state of North Carolina each Sunday. The show features Crum and highlights of the previous game. John Kilgo serves as host.

The 1987 Outlook

A veteran line featuring players like guard Pat Crowley (51), should again give Mark Maye time to throw.

With quarterback Mark Maye heading a cast of 16 returning starters, the University of North Carolina could again rank among the top teams in college football this fall.

However, optimism about the Tar Heel season has to be accompanied by caution as Carolina faces one of the most demanding schedules in the nation.

Still, there is enough talent and experience on hand that Carolina could better its 1986 record of 7-4-1. There are 43 lettermen returning from that Aloha Bowl team, including some of the best players in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

The outlook is especially bright on offense where the Tar Heels have one of the nation's premier quarterbacks in Maye. He will operate behind a veteran offensive line and run an attack which features a number of other explosive weapons.

Defensively, Carolina has switched from the eight-man front it used a year ago to the 50 alignment with which it had so much success in the early part of this decade. Nine starters are back from last fall's unit which played well at times, but lacked the consistency needed of a truly great defense.

"We have the potential to be an outstanding football team," says Coach Dick Crum. "But, I've seen other teams with a lot of potential which haven't accomplished a lot. We must take advantage of the ability that we have."

"Of course, we could develop into a really great team and still not have the type of record one would normally think such a team might have. I think the schedule is that tough."

In addition to their seven ACC rivals, the Tar Heels also must play Illinois, Oklahoma, Navy and Auburn.

Carolina will face that schedule with an offense which has great possibilities. The Tar Heels were sixth nationally in total offense last year, averaging 436 yards a game.

The key man will be Maye, a 6-4, 200-pound senior from Charlotte, N.C., who appears ready to challenge for the All-America honors many predicted for him when he first came to Chapel Hill in 1983.

One of the most heralded high school players ever in this state, Maye was red-shirted in his initial season here and then saw just spot action in 1984 because of shoulder problems. He eventually underwent shoulder surgery and had to sit out the entire 1985 season.

However, he bounced back from that in sensational fashion, leading the ACC and finishing 12th nationally in passing last fall. Although he started just the last six games of the year, Maye still completed 110 of 176 passes for 1,401 yards and 10 touchdowns. Three times during the season he set school single-game passing yardage records.

After a couple of months of rest, Maye's arm was even better last spring and he should be stronger still this fall. He is a classic drop-back passer who could well rewrite the Tar Heel record books.

Jonathan Hall, a junior from Vienna, Va., returns to give Carolina a solid backup at this spot. In fact, he could well push Maye for playing time. Hall started the first five games last year before a knee injury forced him out of the lineup. Carolina was unbeaten in those five games.

Rounding out the quarterback picture are red-shirt freshmen Dan Walkowiak of Butler, Pa. and Kent Smith, a walk-on from Canton, Ohio.

While Maye was leading the ACC in passing last season, Carolina was also producing the league's leading rusher in tailback Derrick Fenner. However, Fenner, who ran for 1,250 yards in 10 games, was suspended from the team in December for academic reasons. His future is now clouded by legal problems.

But, the Tar Heels should still get good play at the important tailback spot. Torin Dorn moved into the starting role there during spring practice and won that position. A 6-1, 192-pound sophomore from Southfield, Mich., Dorn saw spot action last fall, but then had a big day against Arizona in the Aloha Bowl. He gives Carolina a possible breakaway threat.

Returning at fullback is James Thompson, a 5-11, 230-pound junior from Lumberton, N.C. He is a tough inside runner and a good blocker. Another key player at this position is Brad Lopp, a 6-2, 212-pound senior from Jefferson, N.C., who missed spring practice with a shoulder injury. He was a starter last season before being injured at Wake Forest. He should challenge for playing time this fall.

One of the most pleasant surprises in the spring was Kennard Martin, a 5-11, 198-pound freshman from Winston-Salem, N.C. He did an outstanding job at both tailback and fullback in the off-season work and is sure to see action somewhere this fall.

Also expected to contend for playing time in the backfield are tailback Clarence Carter, a 6-0, 185-pound sophomore from Toledo, Ohio, and fullback Michael Benefield, a 5-9, 206-pound red-shirt freshman from Wilmington, Del.

Although split end Eric Streater (37 catches in 1986) has graduated, there is still good experience at the wide receivers. Flanker Eric Lewis will move to Streater's split end spot with Randy Marriott and Quinton Smith taking over at flanker. Lewis, who is also a dangerous punt returner, averaged 18.9 yards on 13 catches last fall and had four touchdown receptions. Marriott also had 13 catches, averaging 17.2 yards per grab and scoring three times. Smith was the Tar Heels' number two receiver behind Streater with 17 catches (15.6 and three TDs).

Dave Truitt is gone at tight end, leaving a question mark there. The top three players at this position should be John Keller, a 6-4, 225-pound junior from Toledo, Ohio; Daryl Parham, a 6-6, 260-pound senior from Lynchburg, Va.; and Damon Hueston, a 6-6, 226-pound junior from Toledo, Ohio. Hueston suffered a knee injury last fall and missed all of spring practice. Keller also was out of action during part of the spring work. Both are exceptional pass-catchers. Parham is a good blocker, but needs to improve as a receiver.

The offensive line could be one of the best ever at Carolina. Only one starter is missing from last year when Carolina led the ACC in total offense. Certainly, that player, left tackle Harris Barton, will be difficult to replace after winning first-team All-America honors last season. Not only was he a sensational player, but he was a great leader, too.

Still, the line could be better. Everyone else has more experience up front and Carolina has capable players to take over Barton's position.

Three Tar Heel linemen figure to contend for all-star honors this fall. They are right tackle Creighton Incorminias, a 6-4, 300-pound junior from Hampton, Va.; right guard Pat Crowley, a 6-3, 275-pound sophomore from Hampton Bays, N.Y.; and center Jeff Garnica, a 6-4, 260-pound junior from Kettering, Ohio.

Returning at left guard are two players who split time at that position last season—Steve Steinbacher, a 6-4, 270-pound junior from Newtown Square, Pa., and Ralph Phifer, a 6-2, 275-pound senior from Mooresville, N.C.

The battle at left tackle will be between veteran Darrell Hamilton, a 6-6, 280-pound junior from Washington, D.C., and Chuck Tabor, a 6-5, 290-pound junior from Charlotte, N.C. Hamilton has started on the right side in the past and Tabor is a transfer from Missouri.

As in the offensive interior, there is also good potential along the defensive line. All three starters up front are veteran performers and all are capable of being all-star players. Tackle Tim Goad, a 6-4, 270-pound senior from Claudville, Va., won All-ACC honors last season, while tackle Reuben Davis, a 6-4, 270-pound senior from Greensboro, N.C., was an All-ACC selection in 1985. Both are big, powerful and agile.

Playing between those two will be nose guard Carlton Bailey, a 6-3, 245-pound senior from Baltimore, Md. Bailey is the quickest of all the defensive linemen and an outstanding pass rusher. After playing end in last year's eight-man front, he's now back at his natural nose guard spot in the fifty alignment and could be headed for his finest season.

Senior Donnie Wallace and sophomore Cecil Gray provide experienced depth at tackle. Sophomore David Newkirk, shifted from linebacker, could develop into a good backup at nose guard. Veteran Rod Snyder is another possibility there.

Biggest question mark on defense is at outside linebacker. Antonio Goss, a 6-4, 216-pound junior from Randleman, N.C., and John Reed, a 6-3, 210-pound sophomore from Tampa, Fla., started at those two positions during the spring. Goss has game experience at strong safety, while Reed is a newcomer. Freshman Don Millen and junior Mike Bowman, a former quarterback, show promise, but need work. An important player here could be senior Noel McEachern. He has a great deal of experience along the defensive line, but missed the spring work while rehabilitating a knee injured last fall.

Brett Rudolph, a 6-2, 228-pound senior from Chagrin Falls, Ohio, and Mitch Wike, a 6-2, 225-pound junior from Brevard, N.C., return as the starting inside linebackers. Rudolph was slowed most of last season by a bad ankle and then missed spring practice with a shoulder injury. But, when he's healthy, he's one of the best defensive players in the ACC.

Wike also missed part of the spring, allowing a group of younger players to get more work. Leonard Dempsey, Bernard Timmons, Dennis Tripp and Steve Lowe made good progress and could push for playing time this fall. In fact, Dempsey and Timmons will go into the pre-season work as starters since Rudolph and Wike missed so much practice time in the spring.

Heading up the secondary is Derrick Donald at left cornerback. A 5-11, 195-pound senior from Lenoir, N.C., Donald tied for the ACC lead in interceptions last season with six. He should be one of the best defensive backs in college football.

Jim Jauch and Skeet Baldwin, who split time at right cornerback in 1986, both missed spring practice with injuries. Howard Feggins, who had seen extensive action at strong safety in the past, was moved to that spot and won a starting position. He should give the Tar Heels solid play there.

Norris Davis, a 6-1, 210-pound senior from Reston, Va., returns at strong safety with Dan Vooletich, a 6-1, 180-pound sophomore from Ann Arbor, Mich., back at free safety. Vooletich started at that position down the stretch in 1986.

Also in contention for playing time will be Larry Whiteside, Victor Bullock, Baldwin and Jauch at the corners; Sterling Hayden and Bill Franklin at free safety; and Bryan Causey at strong safety. Whiteside was one of the biggest stars of the spring and Causey also did an outstanding job in the off-season work.

The kicking game will be in the hands of senior Kenny Miller of Phoenix, Md. Miller averaged 39.4 yards a punt last season and also booted three of four long-range field goals, one a 50-yarder. After sharing the place-kicking duties with graduated Lee Gliarmis last year, Miller should handle all of them in 1987.

Defensive tackle Tim Goad (76) won all-conference honors in 1986.

The Tar Heels

72 Richard Applebaum

Offensive Guard, 6-3, 270, Sophomore, Atlantic Beach, N.Y.

A reserve defensive lineman last year who was shifted to offense in the spring... Now a backup at left guard... Got off to a good start in spring practice and also finished strong... Really came on in the last week of the off-season work... Lacks experience at this position right now and will become a better player when he acquires it... Strong and intense with good toughness... A fine worker in the weight room... Was red-shirted as a freshman in 1985... Was a two-way lineman at Lawrence High School... Played on teams there which compiled a three-year record of 25-4... Had 99 tackles as a senior, including 11 sacks... Blocked seven kicks... All-conference, all-league and all-state... All-Long Island and All-Nassau County selection... Team captain as a senior... Also was Nassau County shot put champion in 1985... Undecided on a college major... Born June 20, 1967.

96 Carlton Bailey

Nose Guard, 6-3, 245, Senior, Baltimore, Md.

One of Carolina's best players... Should contend for all-star honors in the defensive line... Teams with tackles Reuben Davis and Tim Goad to give the Tar Heels an outstanding defensive front... Has been a part-time starter in each of the past three seasons... Gave Carolina flexibility last year because of his versatility... Could play anywhere in the defensive line last year and did just that... Started at both end and guard in an eight-man front alignment... Now back at his natural nose guard position in a "fifty" system... Did a great job in spring practice... Really started to become a dominating-type player... Won the Lawrence Taylor Award as the most outstanding defensive player in the spring... Quickest of the defensive linemen... Has great anticipation and very good instincts... A very experienced player... A hard worker in the weight room and on the practice field... Willing to stay late after practice to make sure he's got something right... Has added needed weight since last season without losing any quickness... Very enthusiastic and one of the team leaders... Although he only started three games last fall, he still was Carolina's sixth-leading tackler... Saw extensive action in a reserve role early in the year... Then started at guard for an injured Reuben Davis at Clemson... Was in on 12 total hits there... Started the final two games of the year at end when Ron Burton was moved to tackle... Was in on 15 hits against Virginia... Had three sacks in that game for losses totalling 37 yards... Made 77 total hits during the season, including 32 solo tackles... Good pass rusher who had eight quarterback pressures... Also had a sack in the Aloha Bowl against Arizona... Originally came to Carolina in the fall of 1983 as a linebacker, but was red-shirted... Was moved to the defensive line the following spring... An all-county and all-metro tackle at Woodlawn High School... Played on a Class AA state championship team there... Captain of his track team... Set the Baltimore County record in the 330-yard high hurdles, winning All-America honors in that event... Majoring in sociology... Born December 15, 1964.

26 Skeet Baldwin

Defensive Back, 5-10, 185, Sophomore, Chapel Hill, N.C.

Started the first nine games last year at right cornerback... Played as a backup in the final two games before starting against Arizona in the Aloha Bowl... Finished as the team's 14th-leading tackler with 35 total hits... Had 21 solo tackles... Caused one fumble and broke up three passes... Injury forced him to miss contact work in spring practice... Is behind because of that... Not on the pre-season two-deep, but is expected to be one of the top eight players in the secondary once practice gets underway... Has excellent quickness and speed... Has the quickest feet of any Tar Heel defensive back... Does a good job in man-to-man coverages... Worked at free safety as well as right cornerback in spring drills... Had been one of the biggest surprises of the 1986 spring practice, going from third team to a starting spot... Red-shirted in the fall of 1985... First player signed by Dick Crum's staff from Chapel Hill High School... A three-year starter there at tailback... Started in the secondary as a sophomore and junior, but played as a reserve as a senior... Still had seven interceptions... Associated Press all-state choice as a defensive back... One of only two players named All-Big Six Conference on both offense and defense... Led the Tigers in rushing, receiving, touchdowns and interceptions... Also lettered in basketball, baseball and track, winning all-conference honors in track... An industrial relations major... Born November 29, 1966.

34 Michael Benefield

Fullback, 5-9, 210, Freshman, Wilmington, Del.

A low-to-the-ground, hard-nosed runner... Goes into the fall as the number three fullback... Should compete for playing time there and also contribute on special teams... Has also played some at tailback... Red-shirted last fall... Showed good improvement during the spring... Has fine work habits... Good runner... Strong and has good speed... Has fine hands... Possesses good balance and flexibility... One of the team's strongest players... Benches 440... Has gotten mentally and physically tougher in his first year at Carolina... Simply needs more repetitions to become a complete back... 1985 High School Player of the Year in Delaware... State's leading rusher with 1,553 yards in 10 games... Averaged 6.7 yards a rush... Scored 17 touchdowns... All-Catholic and all-state selection at tailback... Bally's All-America... Also lettered in track at St. Mark's... State champion in the shot and team captain as both a junior and senior... Enrolled in Carolina's General College... Born January 22, 1968.

31 Steve Borders

Defensive Back, 6-0, 175, Freshman, Statesville, N.C.

The number three strong safety at the end of spring practice... Did a good job in the spring work after being red-shirted last fall... A very aggressive player... Runs well and gets to the football... Plays very hard... Has a chance to help, especially on special teams... Non-scholarship player... Was coached by C.A. Frye at Statesville High School... Enrolled in the General College at Carolina... Born September 4, 1967.

11 Mike Bowman

Outside Linebacker, 6-3, 205, Junior, Bronx, N.Y.

Played sparingly as the number three quarterback last season... Moved to outside linebacker in the spring and made a nice transition to the new position... Although he had been a quarterback for his first three years here, adapted quickly to defense... Good size and mobility give him a chance to play at this spot... A good leader who should help stabilize the most inexperienced position on the entire Carolina defense... Finished the spring behind only Antonio Goss at one OLB slot... Became a more physical player in the spring... Still needs to get stronger... An intelligent player... Confident and plays with a lot of enthusiasm... Won the Kelvin Bryant Award in the spring of 1986 as the team's most enthusiastic offensive player in the off-season work... Red-shirted in 1984, his first season on campus... Won four football letters at Riverdale County School... Twice selected all-city quarterback by the NEW YORK DAILY NEWS... Chosen co-player of the year in the state as a senior by the New York State Sports Writers Association... Riverdale was the number one team in the state among small schools his senior year... Finished his career with over 3,200 yards passing on teams which were 20-5... Team co-captain as a senior... Also lettered four times in basketball and twice each in lacrosse and baseball... League MVP and team co-captain as a senior in basketball... First-team all-conference in lacrosse as a junior and senior... Named Riverdale's top male athlete as a senior... His father is a surgeon... Majoring in economics... Born March 10, 1966.

68 Bill Boyd

Offensive Tackle, 6-9, 300, Freshman, Hampton, Va.

Being counted on to play in a reserve role this fall... Number two right tackle behind all-star candidate Creighton Incorminias... Was a second-team player at times last fall... Did not play, however, and was red-shirted... Got stronger over the winter with work in the weight room... Was hurt the last week of spring practice... Had a solid spring until his injury... Will be 100 percent this fall... Has excellent size... Understands the offense well... Has a bright football future... Won three letters in the sport at Kecoughtan High School... All-Peninsula selection at offensive tackle... Also played nose guard on defense... Named to the ROANOKE TIMES Top 25 in Virginia... Chosen for the East-West All-Star Game... Also lettered three times in basketball... Averaged eight points and eight rebounds as a senior... Studying in the General College at Carolina... Born August 11, 1968.

38 Rob Brossart

Defensive Back, 6-1, 185, Freshman, Middletown, Ohio

A backup at free safety... Was red-shirted last fall... Did not get a lot of work in the spring... Thus, has a lot to do to catch up to the other players at this position... Needs to gain strength and speed... Played defensive back, quarterback and wide receiver at Lakota High School... Also punted there and handled place-kicking duties... All-league choice as both a defensive back and wide receiver... All-area selection in the secondary... Intercepted seven passes in just six games in the defensive backfield... Also caught nine passes and averaged 35 yards a punt in his senior season... As a sophomore, was all-league, all-area and All-Cincinnati as a place-kicker... All-league and all-area quarterback as a junior and All-Cincinnati as a kicker... Made 14 of 27 career field goal attempts and 60 of 71 PATS... Team captain as a senior... Chosen to play in the North-South All-Star game... Won three letters in football and two each in basketball and baseball... Basketball team captain as a senior... Enrolled in the General College... Born December 21, 1967.

15 Victor Bullock

Defensive Back, 6-0, 178, Sophomore, Henderson, N.C.

One of the team's top eight defensive backs... Finished spring practice as the number two man at right corner... Expected to push for playing time in the fall... Got better and better as the spring progressed... A very consistent, steady player during the off-season work... Very coachable... Saw action on special teams and as a reserve defensive back last fall... Started at left cornerback against Arizona in the Aloha Bowl... Had won the starting job at right corner by playing well down the stretch and on the practice field... Was shifted to the left side when Derrick Donald became ill before the game and could not play... Did a very good job there... Made two outstanding plays to break up apparent Wildcat completions... First came into prominence in the latter part of 1986 spring practice... After an injury in the early part of that off-season work, he was outstanding in the last two weeks of practice... Had two interceptions in the Blue-White Game... Had been red-shirted in the fall of 1985... Played quarterback and free safety at Vance High School... Lettered three times in football and played on two conference championship teams... Chosen his school's best athlete as a senior... Passed for 1,327 yards and 14 touchdowns... Played in the Shrine Bowl... Threw for North Carolina's first touchdown in that game, sparking a big comeback from a 28-0 deficit... Also won three letters in basketball... A speech major... Born November 18, 1966.

33 Clarence Carter

Tailback, 5-11, 185, Sophomore, Toledo, Ohio

Ended spring practice as the number two tailback... Was a much improved player during the spring work... Became tougher and a better inside runner in the off-season... Possesses good endurance and very good quickness... An elusive runner who should compete for playing time this fall... Got a lot of repetitions in the spring and made the most of that work... In Carolina's three spring scrimmages, he ran 22 times for 57 yards, 20 times for 101 yards and 10 times for 50 yards... That latter performance came in the Blue-White Game... Still needs to improve his overall strength... Also must be a better blocker... A very positive attitude gives him a good chance to accomplish both of those goals... Could also see action on special teams this fall... Did not letter last year after being red-shirted in 1985... Ran for 964 yards and scored five touchdowns as a senior at Cardinal Stritch... Set school records there for career rushing yardage (2,867), single-game rushing yardage (215) and points in a season (121)... All-league, all-city and All-North Ohio... District AA Back of the Year... Second-team all-state... Selected his team's offensive MVP for three straight years... Won three letters in football, two in basketball and four in track... Majoring in speech... Born October 4, 1966.

48 Bryan Causey

Defensive Back, 5-9, 175, Junior, Greensboro, N.C.

An extremely tough football player... Non-scholarship player who heads into the fall as the top backup at strong safety... Actually started at that position during the last week of spring practice because of an injury to Norris Davis... Should make a big contribution to the Tar Heel team... Doesn't have great physical tools... But, is a hard worker with a lot of determination... A great competitor... Has a knack for being in the right place at the right time... Worked at cornerback as well as strong safety early in the spring... Also could see special teams action... Did a good job there last fall... First came out for football in the fall of 1985... Lettered three years as a safety at Western Guilford High School... Team captain as a junior and senior... All-conference and all-metro as a senior on a conference championship team... Also lettered twice in basketball and baseball... As a senior, played on a 3-A state conference baseball team... President of his school and class valedictorian... His father, Paul, played freshman football at Carolina until sustaining a knee injury... Majoring in accounting... Born May 18, 1966.

77 Phillip Cheek

Defensive Tackle, 6-4, 250, Sophomore, Asheboro, N.C.

One of the backups at right tackle on defense... Last spring was his most productive at Carolina... Did a fine job in the spring of improving his techniques... Also worked hard in the weight room... Has built himself up to the point where he should be able to compete for playing time... Now must retain his weight and become a little stronger... Hard worker on the practice field... Wants to learn and isn't afraid to ask questions... Has developed into a pretty good pass rusher... Did not letter in 1986 after being red-shirt the previous season... Won three football letters at Asheboro High School... Played both offensive and defensive tackle... All-conference and All-Randolph County... Lettered twice in track... Majoring in criminal justice... Born December 6, 1966.

63 Dennis Clemons

Offensive Guard, 6-2, 268, Junior, Jacksonville, Fla.

Ended spring practice as the top backup to Pat Crowley at right guard... Has seen only limited playing time in the past two seasons after being red-shirted in 1984... However, had an excellent spring this year... Played injury-free for the first time in his Carolina career... Did not miss a practice session... Played every position in the line during the spring work... Improved his fundamentals... Has good speed... Running ability makes him very effective on sweeps... Does a fine job on traps and pulling... Quiet and easy-going off the field, but a hard worker on it... Has the best understanding of all the positions in the line of any Tar Heel lineman... Does a good job in the weight room... A two-way lineman at Robert E. Lee High School... Won three letters there on teams which won three straight conference and district championships... Twice an all-city and all-conference choice... All-state as a senior after being picked to the second team as a junior... Also named to the Super 11 and Super 24 teams as a senior... Selected for the North-South All-Star Game... Also lettered three times in basketball and track... All-conference in basketball as a senior... Member of the National Honor Society and named Academic All-America in football by the National Secondary Education Council... His father, Henry, won two basketball letters at Allen University in South Carolina... Majoring in industrial relations... Born March 23, 1966.

74 Tony Cooper

Deep Snapper, 6-1, 190, Sophomore, Henderson, N.C.

Handled the long snaps last season... Did a good job on punts and place-kicks... Sprained his knee in the Clemson game and did not play in the last two games of the year... After his knee injury he disclosed he had injured his wrist three weeks earlier... Had not told anyone until then because he did not want to lose his job... X-rays revealed he had been snapping with a fractured wrist... If his knee is okay, he's the leading candidate for the snapping job again this fall... Snapped some in the spring... Couldn't do a lot, however, because he was rehabilitating his knee... Did work on his strength and agility... A hard worker... Gets good velocity on the ball and is very reliable... A non-scholarship player who originally came out to be a student manager for the team... Has been diligent on the practice field... Has added 20 pounds since first joining the team in the fall of 1985... Red-shirted that year... Played at Vance High School... Majoring in math... Born February 13, 1967.

2 Dan Cortese

Wide Receiver, 6-0, 180, Freshman, Sewickley, Pa.

Good all-around athlete... Worked at quarterback throughout spring practice... Shifted to wide receiver at the conclusion of the sprill drills... Has a chance to play at this new position... Non-scholarship player who came out on his own last fall... All-conference quarterback at Quaker Valley High School... Also competed in basketball, track and baseball... Team captain in football and basketball... In the General College... Born September 14, 1967.

51 Pat Crowley

Offensive Guard, 6-3, 275, Sophomore, Hampton Bays, N.Y.

Another in a long line of standout offensive guards at Carolina... Has the ability to be one of the Tar Heels' best ever... Should eventually challenge for national all-star honors, perhaps as soon as this fall... Rates as one of the top linemen in the Atlantic Coast Conference... Had a dynamic freshman season in 1986... Started all 12 games at right guard... Showed he has the capabilities to be a dominating blocker... Graded out a winner consistently in his initial college season... Played an exceptional game at Wake Forest with 10 knockdowns of opposing defenders... Was in on 103 plays against Maryland, grading 77 percent with nine knockdowns and one pin... His blocking up front was an important factor in Carolina leading the ACC in total offense... Received votes in balloting for ACC Rookie of the Year... Teams with tackle Creighton Incorminias to give the Tar Heels great blocking on the right side of the line... A hard worker who is going to get better and better... Did just that in spring practice... Was very consistent during the spring... After playing at 285 pounds last fall, dropped to 275 for the off-season work... That proved to be beneficial... Was quicker in the spring than in the past and more agile... Improved his pulling and running ability tremendously... Needed to improve his pass blocking in the spring and did that... A very physical football player... Excellent drive blocker... Big, strong and intense... A very emotional player... A hard-nosed competitor and a natural leader... Good worker in the weight room... Was red-shirted in 1985 after starting for three years at Hampton Bays High School... Played offensive tackle, defensive tackle and nose guard there... As a senior, named All-Long Island by NEWSDAY and the NEW YORK DAILY NEWS... First-team all-state on defense... All-league and all-county... Team co-captain and offensive MVP... Led his team to its first playoff berth and county championship game in history... Also lettered twice in wrestling and three times in track... All-conference and all-county heavyweight wrestler as a junior... Wrestled occasionally for the nationally fifth-ranked Carolina team last winter... All-conference and all-county for three straight years as a shot putter... An economics major... Born August 29, 1967.

17 Stanley Daniel

Wide Receiver, 6-2, 188, Freshman, Sherrills Ford, N.C.

Red-shirt freshman who is expected to make a contribution this fall... Goes into the new season as the backup at split end to Eric Lewis... Should play a great deal in that role... Possesses excellent athletic ability... Capable of making the big catch... Good leaper who catches the ball well over the middle... Doesn't mind getting hit... Has good concentration on the ball... Aggressive and physical... Tough and a good blocker... Excellent competitor... Very coachable young man... Lacks experience right now, but has the potential to be a fine player... An All-America wide receiver at Bandys High School... Chosen to the teams selected by Parade and Scholastic Coach... Selected as the top player in the state by Scholastic Coach and Gatorade Circle of Champions... Two-time all-state choice by the Associated Press and the GREENSBORO NEWS & RECORD... Named to the RALEIGH NEWS & OBSERVER Top 5 in North Carolina, the RALEIGH TIMES' Top 5 and the DURHAM MORNING HERALD'S Sweet 16... Started his senior season at tail-back before shifting back to his normal wide receiver position for the final six games... Rushed for 350 yards on 68 carries... Had 39 receptions for 679 yards... Made 49 catches as a junior for 650 yards and nine touchdowns... Chosen for the East-West All-Star game... Won three letters in football, four in basketball and one in track... Enrolled in the General College... Born January 18, 1967.

4 Norris Davis

Defensive Back, 6-1, 210, Senior, Reston, Va.

Could be a big-play man at strong safety... Has the ability to be an outstanding player... Showed flashes of brilliance last year, but was plagued throughout the season by an assortment of injuries... Started eight games last fall... Was in the starting lineup for the first four games before bruising a shoulder against Georgia Tech... Sat out the Wake Forest game... Did not start, but played against N.C. State... Returned to a starting spot against LSU and was there for the next four weeks... Was bothered throughout the season by a bad ankle... Also broke a finger at Florida State... May have played his best game at FSU with six solo tackles, six assists, one sack, one tackle for a loss, one fumble recovery and one fumble caused... Team's eighth-leading tackler with 53 hits... Had 31 solo tackles... Made two great plays in the Aloha Bowl... Had a fourth quarter interception which launched Carolina's second touchdown drive... Then on the next Arizona possession, he blocked a punt to set up a third Tar Heel TD... Came to Carolina as a wide receiver in 1983 and was red-shirted... Played on special teams and saw spot action as a backup wideout in 1984... Was shifted to defense the following spring... In the first game of his career on defense in 1985, he had five solo tackles at Navy and a crucial interception... His interception with just four minutes to play set up what proved to be the winning touchdown in a 21-19 victory... Also had an interception against VMI and a spectacular diving theft at Virginia... Won the Lawrence Taylor Award in the spring of 1986 as the most outstanding defensive player in spring practice... Last spring won the Willie Harris Award as the most physical defensive back in the off-season work... Missed the last week of spring practice with a slight shoulder injury, but will be ready to go this fall... A physically gifted player... Has size, speed and strength... Aggressiveness and excellent acceleration make him an ideal strong safety... A great hitter... Plays hard and practices hard... Always chases the football... Plays very good pass defense... Needs to improve his tackling a little... With his good work habits, should do that... If he can stay injury-free, he could be a dynamic player... With his experience and ability, coaches are counting on a big year from him... A key man on defense... Named Northern Virginia's Player of the Year by the D.C. Touchdown Club as a senior at South Lakes High School... Won two letters as a defensive back and wide receiver... All-metro, all-region, all-district and all-state as a senior... Caught 24 passes for 580 yards and four touchdowns... Also scored two touchdowns on punt returns, two on kickoff returns and one on a run from scrimmage... Also intercepted three passes... Touched the football 56 times and accounted for 1,100 yards... Lettered three times in track... Was the star of the 1983 East-West All-Star Game in Virginia... Caught four passes for 94 yards, including TD receptions of 68 and six yards... Also kicked three extra points in a 21-12 West victory... Majoring in geography... Born April 3, 1965.

93 Reuben Davis

Defensive Tackle, 6-4, 270, Senior, Greensboro, N.C.

Slowed by injuries much of last season after winning All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors in 1985... Has the potential to be one of the best linemen in college football if he can shake off the physical problems that bothered him last fall... Had by far his best spring practice at Carolina in 1987... Got better every practice session... Improved his techniques and his pass rush... Always tough against the run, he was even better at getting off blocks and getting to the ballcarrier... Also played with improved endurance... Switch from eight-man front to a fifty alignment defensively should also help him... Was shifted from tackle to guard in the eight-man front last year during pre-season practice... Was already behind because he had missed spring practice with a neck injury and thus got off to a slow start... Started nine games at guard during the regular season, missing starts at LSU and Clemson... Tore a muscle in his lower right leg in the N.C. State game and was in on only seven snaps at LSU... Suffered a concussion against Maryland and got in on just 35 plays at Clemson... Had started 28 straight games until the trip to Baton Rouge... Still finished as the team's seventh-leading tackler with 74 hits... Had 33 solo tackles and 18 assists... May have played his best game against N.C. State with 13 total hits, eight solos and three tackles for losses... Was really beginning to come on when he was injured late in that game... Had a good season, but wasn't as outstanding as he had been in 1985... All-ACC selection as just a sophomore that year... Voted the team's most outstanding defensive lineman that season... Carolina's fourth-leading tackler with 99 hits, including 44 solos and 20 assists... Played a great game in a win over Clemson... Named ACC Player of the Week for his performance in that 21-20 victory... Had seven solo tackles, four assists, one tackle for a loss and three forced hurries that day... Made the big defensive plays late in the game in the shadow of his own goal... Stopped Kenny Flowers for a one-yard gain and Stacey Driver for no gain at the Carolina 14 in the closing minutes... Clemson had to settle for a field goal after those second and third-down plays and a 20-14 lead... The Tar Heels then drove for the winning touchdown... Was in on 131 total hits as a freshman... Played a sensational game against Virginia that year... Was in on 21 tackles, including eight solo hits and seven assists... Had been red-shirted in 1983... An extremely good athlete... Big, strong and quick... Runs very well... Has great agility... Quick hands and speed make him tough to block... Capable of being a dominating defensive player... Teams with Carlton Bailey and Tim Goad to give the Tar Heels an outstanding defensive front... Should again contend for all-star honors this fall... Was a two-way tackle and fullback at Grimsley High School... Was in on over 100 tackles as a senior with 15 quarterback sacks... One of North Carolina's captains in the 1982 Shrine Bowl... Made 11 tackles in that game... Also chosen for the East-West All-Star game... All-conference, all-metro and all-state... Named to the ROANOKE TIMES Top Five in North Carolina... Also lettered in track, winning the state discus title as a junior... Majoring in RTVMP... Born May, 7, 1965.

83 Junnie Demery

Wide Receiver, 6-1, 198, Junior, Richmond, Va.

Has seen only limited action in the past two seasons in a reserve role... Heads into the new season as the number three split end... Missed half of spring practice because of a pulled hamstring... Needs to become quicker and more elusive... Wasn't able to make much progress there in the spring because he missed so much work... Fundamentally, a very sound receiver... Has outstanding mechanics... Possesses a great pair of hands... Has excellent concentration... Always knows where he is on the field... Strongest of the wide receivers... Good blocker... Red-shirted in 1984 after playing wingback and cornerback at Varina High School... All-district on both offense and defense as a senior... Caught 14 passes for 170 yards and two touchdowns... Also averaged 11.5 yards a rush and had five punt returns for 59 yards... Named to the ROANOKE TIMES Top 25 in Virginia... Started at tight end as a sophomore and then at flanker and cornerback as a junior...

Earned four letters in both football and track... Two-time district champion in the 400 meters... Set school records in the 200 and 400 meters and as part of two relay teams... Majoring in sociology... Born September 14, 1966.

61 Leonard Dempsey

Linebacker, 6-2, 225, Junior, Lynchburg, Va.

Starter at one linebacker spot going into the fall... Won that position with a fine showing in spring practice... With returning starter Brett Rudolph sidelined with a shoulder injury, Dempsey moved ahead of him on the depth chart... Will have a fight on his hands to keep that job, but is sure to see plenty of action whether he's a starter or not... Worked hard in the spring to improve himself and his consistency... Did just that... Saw considerable action last season... Started games against LSU, Maryland and Clemson... Played behind Mitch Wike in the other nine games... Was in on 46 tackles, including 22 solo hits and seven assists... Was in on 12 hits at LSU in his first career start... Had nine hits at Duke... Saw a lot of action in the second half of that game after Wike suffered a concussion... Played in a reserve role at linebacker and defensive end in 1985... Red-shirted as a freshman in 1984... Has been a good special teams player... Has a knack for getting to the football... Possesses fine strength... Was an all-area selection at both tight end and linebacker in his senior year at Heritage High School... Only player to be named on both offense and defense... Averaged 22.1 yards on 20 catches that year, scoring seven times... Also played some at fullback... Chosen for the Shrine Game and the East-West All-Star Game... Team captain and MVP as a senior... Won three football letters and four in basketball... Was also Heritage's basketball MVP in his final year there... A sociology major... Born October 11, 1964.

37 Derrick Donald

Defensive Back, 5-11, 195, Senior, Lenior, N.C.

Here's one of Carolina's top all-star candidates... Should be one of the best cornerbacks in college football... Being counted on as a big-play performer in the secondary... Made plenty of big plays last season... Had a very good season at left corner... Tied for the Atlantic Coast Conference lead with six interceptions... Picked off two passes in the season opener with The Citadel and two in the finale at Duke... Also had interceptions against Florida State and Wake Forest... Had a 53-yard return to the Wake Forest eight-yard line which set up a touchdown against the Deacons... Killed Duke's last drive in a 42-35 Tar Heel win with an interception... Blocked two field goals at Kansas... Was in on 13 tackles at Florida State, forced a fumble and had a tackle for a loss, in addition to stealing a pass... Named ACC Player of the Week for his performance against the Seminoles... Finished the year with 52 total hits, ninth-highest figure on the squad... Had 36 solos, made three tackles for losses and broke up four passes... Became ill the night before the Aloha Bowl and was unable to play against Arizona... Originally worked at tailback during a 1983 red-shirt season... Moved to defense the following spring... First came into prominence in 1984... Started down the stretch that year after Walter Bailey injured a knee at Memphis State... Intercepted passes that season against N.C. State and Duke... The interception against the Wolfpack came with just 31 seconds in the game and Carolina holding a 28-21 lead... Played an outstanding game against Virginia, making seven solo tackles and knocking down three passes... Got off to a great start in 1985... Injured an ankle in the seventh game against Florida State and that sidelined him for the rest of the fall... His eight career interceptions tie him for 13th place among Carolina's all-time leaders... Missed the latter part of this spring's off-season work with a pinched nerve in his neck... Was having a great spring before that... Has outstanding work habits... One of the team leaders... He's not vocal, but sets a great pace in practice... Always goes full speed... Wants to be a good player... Works on the little things to do that... Very dedicated and committed to the game... A tough competitor... Has great quickness and acceleration... Also has fine speed... Sets a good example for the younger players with his attitude and work ethic... Conference and county player of the year at West Caldwell High School in 1982... All-Piedmont selection... Played fullback, tailback, defensive back and linebacker and also did the place-kicking... Ran for 1,056 yards as a senior as his team won its second straight conference championship... Scored 12 touchdowns, made 10 of 14 PATS and kicked three of five field goals... Intercepted 10 passes in his last two seasons there... Also won two letters in basketball and three in track... Played on two conference basketball championship teams... Majoring in criminal justice... Born October 19, 1964.

44 Torin Dorn

Tailback, 6-1, 192, Sophomore, Southfield, Mich.

Number one tailback... Has the potential to follow in the tradition of other great Carolina players at this position... Got valuable experience last fall... Tar Heels' sixth-leading rusher with 141 yards... Averaged 4.4 yards per carry... Did not play until the fourth game of the year against Georgia Tech... Would have probably been red-shirted except for the knee injuries which forced William Humes to end his career... Top rushing performance was 54 yards on six carries at Clemson... Had 11 carries for 45 Yards at Wake Forest... Used to return kickoffs late in the season and averaged 19.7 yards on 11 returns... His longest return was 37 yards... Ran for 101 yards on just seven carries in the Aloha Bowl against Arizona... Had a 58-yard touchdown run in that game to spark a late Tar Heel rally... That was the longest run in Aloha Bowl history... Improved as much as any back during spring practice... Now has a good knowledge of the offense... Learned how to hold onto the football better during the spring... Became tougher and a better inside runner... Has great work habits... Has improved his strength since he's been at Carolina, but still needs to get a little stronger... An exceptional athlete with great speed and acceleration... Fine open-field runner with excellent quickness and good balance... Also has outstanding hands... Capable of being an explosive offensive weapon... In three spring scrimmages, he had 17 carries for 91 yards and a 27-yard touchdown catch; 15 carries for 53 yards and two catches for 98 yards; and in the spring game, 22 carries for 113 yards and three touchdowns and six catches for 38 yards... Was named Michigan's high school player of the year by the DETROIT NEWS in 1985... All-America selection by Parade, Scholastic Coach and Bally at Southfield High School... Named to the Blue Chip Dream Team as a running back and to the The Sporting News All-America team as a defensive back... All-league, all-area, all-county, all-metro and all-state... Played in only six and a half games his senior year because of a sprained ankle... Still ran for 1,239 yards, averaging 9.6 yards a rush... Scored 16 touchdowns... Also completed four of six passes for 159 yards and two TDs... Had two interceptions on an 8-1 conference co-championship team... Rushed for 1,161 yards as a junior on 164 carries (7.1 per attempt) and scored 12 touchdowns... Also threw for two more... Intercepted five passes and averaged 36 yards a punt... Lettered three times in football, four times in track and once in basketball... Enrolled in the General College... Born February 2, 1968.

16 Howard Feggins

Defensive Back, 5-9, 198, Senior, South Hills, Va.

Set to start at right cornerback after playing strong safety in his first three seasons... Shifted to cornerback in spring practice... Excellent speed gives him the ability to play the new position... Was inconsistent at times in the spring, but improved as he became more familiar with the cornerback spot... Although he will be at a new position this fall, he has a great deal of game experience... Split time at strong safety with Norris Davis last year and had a good season... Carolina's 10th-leading tackler... Was in on 49 hits, including 27 solo tackles... Started games against Wake Forest, N.C. State and Duke... Also was a starter in the Aloha Bowl... Tied for the team high with five tackles for losses... Broke up three passes, intercepted one and recovered a fumble... Was in on eight hits against Virginia, had a tackle for a loss and intercepted a pass... Was the team's sixth-leading tackler in 1985... Had a great game at N.C. State that season with seven solo tackles... Also was in on three other hits that day, forced a fumble, made one tackle for a loss and had a sack... Set up a touchdown against LSU with an interception at the Tiger 18-yard line... Saw spot action in 1984... Made one of the most alert plays of that season when he grabbed a Tar Heel punt which had brushed a Duke receiver at the Blue Devil two-yard line... That set up a touchdown and a 17-15 Carolina victory... Has been an outstanding special teams player for the last three seasons... Was red-shirted in 1983... Good all-around athlete... Tough and hard-nosed... Has good quickness and excellent strength... A diligent worker in the weight room... In 1986 won a campus body-building contest sponsored by the intramural department... Conscientious and has a great attitude... If he can give Carolina great play at cornerback, it will be a big boost to the entire defense... Played cornerback and tailback at Park View High School... Averaged eight yards a carry as a senior and scored 20 touchdowns... Two-way all-district selection as both a junior and senior... All-region defensive back as a senior... Selected to Who's Who in High School Football... Won three football letters and four in track... Set his school's shot put record and ran the sprints... A physical education major... Born May 6, 1965.

1 Bill Franklin

Defensive Back, 6-1, 182, Sophomore, Cincinnati, Ohio

A reserve in the defensive secondary... Listed as the number three free safety heading into the fall... A very physical player... Needs to improve his tackling... Has the ability to play... Saw special teams action last fall and could be a factor there again this season... Red-shirted in 1985... His brother, Arnold, was a four-year regular at tight end for Carolina earlier in this decade... Played on Princeton High School teams which compiled a 19-4 record in his two varsity seasons... In his junior year, Princeton was 11-2, winning the state championship and finishing the season ranked second nationally by USA TODAY... Intercepted eight passes as a starter in the secondary... All-city choice... Started at free safety in the Southwest Ohio All-Star game... Also lettered once in basketball and three times in track... Won all-state track honors as a senior, finishing second in the state in the long jump... A speech major... Born February 3, 1967.

55 Jeff Garnica

Center, 6-4, 260, Junior, Kettering, Ohio

Returning starter at center who rates as a leading all-star candidate in his junior year... Had a solid sophomore season... Started 11 of 12 games, missing the Maryland start after suffering back spasms in practice that week... His play in the middle of the line was a key factor in Carolina producing the Atlantic Coast Conference rushing leader and the Tar Heels ranking sixth nationally in total offense... Got better and better each week of the season... Broke into the starting lineup late in his freshman season... Played in a reserve role early in 1985 before seeing extensive action at Maryland... Moved into the starting lineup the following week against Clemson... Originally came to Carolina as a tight end and played there during a red-shirt 1984 season... Shifted to center in the spring of 1985... Adapted to the new position quickly... Was one of the stars of last spring's off-season work... Was outstanding throughout the spring drills... Has improved his strength and increased his body weight by 10 pounds since last fall... A very good athlete... Has great feet and good punch as a blocker... Great second and third-effort player... Very aggressive... Won the Ron Wooten Award for the second straight spring as the most physical offensive lineman in off-season practice... Not a rah-rah guy, but a leader by example... Has great work habits... Broke his right hand early in the spring of 1986... But, learned to snap left-handed during spring break and returned to the practice field... Didn't want to give anyone else a chance to win his job... Good pass protector in the past, but was even better last spring with his improved strength... A hard worker in the weight room... Smart and competitive... Has great inner drive... Tight end, linebacker and punter at Fairmont High School... Caught 32 passes as a senior, including eight for touchdowns... Also had 13 quarterback sacks and averaged 35.5 yards a punt... Named to the All-Southern Ohio Team... All-area selection... Won three letters in both football and basketball... All-area choice in basketball... An industrial relations major... Born April 28, 1966.

76 Tim Goad

Defensive Tackle, 6-4, 270, Senior, Claudville, Va.

Won All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors a year ago and could be one of the top players in the nation this season... Tar Heels' fourth-leading tackler in 1986 with 85 total hits... Had 40 solo tackles, two sacks and 11 quarterback pressures... Made four tackles for losses... ACC Defensive Lineman of the Week for his play at Wake Forest... Was in on 11 tackles that day, including five solos... Batted down one pass and caused a hurried throw which resulted in an interception... Was in on 12 hits against Virginia and nine at Duke... Was fifth in total hits as a sophomore with 90... Led the Tar Heels in sacks that year with five and a half... Also had a team-high 24 quarterback pressures... Played an exceptional game that year at Navy... Was in on 13 hits against the Midshipmen, including four solo tackles and one sack, and also forced four hurried throws by Navy passers... Had a sack and four hurries at N.C. State... Was in on just 39 snaps against VMI, but got in on eight hits, had a sack and forced five hurried passes... Played as a freshman in 1984 and saw considerable action down the stretch that season... Started the last two games of the year... Played a fine game against Virginia in his first start with 15 total hits, including six solo tackles... Named ACC Rookie of the Week for that performance... Was very consistent last spring... Made biggest strides in learning to keep himself lower... Won the William Fuller Award as the most physical defensive lineman in spring practice... Capable of being a dominating player along the line of scrimmage... Should team with Reuben Davis and Carlton Bailey to give Carolina great play there... Being counted on to pick up in the fall where he left off last season... An excellent pass rusher... Good reader of blocks... Has good quickness for a big man... A dedicated weight-lifter who is one of the team's strongest players... Broke Rick Donnalley's school record in the squat last year by lifting over 700 pounds... Has a lot of experience, but still isn't afraid to ask questions... Wants to be a great player... One of the team's hardest workers... Pushes himself in practice... Also understands he has to work in the off-season and has been diligent in that... Very conscientious... A leader on the field... Associated Press all-state pick as a linebacker at Patrick County High School in 1983... Also played offensive guard... Named Timesland Defensive Player of the Year by the ROANOKE TIMES... Won those honors although his team was 0-10 in his senior year and 3-37 during his career... Made 193 tackles as a senior, intercepted three passes and blocked 11 extra points and three field goals... Three times an all-district choice—as a kicker in 1981, as an offensive guard and nose guard in 1982 and then at offensive guard and linebacker in 1983... Twice was named the district's top defensive player... Two-time all-region selection... Won four letters in football, wrestling and track... Three-time district heavyweight wrestling champion... State AA shot put champ as a senior... Was third in the shot at the National Junior Olympics... Finished third in that event at the ACC Indoor Games last winter and fifth at the two previous conference outdoor championships... Accomplished that although his practice time had been limited because of football... He's the nephew of Don Klochak, a star Carolina running back in the late Fifties... Majoring in criminal justice... Born February 28, 1966.

64 Allan Gorry

Center, 6-0, 250, Junior, Hickory, N.C.

A swing player in the offensive interior... Provides depth at both center and guard... Capable of filling in quite well at any of the three inside blocking positions... Had a fine season last year... Played quite a bit at mid-season... Would have seen even more playing time, but pulled a hamstring... Although slowed by that injury, came off the bench against Maryland to play very well... Forced into action that day for 17 plays because of other injuries in the line... Tar Heels ran right behind him for one touchdown that afternoon... Was 100 percent last spring... Did a fine job in the off-season work, winning the Mike Chatham Award as the most outstanding walk-on in spring practice... Ended the spring as the chief backup to Jeff Garnica at center... Has a fine understanding of the entire Carolina offensive system... Great worker in the weight room... Has fine strength... Gets good leverage on his blocks... Made his only career start in 1985 at Georgia Tech... Opened that game at guard because of an injury to regular C.A. Brooks... Attended The Hill School in Pottstown, Pa... Lettered twice in football, basketball and wrestling... All-conference choice in football... His brother, Tommy, is a former Carolina wrestler... Majoring in industrial relations... Born March 6, 1966.

45 Antonio Goss

Outside Linebacker, 6-4, 216, Junior, Randleman, N.C.

A key man in the Tar Heel defense... Being counted on to provide solid play at outside linebacker, the spot with the least experience of any on defense... Moved to this position in Carolina's fifty alignment after playing strong safety in an eight-man front last year... Played well early last year until spraining an ankle at Florida State... Was slow coming back from that injury... Missed the next three games entirely... Saw only spot action after that, because of the ankle's lingering effects, until getting in on 24 plays against Virginia and 22 at Duke... Played well in the game at Duke and also in the Aloha bowl against Arizona... Was in on 20 total tackles... Had four solo tackles and a sack at Kansas... An excellent pass rusher, his blitzing ability was missed with him on the sidelines... Had seen extensive playing time in 1985... Split time at strong safety with Howard Feggins... Finished 10th on the team in total hits that year with 64... Had a great game against Wake Forest with eight hits, including five solo tackles... Also broke up a pass with a jarring hit... Made two big plays in a goal line stand that day... Stopped Michael Ramseur twice at the one-yard line... Wake did not score on that possession after having first-and-goal at the two... Had six solo tackles and was in on five other hits at Virginia... Was red-shirted in 1984... An extremely gifted athlete... In the same mold as some of Carolina's past outside linebackers—Mike Wilcher, Calvin Daniels and Lawrence Taylor... Capable of being one of the team's top defensive players... Fastest player at this position... Has great acceleration to go with his speed... Big and strong... Also has good instincts which have helped make him effective on the blitz... A bruising hitter... Has the potential to be a big-play performer... Still must learn to be intense on every play... Coachable young man... Being counted on for a big season... Worked at tailback during his red-shirt freshman season and was moved to defense the following spring... Won four football letters at Randleman High School, starting three years at tailback and free safety... As a senior in 1983, he was named to the All-America teams picked by Parade and the National High School Coaches Association... Randleman was 39-2 with Goss in the lineup, winning its last 26 games in a row... Played on teams which won three straight state championships with records of 13-1, 13-1 and 13-0... Ran for 2,045 yards as a senior and scored 41 touchdowns... Capped his career in the state championship game against East Carteret by carrying 29 times for 213 yards and scoring all five TDs in a 35-0 victory... Named High School Player of the Year by the GREENSBORO NEWS & RECORD... Named to that paper's all-state team as a junior and senior... Also selected to the Associated Press all-state team as a senior and to the RALEIGH TIMES Top Five in North Carolina... Chosen for the Shrine Bowl and the East-West All-Star Game... Ran for 1,952 yards as a junior and scored 29 touchdowns... Finished his high school career with over 5,000 yards rushing and 82 touchdowns... All-South choice... Lettered three times in basketball and twice each in baseball and track... Majoring in sociology... Born August 11, 1966.

Allan Gorry

97 Cecil Gray

Defensive Tackle, 6-5, 275, Sophomore, Chesapeake, Va.

An important backup in the defensive front... Goes into the fall as the top reserve behind Reuben Davis at left tackle, but is capable of playing right tackle, too... Has the potential to be an outstanding lineman... One of four true freshmen to play last season... Won a letter... Played well in the Aloha Bowl, starting the second half and recording a sack... Came to campus last fall in top physical condition... That was a factor in him getting playing time so early in his career... Has matured physically for a kid of his age... Has good endurance... Possesses very good strength... Plays the run well and has outstanding quickness as a pass rusher... Gets off blocks well... Missed a lot of spring practice with injuries, but is expected to be ready to go in the fall... Won four football letters at Norfolk Catholic High School... A two-way tackle... Had 126 tackles and five sacks as a senior... Was in on 149 tackles with 12 sacks as a junior... Credited with nine sacks as a sophomore and six as a freshman... Scholastic Coach and INDIANAPOLIS STAR All-America as a senior... Selected to the ROANOKE TIMES Top Five in Virginia... All-Tidewater and on the Virginia All-State Catholic Team... Member of Prep Academic All-America Team... Won four letters in track and three in basketball... All-Tidewater and All-State Catholic choice in basketball... State champion in the shot put and discus... Named his school's top performer in football, basketball and track as a senior... Studying in the General College at Carolina... Born February 16, 1968.

25 Kurt Green

Wide Receiver, 5-11, 170, Sophomore, Durham, N.C.

Non-scholarship player who missed all of spring practice with an injury... Tough to evaluate because of that... Will be behind the other players at flanker and split end when practice resumes in the fall... Has good football savvy... An aggressive player who was used in the secondary in 1985 and moved to offense last year... Lettered twice in football at Pinecrest High School in Southern Pines... Played wide receiver and defensive back and also handled punting and place-kicking duties... Also lettered four times each in basketball and baseball... Member of the National Honor Society... His father is a high school football coach... After graduation from high school, he spent 18 months in Italy on a Mormon mission... A political science major... Born July 12, 1964.

5 Jonathan Hall

Quarterback, 6-2, 197, Junior, Vienna, Va.

Number two quarterback who should press Mark Maye for playing time this season... Starting quarterback in Carolina's first five games last fall... Suffered a sprained knee late in the fifth game at Wake Forest... That sidelined him, allowing Maye to take over the signal-calling duties... Had played the finest game of his career against the Deacons before getting hurt... Completed 12 of 22 passes that day for 163 yards and four touchdowns, all in the first half... The four scoring passes were the most of the Atlantic Coast Conference season... Had also thrown one TD pass in each of the season's first four games... Was the second-ranked passer in the ACC at the time of his injury... Was leading the ACC in both lowest interception percentage and highest touchdown percentage at that time... In addition, Carolina was 4-0-1 in his five starts... Finished the year playing behind Maye... Threw only two passes after his injury, both at Clemson... Hit on 43 of 88 passes for 616 yards, eight TDs and three interceptions... Long play was a 55-yard touchdown pass to William Humes at Kansas... After his injury, he signalled the plays into Maye from the sidelines... Played briefly in the Aloha Bowl, but injured his throwing shoulder... Although the injury was not a major one, he did not take part in spring practice... Doctors expect him to have a full recovery from that shoulder problem... Although unable to play, he stayed very involved with spring practice... Worked with the young quarterbacks... Became the Tar Heels' starting quarterback in the latter stages of the 1985 season... Played in just three of Carolina's first seven games that year, seeing only spot action... Then played the entire second half of a loss at Maryland... Started the final three games... Completed 38 of 79 passes for 559 yards and four touchdowns... Scored once himself on a four-yard run against Duke... Became the first true freshman to start a game at quarterback for the Tar Heels since Chuck Sharpe in 1978... Turned in a sensational performance in that first collegiate start... Completed 12 of 20 passes for 182 yards and one touchdown as Carolina came from behind to defeat Clemson, 21-20... Directed 80 and 70-yard drives in the fourth quarter, hitting seven of eight passes... Made an outstanding play in the first drive when he eluded a heavy Clemson pass rush on third-and-nine to fire a 17-yard pass to Quinton Smith... That march culminated in a three-yard Hall-to-Arnold Franklin TD pass... Hall then took the Tar Heels 70 yards, the winning touchdown coming with just 10 seconds on the clock... ACC Rookie of the Week for that performance... Completed 14 of 26 passes for 242 yards and two touchdowns in the season finale against Duke... The 242 yards was the most ever by a Carolina freshman... His career passing efficiency rating of 124.15 is the sixth-best in school history... Ranks 20th in career completions with 81.

Biggest problem in his first two years in Chapel Hill has been a lack of consistency... Seems to lose his concentration at times... A streaky player who is brilliant when he's hot... Has developed into a good drop-back passer... But, may actually be at his best when he's out of the pocket and on the run... Has great speed for a quarterback... Has great acceleration and is a good escape artist... Can avoid a blitz by himself and make something happen... Has a great talent for putting things back together after they go bad... Very confident in his ability and wants the ball when the game is on the line... Is able to instill that confidence in others... Intelligent and a hard worker... Devoted to the game... Wants to be a coach... Quarterbacked James Madison High School to an 8-2 record in 1984... Completed 77 of 152 passes for 1,255 yards and 17 touchdowns... Gained 609 yards rushing on 82 carries, averaging 7.4 yards an attempt... Scored six TDs himself... All-region and all-district... Picked to the ROANOKE TIMES Top 25 in Virginia... Chosen for the East-West All-Star Game... Won two letters in football and two in basketball... His brother, David, is a former running back at Virginia... Another brother, Joey, is a walk-on linebacker at Western Kentucky... Undecided on his college course of study... Born March 28, 1967.

71 Darrell Hamilton

Offensive Tackle, 6-6, 280, Junior, Washington, D.C.

In the fight for Harris Barton's old left tackle spot... Goes into the fall even with Chuck Tabor in the battle for that position... Came back from a serious knee injury to play a key role for the Tar Heels down the stretch in 1986... Started the first three games of the 1985 season at right tackle as a red-shirt freshman... Did an outstanding job in those games... However, suffered torn knee ligaments in the third game against VMI and was lost for the remainder of the season... Underwent surgery and rehabilitation kept him out of the following spring's off-season work... Came back last fall to play in a backup role... Saw limited action early in the year... Began to come on at the end of the season... Started against Maryland, Virginia and Duke at right tackle because of injuries to other linemen... Did an exceptional job in the Virginia game... Was outstanding last spring... Has the athletic ability to be a great player... Has shown tremendous potential in game situations... A top-flight pass blocker... His run blocking improved a great deal in the spring... Has excellent size... Ran very well for a big man prior to his injury... Seemed to have finally regained all of that speed in the spring... Played both offensive and defensive tackle at Anacostia High School... Was a member of two East Interhigh championship teams and one city championship team... All-Interhigh and all-metro selection... Three-year letterman in football and basketball... Majoring in RTVMP... Born May 11, 1965.

20 Sterling Hayden

Defensive Back, 6-2, 172, Junior, Campbell, Ohio

Has done a fine job on special teams in his first two seasons... Now expected to contend for playing time in the secondary... Played both cornerback and free safety last spring... Finished spring practice as the number two free safety... Has the quickness to play the corners, but his long stride may better suit him for safety... Was also used as a nickel back during the off-season work... Has all the tools to play... Has good instincts and a great awareness on the field... Aggressive and supports the run well... Has won two letters... Will again be an important part of the special teams... Tailback, flanker and cornerback at Ursuline High School... Lettered twice in football and played on a conference championship team each year... Intercepted seven passes as a junior, returning three for touchdowns... Had five interceptions as a senior... Rushed for 1,049 yards that year and scored 14 TDs... Also returned punts... UPI all-state selection... Two-time all-conference pick... Chosen for the Ohio High School All-Star Game... Co-captain as a senior... Also won two letters in basketball and three in track... Majoring in RTVMP... Born October 17, 1966.

28 Stuffy Hewitt

Defensive Back, 6-3, 190, Freshman, Catawba, N.C.

A backup strong safety... Red-shirted last fall... Has good size and strength... Also has the speed to play... Needs experience and repetitions on the practice field... Also must improve his tackling... Conscientious and a hard worker... Played running back and free safety at Bunker Hill High School... Led his team to an 8-2-1 record as a senior and the third round of the state 2-A playoffs... All-conference selection... Ran for over 1,300 yards and scored 12 touchdowns... Made 40 tackles and intercepted two passes... Rushed for 180 yards against an 11-0 North Rowan team in the second round of the playoffs... Also lettered in basketball and track... In Carolina's General College... Born December 12, 1967.

81 Bill Hollister

Tight End, 6-3, 209, Freshman, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Non-scholarship player who came out on his own last fall... Did a nice job in spring practice... Has good hands... A hard worker... Needs to put on more weight in order to compete for playing time... A Morehead Scholar... Played at Lejeune High School... Born August 28, 1968.

57 Bryan Hough

Deep Snapper, 5-10, 195, Sophomore, Mount Holly, N.C.

Came out for the team on his own last fall and earned a letter... Handled the snapping late in the year after Tony Cooper was injured... Did a good job in that role... Should compete with Cooper for the deep-snapping duties this fall... Played center, guard and middle linebacker at East Gaston High School... Earned two letters in football, two in wrestling and three in baseball... All-conference wrestler... Attended Boys State... Enrolled in the General College... Born May 16, 1968.

89 Damon Hueston

Tight End, 6-6, 226, Junior, Toledo, Ohio

A question mark going into the fall... Missed all of spring practice while rehabilitating a knee he injured last year... Tore knee ligaments in the third game of the 1986 season at Florida State... Underwent corrective surgery... Should be ready to go this fall... But, he may take a while to get back to full strength... His return to complete health would be a boost to the Tar Heel attack... Has good speed which could give Carolina a downfield threat in the passing game... A fine pass receiver who can make the big catch... Intelligent player who has the ability to make adjustments on the run... Has worked to become a good blocker... Was splitting time at tight end with Dave Truitt at the time of his injury... Saw action as the number three tight end in 1985 and also played on special teams... Was red-shirted in 1984... Named City League Player of the Year at Macomber-Whitney Tech in 1983... Also division and district player of the year... Tight end, defensive tackle and punter... All-division, all-district, all-city and all-state... Selected to play in Ohio's North-South All-Star Game... Played on two City League championship teams and three teams which won division titles... Caught 30 passes as a senior for 505 yards and three touchdowns, averaging 16.8 yards a catch... Punted for a 35.5 average... Earned four letters in football and track and three in basketball... His brother, Dennis, is a former Ohio State line-backer... An economics major... Born January 20, 1966.

65 Creighton Incorminias

Offensive Tackle, 6-4, 300, Junior, Hampton, Va.

A top candidate for All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors... Developed into one of the ACC's best linemen last fall... If it's possible for a 6-4, 300-pound player to be over-shadowed, he probably was since All-America Harris Barton played the tackle spot opposite him... Was a dynamic performer at right tackle... Carolina could not have finished sixth nationally in total offense without his play... Teamed with Pat Crowley to give the Tar Heels great play on the right side of the line... Started the first nine games of the year before spraining an ankle at Clemson... Did not play against Virginia, but came off the bench to see reserve action in the season finale at Duke... Started the Maryland game at left tackle with Barton shifting to center for the injured Jeff Garnica... Was in on 103 snaps against the Terps that day... Played both tackle slots during that game... Had seen limited action early in 1985 before playing extensively at Maryland... Moved into the starting lineup the following week against Clemson... Started the last three games of the year at right tackle... Played solidly although just a year out of high school... Was outstanding during this past spring's off-season drills... Won the Shelton Robinson Award as the best all-around blocker in spring practice... Capable of winning the same All-America honors as Barton... He's that highly regarded by Carolina coaches... Has gotten better and better in his first two years here... An outstanding pass blocker after just two seasons... Has a great awareness on the field... Doesn't make mental mistakes... Has excellent size and has increased his strength each year he's been here... Has the quickness to play guard... Needs to be more vocal as a leader... Was a two-way tackle, center and nose guard at Bethel High School... Won All-South honors... Associated Press all-state selection at defensive tackle... All-district... All-region choice on both offense and defense... Named to the ROANOKE TIMES Top 25 in Virginia... Team captain as a junior and senior... Also lettered in basketball and wrestling... District, region and state wrestling champion in unlimited weight class as a senior... USA and AAU state champion as a junior... His father, Creighton, played football at St. Augustine's in Raleigh from 1961 to 1965... Majoring in speech... Born February 5, 1967.

85 John Jacobs

Tight End, 6-4, 230, Freshman, Smithfield, N.C.

Should see some action this fall at tight end... Goes into the new season as the number three player at this position... Red-shirted last year and then made good progress in the spring... Has the potential to be a pretty good football player... Possesses the tools needed by a tight end in the Tar Heel attack... Has excellent hands... Also is a good blocker... Tough and smart... Knows what to do on the field at all times... Plays hard... Needs to improve his speed... A two-year starter at tight end and a three-year regular at linebacker for Smithfield-Selma High School... Twice won all-conference honors... A two-way selection as a senior... Made 25 catches for 355 yards and two touchdowns... Spartans' leading tackler on defense... Led his team to Eastern 4-A title game as a senior... All-metro choice three times... All-East... Named to the DURHAM MORNING HERALD Sweet 16, the RALEIGH TIMES Top 25 in North Carolina and the RALEIGH NEWS & OBSERVER'S Top 30 in the state... Chosen for the Shrine Bowl and the East-West All-Star Game... Team MVP as a senior... Won three letters in football and basketball and one in baseball and golf... All-conference in basketball as a senior... Studying in the General College... Born April 15, 1968.

8 Jim Jauch

Defensive Back, 6-1, 178, Junior, Vienna, Va.

Could contend for playing time at cornerback... Missed all of spring practice with a knee injury and is behind because of that... Saw considerable action last season... Played as a backup early in the year and then started the final two regular-season games against Virginia and Duke at right cornerback... Also saw reserve action in 1985... Made a couple of outstanding plays that year in a goal-line stand against Wake Forest... Also has done an excellent job on special teams... A tough, physical player... Aggressive and very competitive on the playing field... Dedicated to the game and a hard worker... His father, Ray, was a head coach in the Canadian Football League and the USFL... Jim originally came to Carolina in 1984 and was red-shirted... Won three football letters at St. Paul's High School in Winnipeg, Manitoba and then played his senior year at Oakton High in Virginia... All-district and all-region choice in his final season... Chosen for the Virginia East-West All-Star Game... Won all-city honors three times in Winnipeg and played on a city championship team in 1982... Also lettered three times in track... Has a brother, Jeff, who was a running back at North Dakota and another brother, John, who played that same position at South Dakota... A criminal justice major... Born June 25, 1965.

9 Al Johnson

Wide Receiver, 5-11, 160, Freshman, Conway, N.C.

Missed most of spring practice with mononucleosis... Is behind the other players at wide receiver because he missed so much practice time... A non-scholarship player... Played quarterback and wide receiver for four years at Northampton County East... Also won four letters in track and two in baseball... Named his school's most outstanding student-athlete as a senior... He's the cousin of Sammy and Ronny Johnson, outstanding Tar Heel players in the Seventies... Enrolled in the General College... Born November 15, 1967.

95 Kubi Kalombo

Defensive Tackle, 6-5, 232, Junior, Herndon, Va.

Missed spring practice with a shoulder injury... Goes into the fall as one of the reserves at defensive tackle... If he can come along quickly in pre-season drills, he could be an important factor on this year's defense... Began the season as a starter last year... Started six of the first seven games at tackle in the Tar Heel eight-man front... Sprained a knee at Kansas and did not start at Florida State... Injured his back at LSU and played in a reserve role after that... Played in every game... Was in on 39 tackles, 18 solos... Had one sack and two tackles for losses... Played well early in the year... However, doesn't have a lot of football experience and that hurt him as the season progressed... Had seen just spot action in 1985 after being red-shirted in 1984... Had only played one year of football before arriving at Carolina... Has been living in the United States just six years... A native of Zaire... Originally came to this country with his father who is a diplomat... His dad is now assigned to the Soviet Union... Has excellent athletic ability... Possesses tremendous quickness and great agility... Has big-play potential... Makes things happen... Despite his inexperience, has a knack for getting to the football... Can be a good pass rusher... Has the speed to chase people down... A nose guard at Herndon High School... Named to the ROANOKE TIMES Top 25 in Virginia... Majoring in sociology... Born December 9, 1965.

10 John Keller

Tight End, 6-4, 225, Junior, Toledo, Ohio

Carolina's starting tight end and a key man in the Tar Heel passing game. Did an excellent job last year in his first season at this position... Opened the fall as the number three tight end, but became the top backup after Damon Hueston was injured at Florida State... First catch of his career was for seven yards and a touchdown at Wake Forest... Started the Maryland game after Dave Truitt sprained an ankle at LSU and caught six passes for 37 yards and a touchdown... Played a great deal at Clemson and against Virginia... Started at Duke with Truitt still slowed by his ankle... Finished the year as Carolina's third-leading receiver with 16 catches for 113 yards and two TDs... Worked to become a better blocker last spring... Twisted knee sidelined him the last couple weeks of the off-season work... Very knowledgeable on the field and has excellent hands... Strong and catches the ball well in a crowd... A reliable possession receiver... An aggressive player who always gives 100 percent... Has fine leadership qualities... Intelligent and doesn't make mental mistakes... Originally moved to tight end in the spring of 1986... Had played a great deal at strong safety the previous fall... Worked at quarterback in 1984 while being red-shirted... Won all-city honors at three positions in his senior year at Central Catholic High School—quarterback, free safety and place-kicker... Named Most Valuable Back in Northwest Ohio... All-league, all-division and all-state... Chosen for the Ohio North-South All-Star Game... Academic All-America... CYO Athlete of the Year... Had 23 career interceptions... His team won the 1982 city championship... Won three letters in football, two in basketball and two in baseball... His father, John, was a pitcher in the Cincinnati Reds' farm system at one time... An uncle, Richard Keller, was a halfback at Notre Dame in the early 1950's... Majoring in speech... Born October 5, 1965.

53 Bill Lee

Linebacker, 6-1, 218, Freshman, Maitland, Fla.

Walk-on who could help on special teams... Has worked very hard to be a contributor to the Tar Heel program... Has some limitations in size and speed, but is extremely competitive... Has good toughness... Played at Winter Park High School... Born September 20, 1968.

32 Eric Lewis

Wide Receiver, 5-9, 175, Senior, New Bern, N.C.

Could be a big-play performer in the Tar Heel attack... Has already made a number of big plays in his Carolina career... Caught 13 passes last season for 246 yards (18.9 per catch) and four touchdowns... Caught the game-winning 51-yard touchdown pass against Duke with just 2:42 to play in a 42-35 victory... Grabbed an 11-yard scoring pass against Georgia Tech with only 58 seconds in the game as the Tar Heels rallied for a 21-20 win... Also had TD catches against Wake Forest and N.C. State... Had a 52-yard catch to the Maryland 10-yard line which set up a touchdown in a 32-30 win over the Terps... That was the longest catch of his career... Was second in the Atlantic Coast Conference in punt returns... Had 21 returns for 213 yards and a 10.1 average... Returned one punt 84 yards for a touchdown against N.C. State... That was the longest punt return in the ACC in this decade and equalled the fourth-longest in school history... Last Tar Heel to return one that far was Charlie Justice, who ran one back 84 yards against Georgia in 1948... The three longest Tar Heel returns all came back in 1930... Made 17 catches as a sophomore for 222 yards (13.1)... Ranked fifth in the ACC in kickoff returns that season, averaging 21.8 yards on 16 attempts... Had a 32-yard return against Duke, the longest of his career... Caught 11 passes as a freshman in 1984, all in the last four games of the year... At the time, his 11 receptions were the most ever by a Tar Heel freshman in one season... Saw most of his action as a freshman and sophomore as the team's third wide receiver... Gained valuable experience in that role and was the regular flanker last fall... Now has 41 career catches and should break into the school's top 20 in receiving early in 1987... Most catches in one game in his career is five—against Georgia Tech as a freshman and against Florida State as a sophomore... Heads into his senior year after an outstanding spring... Moved from flanker to the starting split end spot in the off-season work... Improved as a blocker in the spring... But, is at his best as a receiver... Runs good routes... Has a knack for getting open... Possesses very quick feet... In fact, is the quickest of all the wide receivers... Elusive off the line of scrimmage... Extremely aggressive going after the ball... Has a great ability to run with the football once he gets it... That open-field running makes him such a dangerous return specialist... A smart player and a quick learner... Can be a good leader... Should return punts again this year... Capable of having an all-star season... Red-shirted in 1983... Lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track at New Bern High School... Played running back and defensive back and also saw some action at quarterback in a wishbone offense... Gained 2,510 yards in his last two seasons and scored 32 touchdowns... All-East in both football and basketball... A sociology major... Born December 2, 1964.

27 Brad Lopp

Fullback, 6-2, 212, Senior, Jefferson, N.C.

Fine all-around back who is hoping to come back from an up-and-down 1986 season... Opened 1986 as the starting fullback... Got off to a good start, but dislocated a shoulder at Wake Forest in the fifth game... Missed the next three games before returning to action at Clemson... Saw spot action the rest of the season behind James Thompson... Ran for 196 yards on 48 carries, averaging 4.1 yards a rush... Ranked fourth on the team in rushing... Had three catches for 22 yards... Top single-game performance was 52 yards on 10 carries against The Citadel... His shoulder kept him out of spring practice... That puts him behind the other players at this position... Since he didn't go through the spring, he's not on the three-deep at fullback... However, he should quickly get on the depth chart in pre-season practice... Will get an opportunity to fight for his old starting job... Possesses excellent speed and good acceleration... Has exceptional running ability... Runs so well, he has been used at tailback on occasion... A very knowledgeable player... A fine receiver coming out of the backfield... Has done a fine job as the lead blocker in Carolina's I-attack... A hard worker who loves the game... Unselfish and team-oriented... Playing injury-free and as the regular fullback, he was Carolina's second-leading rusher in 1985 with 407 yards on 101 carries... Ranked fourth in receiving that year with 18 catches... Scored what proved to be the winning touchdown in the season opener at Navy that season on a 22-yard run in the closing minutes... Ran for a career-high 72 yards on 12 carries that night... Scored both of the Tar Heels' touchdowns

Brad Lopp

Steve Lowe

the following week in a 23-13 loss to LSU... It was his 19-yard run to the Clemson six-yard line which set up a crucial touchdown in Carolina's 21-20 triumph over the Tigers... Had a total of 46 yards that afternoon on eight attempts... Also did a great job of blocking as William Humes gained 134 yards... Played behind Eddie Colson at fullback in 1984... Had been red-shirted the previous year... Blue Ridge Conference Player of the Year as a senior at Ashe Central High School... Also named Ashe County Player of the Year... A quarterback as a sophomore, he played running back and defensive back as a junior and senior... Also punted and kicked off... Rushed for 1,530 yards and scored 28 touchdowns in his senior year... Scored more TDs than any other 2-A player in the state... Intercepted six passes for a conference championship team... GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS and Associated Press all-state selection... Played in the Shrine Bowl... Two-time all-conference choice in football, basketball and track... Also lettered in baseball... His grandfather was a four-sport star at Duke in the 1920's... Two uncles played baseball at Carolina in the '30's and another, Billy Myers, played football here in the '40's... His father, William, played on the 1958 freshman football team here... A physical education major... Born December 18, 1964.

66 Steve Lowe

Linebacker, 6-2, 227, Sophomore, Westlake, Ohio

Saw spot action at linebacker last fall and on special teams... Got his most playing time at Clemson... Was in for 27 plays from scrimmage there and made six hits... Did a good job in spring practice... Made as much improvement as any linebacker during the off-season work... Became more consistent and a more physical player... Has developed more strength and quickness in the last year... An intelligent player who is very committed to the game... Will be in the fight for playing time this fall, both at linebacker and on special teams... Red-shirted in 1985... Won three football letters as a linebacker and punter at St. Edwards High School... All-Independent selection... Team co-captain... Was in on 80 tackles for a 9-1 team as a senior and intercepted a pass... Shot putter on the track team... As a junior, finished second in the Ohio Weightlifting Championships... Has seven brothers who have also played football at Penn, Dayton, Princeton, Rose-Hulman, Mercyhurst, Muskingum and Akron... Plans to major in industrial relations... Born January 4, 1967.

23 Randy Marriott

Wide Receiver, 6-0, 175, Junior, Wendell, N.C.

Saw considerable action in a reserve role last fall and now has a chance to be a starter... Goes into the new season in a battle with Quinton Smith for the starting flanker position... Whether he starts or not, he's sure to see plenty of action... Finished the 1986 season with 13 catches for 223 yards and three touchdowns... Averaged 17.2 yards a catch... Scoring catches came against Wake Forest, N.C. State and Duke... Teammed up with Mark Maye for an 82-yard scoring play against Duke, equalling the second-longest in school history... Had four catches against the Blue Devils for 116 yards... In fact, 12 of his 13 receptions came in the last seven games of the year... With Eric Lewis slowed by injuries, he started the final two games against Virginia and Duke... Had a six-yard touchdown catch against Arizona in the Aloha Bowl... Saw only limited playing time in 1985, catching one pass against VMI... Was red-shirted in 1984... Was outstanding in last spring's practice sessions... Won two major awards for his spring performance—The Charles Waddell Award as the most physical receiver and the Kelvin Bryant Award as the team's most enthusiastic offensive player... Became better in the spring at reading coverages and running routes... Has always had great natural ability... A very fluid player... Has good quickness and excellent speed... Gives Carolina a deep threat... Has good hands and is an excellent runner after catching the ball... A very intense player... Has worked to become tougher physically and a better blocker... A fine leader... As evidenced last fall, he has big-play potential... Competed in track here three years ago... Won the triple jump at the Joe Hilton Invitational and was voted the most valuable performer in the field events... Also won that event at the ACC Indoor Invitational... Came to Carolina from East Wake High School where he had 47 catches for 720 yards and seven touchdowns as a senior flanker... Had 35 carries for 353 yards and three more TDs... Wake County 3-A Player of the Year... Named to the RALEIGH TIMES Top Five in North Carolina... GREENSBORO NEWS & RECORD all-state selection... North Carolina's MVP in the Shrine Bowl... Had eight catches there for 128 yards and his team's only touchdown... Member of the ORLANDO SENTINEL's All-South Team... Caught 41 passes for 813 yards and six touchdowns as a junior... Had career totals of 111 receptions for 1,933 yards (17.4 yards a catch) and 15 touchdowns and 61 carries for 804 yards (13.2) and nine touchdowns... Earned three letters in football and track and two in basketball... Majoring in RTVMP... Born November 1, 1965.

29 Kennard Martin

Fullback, 5-10, 203, Freshman, Winston-Salem, N.C.

Very versatile player who worked at both tailback and fullback in the spring... Enters the fall as the number two fullback and the third-team tailback... Will get an opportunity to contribute at both positions... Was impressive at both spots in the off-season drills... Possesses good overall athletic ability... Excellent runner... Has a great knack for breaking tackles and keeping his feet... Capable of making defenders miss him and running over them as well... Hard worker, but needs to have better endurance... Also needs to improve his blocking... Has gotten stronger in his year on campus... Loves the game and has a great attitude... In the first two scrimmages of last spring, he had six carries for 59 yards, including a 30-yard touchdown run, and eight carries for 59 yards... Then in the Blue-White Game, he ran 13 times for 86 yards and made four catches for 57 yards and a touchdown... Was red-shirted last fall... Set a dozen rushing, scoring and total offense records at Parkland High School... Ran for 2,105 yards as a senior... Averaged 8.2 yards a rush and scored 25 touchdowns... Also scored 10 times on two-point conversions... Led the Mustangs to an 11-2 record and a spot in the state playoffs... Gained 203 yards and scored three TDs in the playoff opener... Ran for 172 yards and scored four touchdowns in the second round of the playoffs... Conference, Piedmont and City-County Player of the Year... Associated Press and GREENSBORO NEWS & RECORD all-state choice... Chosen to the DURHAM MORNING HERALD Sweet 16, the RALEIGH NEWS & OBSERVER Top Five in North Carolina and the RALEIGH TIMES Top 25... Rushed for 1,239 yards as a sophomore and 910 as a junior for a career total of 4,254... Had 495 career carries for an average of 8.6 yards a rush... Scored 47 touchdowns and 302 points... Also lettered in track... Enrolled in the General College... Born June 10, 1968.

14 Mark Maye

Quarterback, 6-4, 200, Senior, Charlotte, N.C.

Made a remarkable comeback from major shoulder surgery to lead the Atlantic Coast Conference in passing efficiency last fall... Was the 12th-rated passer in the nation... Now appears ready to challenge for the All-America honors many had predicted for him when he first enrolled here... Could be a truly great player and perhaps the best quarterback ever at Carolina... Played as a backup in the Tar Heels' first five games of 1986 before starting the last six... Got the starting job after Jonathan Hall was injured at Wake Forest... Promptly set a school passing record in his first start against N.C. State with 311 yards... Hit 25 of 33 passes that day with no interceptions and three touchdowns... In fact, set passing records in three of his six starts... Threw for 316 yards against Maryland, completing 25 of 40 passes for two TDs and no interceptions... Then completed 17 of 23 for 319 yards and two touchdowns at Duke with no interceptions... Finished the year with 110 completions out of 176 attempts for 1,401 yards and 10 touchdowns... Threw only six interceptions... His completion percentage of 62.5 was the best of any Carolina passer who has thrown at least 175 times in a season... Drove the Tar Heels the length of the field in the closing moments against both N.C. State and Maryland... Carolina lost the State game when a two-point play failed with eight seconds on the clock, but defeated Maryland with a field goal on the game's last play... Hit Eric Lewis with a 51-yard touchdown pass with 2:51 left to beat Duke, 42-35... Completed 17 of his last 19 passes against State and had a school-record 193 yards in the fourth quarter alone... Had a record 246 yards in the second half... His 25 completions against State and Maryland were the second-most ever by a Carolina player... Compiled the second, third and fourth-best total offense days in school history in his six starts... Teamed with Randy Marriott for an 82-yard touchdown pass at Duke, equalling the second-longest pass play ever at Carolina... Although starting just six games, finished sixth in the ACC in total offense... His 110 completions were the fifth-most ever in one season at Carolina and he had the sixth-best single-season passing yardage total with his 1,401... His 141.3 rating points in passing efficiency was the second-best in school history... He also became the second-leading career passer in efficiency rating with 135.26 points... Increased his career completion total to 120, moving him into 14th place among the school's all-time leaders... In voting by his teammates, was selected co-MVP with All-America tackle Harris Barton.

Had that standout season after missing the entire 1985 campaign... Was forced to sit out the year after undergoing shoulder surgery by noted specialist Dr. Frank Jobe following the 1984 season... In layman's terms, Maye had almost worn out his shoulder... Was not allowed to throw for over a year while rehabilitating the shoulder... Doctors were unsure if he would ever be able to play again... Came back in dynamic fashion last fall... Wasn't as strong as he once was, but showed the form that made him one of the most highly-regarded high school players in the country in 1982... Was red-shirted here in 1983 and saw just spot action in 1984 because of his shoulder problems... Humble and soft-spoken off the field, his comeback was one of the biggest sports stories in his home state last year... Should be an even better player this fall... From an experience standpoint, was almost like a freshman last year... Was much sharper on the field during spring practice... Still needs to be more consistent, especially at making the big play... Had problems practicing last season because soreness in his arm allowed him to throw only twice a week... However, his arm was much stronger during the spring... He was able to throw virtually every day... His shoulder is expected to be even stronger still this fall... Was a hard worker in the weight room last winter and his overall strength was greater in the spring... Possesses great work habits... Even while injured in 1985, he remained a part of the team... Sat in on quarterback meetings and film study... During games he signalled plays in from the sidelines... Had a chance to see college football from a position most players never see... 1985 was not a completely lost season because of his diligence... His knowledge of the game increased... An extremely intelligent player... Has a great awareness on the field... An excellent student who is majoring in business, he came to Carolina on a Morehead Scholarship, the most prestigious academic grant awarded by the University.

Was a unanimous selection as North Carolina High School Player of the Year in 1982... Quarterbacked Charlotte Independence to a 9-2 record and a spot in the state playoffs... Named to the All-America teams chosen by Parade, Adidas, Carnation, Mizlou and the National High School Coaches Association... Also chosen as the NHSCA's National Scholar-Athlete of the Year... Selected North Carolina's most valuable back in the Shrine Bowl... Completed 29 of 51 passes in that game for 311 yards, setting records for completions and yardage... Completed 132 of 247 passes as a senior for 2,353 yards and 19 touchdowns... Scored 12 TDs himself... Averaged 40.4 yards a punt... In a 40-39 win over West Mecklinburg, completed 22 of 34 passes for 481 yards and four touchdowns, including the game-winning pass with 12 seconds to play... At the time, that was the sixth-highest passing yardage total in high school history... Threw for 459 yards and two touchdowns in a 49-48 win over South Mecklinburg and added the winning two-point conversion with one second left in the game... Scored three TDs himself that night... Accounted for 5,106 yards of total offense in just over two seasons... Completed 257 of 491 passes for 4,400 yards and 36 touchdowns... Scored 21 TDs... Won three letters in football, basketball and baseball... Two-time all-state basketball choice... His father, Jerry, was a pitcher at Catawba College and in the Minnesota Twins' organization... Born January 30, 1965.

86 Noel McEachern

Outside Linebacker, 6-3, 215, Senior, Fayetteville, N.C.

Most experienced player at outside linebacker... Has seen considerable action during the past three years... Has been a part-time starter during that period... Red-shirted in 1983, McEachern started at outside linebacker much of the 1984 season... Had 29 solo tackles and 19 assists... Played a great game that year against Kansas with nine solo tackles, one assist and three sacks... With a change in defensive schemes, he was moved to end for the past two seasons... Was an alternate starter in 1985... Played as a backup early last year before moving into the starting lineup against Maryland and Clemson... Suffered a broken ankle in the game at Clemson... Missed all of spring practice... Will be behind when pre-season practice begins because of that... However, if he's completely recovered, he'll be in the picture for playing time... His presence could help stabilize the position with the least experience on the Tar Heel team... A dedicated athlete with a lot of ability... Has shown he's capable of being a big-play performer... Has good speed and quickness... Physically tough and aggressive... A great competitor and a hard worker in practice... A very smart player... Has a lot of savvy... Good leader on the field... Was an outside linebacker at Pine Forest High School... Named to the all-state teams chosen by the Associated Press and the GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS as a senior... All-East, all-city, all-county and all-conference... Selected for the Shrine Bowl and the East-West All-Star Game... Played on an 11-2 conference championship team as a senior... Majoring in industrial relations... Born December 26, 1964.

39 Robert Miley

Punter, 6-3, 177, Freshman, Southern Pines, N.C.

Non-scholarship player who came out on his own last fall... Capable of developing into a very good punter... Has fine range... Very flexible... Will go into the new season as one of the backups to Kenny Miller... Won two letters in both football and basketball at Pinecrest High School... An all-conference punter there... In the General College at Carolina... Born June 12, 1968.

30 Don Millen

Outside Linebacker, 6-5, 205, Freshman, Atlanta, Ga.

Young player who is just learning to play this position... Was a strong safety in the eight-man front alignment Carolina used last season... Shifted to this spot last spring as the Tar Heels switched their defensive system to a fifty... Showed a lot of improvement as the spring went along... Biggest and rangiest of the team's outside linebackers... Plays with a lot of intensity... Hustle and desire mean he'll play as he becomes more experienced... Goes into the fall behind John Reed at one OLB post... Was red-shirted last year... Tight end and linebacker at Marist High School... All-state AAA selection... Made 102 tackles, recovered three fumbles and intercepted a pass for a 9-3 team as a senior... Also had 11 catches for 151 yards and two touchdowns... Team captain... As a junior helped spark Marist to a 14-1 record and a second-place finish in the state... Had 95 tackles that year, five fumble recoveries and a pair of interceptions... Won two football letters and three in basketball... Played on a 25-2 regional championship basketball team as a junior and a 26-3 state runnerup team as a senior... Averaged 10 points and eight rebounds... His grandfather, Bill Schroeder, was a member of Tulane's 1932 Rose Bowl team... Enrolled in the General College at Carolina... Born May 26, 1968.

18 Kenny Miller

Kicking Specialist, 6-1, 195, Senior, Phoenix, Md.

Leading candidate to handle all the place-kicking duties and the punting... Punted, kicked off and tried long-range field goals last season... Scheduled to add shorter field goal attempts and PATs to his job this fall... Very few kickers try to handle the punting and all the place-kicking... Miller has the ability to do it, however... Must learn to practice both equally hard... Averaged 39.4 yards a punt last year... Had punts die inside the opponents' 20-yard line on 19 occasions... Kicking inside the 20 like that occasionally hurt his average, but helped the team... For example, had 29 and 30-yard punts against Maryland which were fair caught at the 10 and 12-yard lines... Hit on three of four field goal attempts last season... Had a 47-yarder against Maryland, a 48-yarder against Virginia and a 50-yarder at Duke... Only miss was from 44 yards at Kansas... Was a better kicker last year than he had been in the past... Has learned more about the art of place-kicking and was more consistent... Had struggled with his kicking in 1985... Missed his first four field goal attempts that year before hitting a school-record 54-yarder against Florida State... Was later successful from 43 yards at Maryland... Was trying to play wide receiver as well as kick and coaches feel his fundamentals and techniques suffered... Had come from nowhere to win the place-kicking job in 1984 and lead the Tar Heels in scoring... Made 16 of 18 field goal attempts and 18 of 19 extra points for 66 points that year... Became the regular place-kicker in the third game of the season... Was playing wide receiver at the time and had done very little kicking... But, was given the job and responded in outstanding fashion... Booted an Atlantic Coast Conference-record 15 straight field goals, the first 15 he attempted... Finally missed twice in the season finale at Duke from 31 and later 50 yards... Had a field goal accuracy mark of 88.9 percent, a school single-season record... Finished 13th nationally in field goals... Longest of the year was a 44-yarder at Memphis State... Had three field goals in that game and three against Maryland... Those three field goals in a game set a school record for most by a freshman and he also set a single-season freshman field goal mark... Was sixth in the ACC in scoring... Originally came here in 1983 and was red-shirted... A fine all-around athlete... Has played quarterback and tailback in addition to wide receiver at Carolina... Played on the top-ranked high school team in Maryland as a junior and senior at Calvert Hall... Helped lead his team to a two-year record of 20-2, playing quarterback as a junior and wide receiver as a senior... Kicked a 43-yard field goal to beat Gilman, 16-13, and give Calvert a tie for the Maryland Scholastic Association championship... Also had a 48-yard field goal against Poly... Named to the Maryland Scholastic All-Star Team... All-state selection... Also lettered in baseball and golf... An industrial relations major... Born May 2, 1964.

69 Dave Mohler

Offensive Guard, 6-6, 250, Freshman, Chevy Chase, Md.

Will eventually be a factor in the offensive line... Heads into the fall as one of the backups at right guard... Has a good understanding of the game... Needs to increase his strength in order to compete for playing time... Is going to get better and better as he gains experience and gets repetitions on the practice field... Was red-shirted last year... Captain of an 8-1 team at St. Albans in 1985... A two-way tackle... Led an offensive line which helped St. Albans rush for 2,400 yards and a defensive front which gave up only 400 yards rushing... Star of a last-minute goal-line stand as St. Albans defeated St. Stephens for the first time in 17 years... All-league and all-metro... Won two letters in football, track and lacrosse... His brother, Bill, was a basketball player at Harvard... Studying in the General College... Born April 13, 1968.

Noel McEachern

94 David Newkirk

Nose Guard, 6-2, 235, Sophomore, Smithfield, N.C.

One of four players to see action a year ago as a true freshman... Played a great deal on special teams and also saw spot duty at linebacker... Was moved to nose guard during preparations for the Aloha Bowl... Now is in the battle for playing time behind Carlton Bailey... Great quickness makes him a good candidate for this position... Outstanding all-around athlete with a lot of potential... Is sure to get playing time this fall... Needs more experience at this spot and will improve as he gains it... Also should be a key man on special teams... Was a two-time all-metro selection at South Johnston High School... Played linebacker and fullback as a senior after working at offensive and defensive tackle as a sophomore and junior... Chosen to play in the Shrine Bowl and the East-West All-Star Game... Named to the RALEIGH NEWS & OBSERVER Top 15 in North Carolina and the DURHAM MORNING HERALD Sweet 16... On the RALEIGH TIMES Top 25... All-East choice... Won three letters in football and wrestling... In the General College at Carolina... Born November 30, 1967.

36 Fairron Newton

Wide Receiver, 6-0, 167, Freshman, Elizabethtown, N.C.

Red-shirt freshman who is a reserve at wide receiver... Non-scholarship player... Smart on the field... Doesn't have great speed and lacks experience right now... Competed in football, basketball, track and baseball at East Bladen High School... All-conference and all-county in football... President of the National Honor Society... Wants to be a pre-med student... Enrolled in the General College... Born August 22, 1969.

80 Daryl Parham

Tight End, 6-6, 260, Senior, Lynchburg, Va.

Has found a home at tight end after playing outside linebacker in 1984 and offensive tackle in 1985... Shifted to tight end in the spring of 1986 and did a good job last season... Was especially effective in goal-line and short-yardage situations... An outstanding blocker... The techniques he learned at tackle have been a big help to him... Can be as good a blocker at tight end as the Tar Heels have had... That includes some outstanding players like Shelton Robinson and Arnold Franklin... Has that type of potential... Won the Ken Huff Award last spring as the most improved offensive player in the off-season drills... Will see considerable action this fall and has a chance to be the starter... With John Keller injured, he played as the number one tight end in the latter part of the spring... Did a good job in each scrimmage... Must improve as a receiver... Began to do that in the spring... Had three catches in the Blue-White Game... Biggest and strongest of the tight ends, he also has good speed and agility... If his improvement continues, it would be a big plus this fall... Started a couple of games at offensive tackle in 1985 after splitting time at outside linebacker in 1984... Red-shirted in 1983... Came to Carolina from Heritage High School... Played defensive end, tight end and offensive tackle there... Named to the ROANOKE TIMES Top Five in Virginia... All-district selection in both football and basketball... Turned down basketball scholarship offers to accept his football grant at Carolina... 1983 Virginia state champion in the discus... Finished second in the shot put competition and also ran the 300-meter hurdles... Has thrown the discus at Carolina... Majoring in sociology... Born July 1, 1965

52 Ralph Phifer

Offensive Guard, 6-2, 275, Senior, Mooresville, N.C.

In the fight for the starting spot at left guard... Saw extensive action at that position last year... Started the first seven games and played in all 12... Sprained a knee at LSU and gave up his starting role to Steve Steinbacher... Still was able to come off the bench the following week against Maryland... With other injuries in the line, he was in the lineup on the Tar Heels' final two scoring drives... His blocking was an important factor as Carolina rallied for a 32-30 victory... Played very well throughout the season... Ended spring practice in a virtual dead heat with Steinbacher for the starting job... Whether he starts or not, he'll continue to play a great deal... Has the ability to play either guard slot... Also could play center... A reserve guard in 1984, he was a part-time starter at center in 1985... Played a great game that year in Carolina's 21-14 win over N.C. State... Also played especially well in a 21-20 triumph over Clemson... Came off the bench in that game to do a fine job in two late fourth quarter drives... Had been red-shirted in 1983... He's one of the team's hardest workers and strongest players... A big, powerful drive blocker... A gifted athlete who is very dedicated... Has fine quickness for a man of his size... Has developed into a good pass protector... Physically tough, he's easy-going and quiet off the field... Played center, offensive tackle, defensive tackle, linebacker and defensive end at Mooresville High School... Named to the GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS all-state team... All-Piedmont and all-conference... Selected his high school's most outstanding defensive player and best offensive lineman... Started at center for North Carolina in the 1982 Shrine Bowl... Also lettered twice in track at Mooresville... Majoring in sociology... Born December 3, 1964.

90 John Reed

Outside Linebacker, 6-3, 210, Sophomore, Tampa, Fla.

One of the standouts in spring practice... With several young players in the fight for a job at this position, it was Reed who stepped forward and won a starting berth... Grabbed a first-team spot early in the off-season work and held onto it... Seemed to gain confidence as the spring progressed... A great athlete... Possesses good size and strength... Has excellent instincts... Plays with a lot of intensity and enthusiasm... Good pass rusher... His play was one of the most encouraging developments on defense during the spring... Was injured late in the spring, but should be fine in the fall... Red-shirted in 1985, he was a reserve defensive end last fall... Was a three-year starter at Hillsborough High School... Played defensive tackle and tight end... Had 85 solo tackles as a senior, including 10 sacks and 20 tackles for losses... Caused four fumbles and recovered two... All-Northside, all-county and all-conference... Won all-state honors and was named to Florida's Cream of the Top list... Earned three football letters and one in basketball... Undecided on a college major... Born January 20, 1966.

54 Brett Rudolph

Linebacker, 6-2, 228, Senior, Chagrin Falls, Ohio

One of the keys to the entire Carolina season... Tar Heels must have him healthy in order to be an improved and more consistent defensive team... Was expected to challenge for all-star honors last fall, but was slowed most of the season by an ankle injury... Sprained his ankle in the final pre-season scrimmage and did not fully recover until the end of the year... Still, finished as Carolina's third-leading tackler with 98 hits, 43 of them solos... Recovered three fumbles and caused two... Broke up three passes and deflected seven... Had a good season, but not the great one he expected... Played well down the stretch as his ankle finally began to heal... Had a great day against Maryland with 13 total hits, including eight solos... Recovered a fumble, broke up two passes and deflected three that day... Was sensational in the Aloha Bowl... Was all over the field against Arizona, making 16 solo tackles... That was the type of play he could have given all year had he been healthy... Had tied for the team lead in tackles as a sophomore with 162 hits... That included 64 solo tackles and 32 primary assists... Played an outstanding game against Clemson that year with 19 hits... Had nine solo tackles that day, two tackles for losses and a sack... Was in on 20 hits against Florida State and 19 against LSU... Saw considerable action as a reserve linebacker and on special teams in 1984... Got that playing time after being red-shirted in 1983... A shoulder injury kept him out of off-season practice last spring... That has been surgically corrected and he should be 100 percent this fall... A key for him will be to get right back to top form in pre-season practice since he missed the spring... Goes into the fall number two on the depth chart, but should immediately press for his starting spot... Capable of being one of the premier players in the Atlantic Coast Conference... Has great instincts for the football... A high school sprinter, he gives Carolina great speed at linebacker... Intelligent and intense... Wants to be an exceptional player... Loves to work in the weight room and has excellent strength... A physical and aggressive player... With his experience and ability, he should be another in a long line of brilliant Tar Heel linebackers... As a senior at Chagrin Falls High School, he had been the most valuable player in both Geauga County and the Chagrin Valley Conference... Played nose guard, tailback, linebacker and fullback... Led his conference in rushing with 1,309 yards and in scoring with 21 touchdowns... Second-leading rusher in the greater Cleveland area... All-county, all-city, all-district and all-conference... Associated Press class-AA all-state selection at linebacker... Was on the CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER Dream Team as a junior and senior... Won two letters in football and four in track... Majoring in journalism... Born March 5, 1965.

88 Alex Simakas

Defensive Tackle, 6-4, 250, Freshman, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Red-shirt freshman who is a reserve at defensive tackle... Worked on the scout team last season and did a good job... However, got off to a slow start in spring practice... Had a gashed hand which hampered him in the early going... As his hand healed, he began to show improvement in a lot of areas... Very good at playing the run... Has made fine progress as a pass rusher... Plays hard and has good football sense... Comes from an excellent high school program and was well-schooled fundamentally when he arrived on campus... The improvement he made in the latter part of the spring puts him in a position to see action this fall... Was captain of his North Allegheny High School team as a senior... Played tight end and defensive end... Won first-team all-conference honors on offense and was a second-team choice on defense... Was in on 95 tackles, including 52 solo hits... Recorded nine sacks and recovered three fumbles... Named to the PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE Fabulous 22 Team... Lettered twice in football and three times in track... Studying in the General College at Carolina... Born October 19, 1968.

47 Chuck Sledge

Linebacker, 6-1, 210, Sophomore, Raleigh, N.C.

Reserve linebacker who should get playing time this fall... Got an opportunity to play early last year when Brett Rudolph was slowed by an ankle injury... Started the season opener against the Citadel... Was hampered by an injury the second half of the season... Did a pretty good job before getting hurt... Had a fine spring... Moved to outside linebacker late in the off-season because of injuries there and played well at that spot for the last three practices... Will be back inside in the fall, but his knowledge of the OLB position gives added versatility to the defense... Not as big as some of the other linebackers, but makes up for that with quickness and fine instincts... Does a good job on pass drops... Was red-shirted in 1985 after fracturing a fibula in the East-West All-Star Game... Wake County Player of the Year as a senior at Sanderson High School... Also named Metro Player of the Year and Cap-8 Conference Player of the Year... Played linebacker and tight end... All-conference and all-metro as a junior and senior... Also All-East as a senior and named to the GREENSBORO NEWS & RECORD all-state team... Led Sanderson to a league championship in his senior season, making over 200 tackles... Had five sacks, 22 tackles for losses, three fumble recoveries and three interceptions... A three-year starter with 17 career sacks and 454 tackles... An avid surfer... His father, Chuck, played football at Carolina in the early 1960's... Majoring in economics... Born June 4, 1967.

8 Kent Smith

Quarterback, 6-1, 175, Freshman, Canton, Ohio

Non-scholarship player who could be a factor at quarterback... Goes into the fall battling Dan Walkowiak for the number three quarterback job... Will challenge for a spot on the travelling squad... Played on the scout team last fall during a red-shirt season... Did a good job there and then had a fine spring... Showed he has the tools to play... Displayed good composure... Completed six of 10 passes in the Blue-White Game and threw a five-yard touchdown pass to Kennard Martin... Captain of his football and basketball teams at Glenoak High School... Attended Boys State and was in the National Honor Society... Born February 20, 1968.

87 Quinton Smith

Wide Receiver, 6-2, 192, Senior, Alexandria, Va.

After playing well in a backup role for the last two seasons, now a candidate for a starting job... Goes into the fall battling Randy Marriott for the number one spot at flanker... Whether he starts or not, he's sure to see plenty of action... Saw extensive playing time last year behind Eric Streater at split end... Finished second to Streater on the team in catches with 17... His receptions covered 266 yards, an average of 15.6 yards per catch... Had three touchdown catches—against Wake Forest, N.C. State and Maryland... His 13-yard scoring reception against State came with just eight seconds to play and brought Carolina to within 35-34 of the Wolfpack... Although a subsequent two-point conversion failed, Smith had an incredible day catching the football... Had nine catches for 126 yards... The nine receptions equalled the eighth-most ever in one game by a Tar Heel player... The nine catches and the 126 yards receiving were both the most ever by a Carolina player against N.C. State... The 126 yards on receptions equalled the 12th-highest figure in school history... Set up Carolina's first touchdown against Maryland with a 28-yard catch, the longest of his career... Scored on a 21-yard grab against the Terps and a 17-yard pass against Wake Forest... First came to prominence in a 21-20 win over Clemson in 1985... Had four clutch catches in the closing minutes of that game as Carolina scored on two long drives to come from behind and win... Came in after Streater suffered a shoulder injury and made a spectacular 17-yard diving catch on a third-and-nine play to keep the first drive alive... Then had 17 and 12-yard receptions in the final 70-yard touchdown march... The 12-yarder came with three defenders around him at the Tiger one-yard line... That set up the winning touchdown with only 10 seconds on the clock... That game gave his confidence a big boost... Now rates as one of the team's best clutch performers... Has good concentration and a fine pair of hands... Runs good routes... Possesses the speed to be a deep threat... A very fluid runner... Has good size and has become a more aggressive player... Consistency and blocking have improved in the last year... Quick and smart, he understands his role in the offense... An excellent worker... Very coachable... Saw only limited playing time in 1984 after being red-shirted the previous year... At T.C. Williams High School, he made 50 career catches for 700 yards and eight touchdowns... Twice an all-region and all-district selection... Named offensive MVP on his team which won the Northern District championship and finished second in the region... Lettered three times in football, once in soccer and four times in track... Sprinter and long jumper... Majoring in journalism... Born May 11, 1965.

98 Rod Snyder

Nose Guard, 6-2, 240, Junior, LaVale, Md.

A reserve at defensive tackle and defensive end last year... Shifted to nose guard during spring practice... Could be a good backup to Carlton Bailey at this spot... Goes into the fall as the number two man at the position... Worked very hard in the spring to improve himself... Smart kid who picked up the new position quickly... Played very well in the last scrimmage... A reserve fullback in 1985, he was switched to defense in the spring of 1986... Had been red-shirted in 1984... Played linebacker and fullback at Allegany High School... Captain of an undefeated state championship team as a senior... Had played on a city and regional championship team as a junior... All-city, all-league and all-area... Chosen for the East-West Shrine Game and the Coaches' All-Star Game... Lettered four times in football, basketball and track... Scored 16 points a game and averaged 13 rebounds in basketball... All-city and all-league in basketball... City and regional shot put champion... Finished third in the state in that event... Industrial relations major... Born February 23, 1966.

35 Eric Starr

Tailback, 5-10, 189, Senior, Ellenboro, N.C.

Carolina's second-leading rusher last fall with 478 yards on 73 carries... Averaged 6.5 yards per rush... Scored five touchdowns... Had 10 catches for 89 yards... Returned 18 kickoffs 367 yards for a 20.4 average... That includes a season-best 42-yard return against Maryland... Had a 50-yard punt return against The Citadel... Turned in a sensational performance against Duke in the season finale... Came off the bench to gain 184 yards on 17 carries in the final three quarters of play... Scored on 67 and 57-yard runs... Came off the bench against N.C. State to gain 102 yards rushing on 20 carries... Started twice during the year at tailback—against LSU and in the Aloha Bowl against Arizona... Was a defensive back in his first two seasons here... Was shifted to tailback in pre-season practice last fall to give Carolina more speed there... Had shown flashes of running potential as a punt returner in 1985... Had a 69-yard return for a touchdown at Virginia that year... Has great acceleration and explosion... Needs to do a better job of holding onto the ball... Had a goal to improve in that respect during the spring, but missed all of the off-season work with a leg injury... Heads into the new season behind the other players at this position... One of only two true freshmen to get playing time in 1984... Rushed for over 1,000 yards as both a junior and senior at East Rutherford High School... Played tailback and safety... Made over 100 tackles as a senior... Twice named county player of the year... Won all-conference honors on both offense and defense as a junior and senior... Played in the Shrine Bowl and tied the game's interception record... Selected for the East-West All-Star Game... Also lettered in track... He's a cousin of former Oakland Raider defensive back Jack Tatum... Majoring in physical education... Born February 2, 1966.

60 Steve Steinbacher

Offensive Guard, 6-4, 270, Junior, Newtown Square, Pa.

Versatile performer in the offensive line... Capable of playing any of the five interior blocking positions... His presence gives Tar Heel coaches some flexibility in case of injuries up front... One of the leading contenders for the starting left guard slot... Goes into the fall battling Ralph Phifer for that job... Regardless of whether he starts or not, he'll get a lot of playing time... Played as a backup early last year at both guard positions... Tar Heels were able to roll Steinbacher, Phifer and Pat Crowley in and out of the game, keeping fresh people in the lineup... Moved into a starting spot at left guard for the final four regular-season games and the Aloha Bowl after Phifer was injured at LSU... Did a fine job all year... Was especially consistent in his starting role... Played a great game against Maryland... Was in on 103 snaps against the Terps, working at both left guard and center... Was sensational in relief at Wake Forest... In for 46 plays at left and right guard, he graded 84 percent with eight knockdowns... Red-shirted in 1984, he saw some reserve action in 1985... Started one game that year at guard because of an injury to Pat Sheehan... An intelligent and experienced player... Best technician in the offensive line... Has a good understanding of the offense... That's allowed him to move from position to position in the past without missing a beat... Fundamentally sound... Improved his pass blocking and his pulling during spring practice... Has fine strength and is a competitor in the weight room... Physically tough... Plays with a lot of confidence... Won three letters at offensive guard and defensive tackle at Radnor High School... Team captain as a senior... All-league and all-county... Picked to the Main Line All-Star Team... Received Delaware County Coaches Association outstanding player awards for an offensive lineman and defensive tackle... Played in the All-Star Hero Bowl... Lettered twice in basketball and served as team captain as a senior... His father, Donald, was an offensive lineman at Penn State under Rip Engle and Joe Paterno... Has a sister on the Carolina swimming team... An economics major... Born January 7, 1967.

70 Chuck Tabor

Offensive Tackle, 6-5, 290, Junior, Charlotte, N.C.

Competing with Darrell Hamilton for the starting job at left tackle... A transfer from the University of Missouri who had to sit out last season... Did an excellent job on the scout team last fall... Played every position in the offensive line in that role... A very emotional football player... Plays with a lot of heart... Big and strong... Has good work habits... A good drive blocker... Needs to improve his pass blocking... High school All-America at Charlotte Independence... Played on the same team there with current Carolina teammate Mark May... Majoring in speech... Born December 21, 1965.

40 James Thompson

Fullback, 5-11, 225, Junior, Lumberton, N.C.

Starting fullback who has developed into a good, solid player... Tar Heels' third-leading rusher last fall with 341 yards... Averaged 4.7 yards a carry... Caught nine passes for 90 yards... Played as a backup early in the year... Moved into the starting lineup for the last six regular-season games and the Aloha Bowl after Brad Lopp was injured at Wake Forest... Played a sensational game that day against Wake... Rushed for a career-high 86 yards on 11 carries and had two catches... Carried on five of Carolina's last 11 plays in a 76-yard drive which killed the last 4:15 of the 40-30 victory... Gained 54 yards in that march as the Deacons tried desperately to get the ball back... Also had eight knockdowns that day as a blocker... Next best rushing performance was 72 yards on nine carries against Virginia... Also did a good job blocking that day as Derrick Fenner ran for an Atlantic Coast Conference-record 328 yards... His only touchdown came on a tackle-busting 11-yard run against Georgia Tech... Did not become a prominent player earlier in his career because of a leg injury... Injured a knee during the 1984 season and was red-shirted... That injury kept him out of 1985 spring practice and he spent that entire fall trying to catch up to the other backs... Was a much improved player last spring... Showed great improvement in his techniques... A fine blocker in the past, he was even better in the spring, especially as a pass protector... Had 24 knockdowns in three spring scrimmages... Needs to work on catching the football... Big, strong and powerful... Top assets are his strength and toughness... Great leg strength makes him tough to bring down... Built low to the ground, he bounces off tacklers... A very durable player... Has a good knowledge of the offense... Has become a better leader... Won two awards in the spring—the Doug Paschal Award as the most physical offensive back and the Ken Willard Award as the best blocker among the backs... Football is very important to him and he works at it... Does an excellent job in the weight room... Bench presses over 400 pounds... A key man in the Tar Heel running game, he needs to play with more consistency this fall... When he played well last year, the entire offense seemed to perform at its best... That consistency should come now that he has more experience... Averaged 8.4 yards a carry and gained 1,056 yards as a senior at Lumberton High School... Played his first three years at South Robeson High... Was all-conference at South Robeson as a junior and at Lumberton as a senior... Played in the same backfield as a senior with Georgia tailback Tim Worley... All-East 4-A selection... Named to the RALEIGH TIMES Top 25 in North Carolina... Chosen for the Shrine Bowl and the East-West All-Star Game... Listed in America's Outstanding Names and Faces... Undecided on a college major... Born December 5, 1965.

42 Bernard Timmons

Linebacker, 6-2, 218, Freshman, Fort Bragg, N.C.

Starter at linebacker going into the fall... Moved into that role after Mitch Wike was injured in the latter part of spring practice... Capable of hanging on to that starting spot... Played running back while being red-shirted last year... Shifted to linebacker in the spring to take advantage of his size and quickness... Did an outstanding job of making that transition... Showed signs of being an outstanding all-around athlete throughout the spring work... Won the Darrell Nicholson Award as the most physical linebacker in the off-season drills... As he gains experience he's going to get better and better... Will be a significant contributor on defense this season whether he starts or not... A four-year starter at E.E. Smith High School... Played tailback and linebacker... Associated Press all-state selection at running back and named to the GREENSBORO NEWS & RECORD all-state team as a linebacker... All-East as a linebacker... Selected for the Shrine Bowl and the East-West All-Star Game... Also won three letters in both basketball and track... Enrolled in the General College... Born May 20, 1967.

56 Dennis Tripp

Linebacker, 6-3, 235, Freshman, Farmville, N.C.

Red-shirt freshman who is a reserve at linebacker... Had an outstanding spring after working on the scout team last fall... Big and strong... Showed in the spring he's capable of playing at this level... Should continue to improve as he gains more experience... A three-year starter at offensive guard and linebacker at Farmville Central High School... Also won four letters in baseball, two in basketball, one in track and one in wrestling... Co-captain of the football, basketball and track teams as a senior... Played on two football teams which won conference championships... A two-time all-area and all-conference choice... All-East... Associated Press and GREENSBORO NEWS & RECORD all-state selection... Named to the DURHAM MORNING

HERALD Sweet 16, the RALEIGH TIMES Top 25 in North Carolina and the RALEIGH NEWS & OBSERVER Top 15... Co-captain of North Carolina's Shrine Bowl team and also chosen for the East-West All-Star Game... A two-year basketball starter who averaged 9.8 points and 8.2 rebounds... Conference champion in the shot put and as part of an 880-yard relay team... Also threw the discus and ran the intermediate hurdles... Studying in Carolina's General College... Born February 13, 1967.

21 Tom Vermillion

Wide Receiver, 6-2, 200, Junior, Kinston, N.C.

Non-scholarship player who came out on his own for the first time last fall... Saw a great deal of action in spring practice... Has good hands and fine concentration... Caught the ball consistently during the off-season work... A very smart player who has good work habits... Biggest problem is a lack of great speed... Goes into the fall as the number three flanker... Was a quarterback, guard, tight end and defensive end at Kinston High School... Competed four years in football, wrestling and baseball... Co-captain of his football team as a senior and three times was wrestling team captain... A member of the National Honor Society there... Majoring in business... Born December 7, 1966.

7 Dan Vooletich

Defensive Back, 6-1, 180, Sophomore, Annapolis, Md.

The starter at free safety... Played as a nickel back during much of the 1986 season... Started the last two regular-season games of the year and the Aloha Bowl... Intercepted two passes against Virginia in his first start... Was in on 20 total hits during the year... Also had a sack and caused a fumble... Handled deep snaps in an emergency situation at Clemson after Tony Cooper was injured there... Very intelligent player... Doesn't have all the physical talents of some players, but plays hard and with a lot of savvy... Has good reactions... Knows what to do and the correct way to do it... A very aggressive player... A fine leader... Won the Steve Streater Award as the most enthusiastic defensive player in spring practice... Was red-shirted in 1985... Comes from a great football background and knows what it takes to be a fine player... His father, Milan, is an assistant coach at Navy... His brother, Brian, is a freshman running back at Carolina this fall... Dan was a defensive back at Ann Arbor Pioneer High School while his dad was coaching at Michigan... All-South Central Conference... Named all-metro, all-state and All-West by the DETROIT FREE PRESS... Played on an 11-1 team which won the class A state championship and was ranked 25th in the nation by USA TODAY... Captain of that team... Intercepted six passes and recovered five fumbles... Averaged 12.6 yards on 17 punt returns... A journalism major... Born July 20, 1966.

In the General College at Carolina... Born May 20, 1968.

75 Donnie Wallace

Defensive Tackle, 6-3, 265, Senior, Everetts, N.C.

Valuable player in the defensive front because he can play any position there... Opened spring practice at nose guard and did a good job at that spot... However, when Kubi Kalombo injured himself, Wallace was moved to tackle... Also did a good job there... Listed as the number two right tackle behind Tim Goad... Capable of starting... Hustled all over the field in spring practice... Trimmed down from 275 pounds to 265 and that helped his quickness and endurance... Has good athletic ability... Possesses fine size and strength... Has been a backup in the defensive line for the past three seasons... Has gotten considerable playing time and has started on occasion... Was red-shirted as an offensive lineman in 1983... A two-way player at Roanoke High School... Parade and Adidas All-America... Four-year starter at offensive guard and defensive tackle... Three times an all-area, all-conference and All-East choice... Only player to be on the GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS all-state team in both 1981 and 1982... Associated Press all-state selection as a senior... Named to the ROANOKE TIMES Top Five in North Carolina... Played in the Shrine Bowl... In addition to his four football letters, also won four in track and basketball... State shot put champion as a sophomore and in the National Junior Olympics... Finished eighth in that event at the Atlantic Coast Conference Championships in 1984 and seventh in 1985... Selected by the Roanoke faculty as the school's best all-around student as a senior... Very talented musically... Plays the piano, saxophone, trumpet, clarinet and drums... Also sings... An art major... Born October 29, 1964.

3 Cannon Watson

Kicking Specialist, 6-2, 165, Sophomore, Farmville, Va.

One of only four true freshmen to play for the Tar Heels last fall... Split time late in the year with Kenny Miller as the Carolina kickoff man... Has fine range... Capable of pushing Miller for both the kickoff and long-range field goal jobs... Needs to be more consistent... Soccer-style kicker... Won four letters in football at Prince Edward Academy... Place-kicker, punter and wide receiver... Made 11 of 17 field goal attempts as a senior and 27 of 30 PATs... Had four field goals in one game and 12 in a row over a two-year period... Career longest was 51 yards... Finished his career with 27 field goals and 115 PATs... Also caught seven touchdown passes as a senior... Scored all of his team's points in a 17-12 win over Brunswick Academy in the conference championship game... That included 60 and 56-yard TD receptions in the final five minutes... Four times an all-area choice as a place-kicker... Twice an all-area basketball selection... Won four basketball letters and five in golf... Golf captain three times and has a six handicap... In the General College... Born December 1, 1967.

73 Carl Watts

Offensive Guard, 6-4, 265, Sophomore, Hampton, Va.

The fifth offensive guard last year... Did a good job in that role... Got some playing time... Really looked good and started to come on in preparations for the Aloha Bowl... A pulled muscle kept him out of spring practice... Will be behind others in the offensive line this fall because of that... However, has the ability to get playing time... Has good feet and fine quickness... Plays hard and is a good competitor... Red-shirted in 1985... Played at Bethel High School with current Carolina teammate Creighton Incorminias... An offensive guard and defensive tackle there... Won all-district and all-region honors... Scored two touchdowns on offense by recovering fumbles for TDs... His line coach at Bethel was Ron Spruill, former two-time all-conference guard at Carolina... Won three letters in football, two in baseball and one each in basketball and track... A criminal justice major... Born May 30, 1967.

19 Eric Wetherington

Punter, 6-2, 175, Freshman, Punta Gorda, Fla.

Good all-around athlete who is battling Kenny Miller for the punting job... If he's not the first-team punter, he'll probably play on special teams... Has that much athletic ability... Runs very well... Can really drive the ball with his leg... Has worked hard to become more flexible and consistent... Will be the holder for placements... Was red-shirted last season... Averaged 42.9 yards a punt at Charlotte High School in 1985... Second-team All-America on team selected by USA TODAY... All-county, all-conference, all-area and all-state AAA... Also played tight end and defensive back... Chosen his team's MVP... Lettered in baseball... In the General College at Carolina... Born December 17, 1968.

2 Larry Whiteside

Defensive Back, 5-10, 185, Sophomore, Morganton, N.C.

The biggest surprise of spring practice... Was outstanding from the first day of the off-season drills to their conclusion... Did not see action last fall after a 1985 red-shirt season... But, did a great job at cornerback in the spring... Listed behind Derrick Donald at left corner, but is capable of playing the right side, too... Wants to play and has a chance to do so... Had a sensational interception return for a touchdown in the last scrimmage of the spring... Confidence increased every practice session... Won the John Bunting Award as the most improved defensive player in the spring... Very coachable young man... A tough competitor with fine quickness... Was team captain at Freedom High School as both a junior and senior... Played running back and defensive back... Although hampered in his senior season by an ankle injury, was named to the RALEIGH TIMES Top 25 in North Carolina... Won two letters in football and three in track... Set all of Burke County's hurdling records... Was fifth nationally in the 110 high hurdles in 1983... Undecided on a college major... Born January 1, 1967.

Carolina's second-leading tackler last season... Was in on 99 total hits, including 53 solo tackles... Intercepted two passes and had four tackles for losses... Both of his interceptions came at Kansas... ACC Player of the Week for his play that day... Also recovered a fumble in that game... Started the first six games of the year and the last three... Was in on 15 hits against Virginia, including nine solo tackles... Made 10 hits at Duke before suffering a concussion... Came back from that to play in the Aloha Bowl... Had nine solo tackles and two tackles for losses against Arizona in the bowl game... Did a fine job in the early part of spring practice... Won the Chris Hanburger Award as the best tackler in the off-season work... However, missed the last couple of weeks of the spring with an injury... Is behind Bernard Timmons on the depth chart since he missed that work... Saw only spot action in 1985 after being red-shirted the previous year... He did do a good job on special teams in his freshman season... Really blossomed during the spring of 1986... Named the team's most improved defender that spring... A conscientious and intense competitor... Intelligent and picks things up well... Was Western North Carolina's Lineman of the Year as a high school senior at Brevard... Linebacker and tight end... Played on a 12-1 Division II state championship team as a sophomore... Led Brevard to a 14-0 record and another state title as a junior... Named Transylvania County Athlete of the Year after that season... As a senior was selected to the GREENSBORO NEWS & RECORD all-state team and to the RALEIGH TIMES Top 25 in North Carolina... ## A Ram For a Mascot?

For over 60 years the mascot of North Carolina's football team has been a ram. The current sideline star for the Tar Heels is Rameses IX.

Since Carolina's nickname is Tar Heels, it might seem strange to have a ram as a mascot. It is. But, there is a good explanation. It's offered by Vic Huggins, Carolina's head cheerleader back in 1924.

"In 1924 school spirit was at a peak," Huggins once explained. "But something seemed to be missing. One day it hit me. Georgia had a bulldog for a mascot and State a wolf. What Carolina needed was a symbol."

Two years earlier the Tar Heels had posted a brilliant 9-1 record. The star of that 1922 team was a bruising fullback named Jack Merritt. Merritt was nicknamed "the battering ram" for the way he plunged into lines. It seemed natural to Huggins to link a mascot with Merritt's unusual sobriquet.

"Charlie Woollen, the athletic business manager at that time, agreed with the idea and gave us $25 to purchase a fitting mascot," said Huggins.

Rameses the First was shipped in from Texas, arriving just in time to be introduced at a pep rally before the VMI game. Complete with a monogram blanket on his back, Rameses helped make the pep rally one of the school's greatest.

Then the ram was taken to Emerson Field where Carolina was an underdog to a strong VMI team. But, for three quarters the Tar Heels battled the visitors to a scoreless tie.

Late in the fourth period Carolina's Bunn Hackney was called upon to attempt a field goal. Before taking the field he stopped to rub Rameses's head for good luck.

Seconds later Hackney's 30-yard dropkick sailed between the goalposts, giving the Tar Heels a 3-0 victory and a legendary mascot.

From that November afternoon in 1924, the deeds and experiences of Rameses I and his successors have been the basis for countless anecdotes.

For instance, there was Rameses I making his first indoor appearance. Huggins was again the originator of the idea, the Tin Can was the scene and a basketball game was the event.

A theatrical debut with bright lights and a chorus was planned for the ram's introduction before a capacity audience. But when Rameses was led to midcourt at half-time, it became evident that he was not housebroken. In addition to being his first, that was also Rameses' last basketball game.

Tar Heel rams have traveled everywhere from New York City (for the Carolina-Notre Dame game in 1949) to Jacksonville for Carolina's Gator Bowl appearances.

Generally, the highlight of each season for Rameses is trying to outwit Duke students who always try to ram-nap him before the traditional big game with the Blue Devils.

The University

The nation's first state university to accept and graduate students, the University of North Carolina was chartered in 1789 and opened its doors on January 15, 1795.

Since its beginning almost 200 years ago, Carolina has become nationally known for its achievements in teaching, research and public service. Its 14 colleges and schools with their more than 70 departments, related centers and institutes make the University the most comprehensive institution in the state. It also is one of the few universities in the nation with five health schools on one campus.

From one building, 100 students and two professors during its first year, the University has grown to 162 major buildings, 22,000 students and more than 1,900 full-time faculty members teaching in over 100 fields. Its living alumni total more than 150,000, some 50 percent of whom have been graduated in the last 15 years.

In 1985, the quality of the education offered by the University received further recognition. Richard Moll, author of "The Public Ivys: A Guide to America's Best Colleges and Universities," picked Carolina as one of eight public universities in the nation equivalent in quality to an Ivy League school. He also called Chapel Hill "the perfect college town."

Education writers at The New York Times also have praised the University, including it on a list of 221 schools they call "The Best Buys in College Education." Carolina also made the Times' "1984-85 Guide to Selective Colleges" placing in the top 6 percent of the 275 colleges rated.

Similarly, a 1985 survey published by U.S. News and World Report ranked the University among the top 10 institutions in the country for the high quality of its undergraduate program.

Those honors give further credence to a comprehensive evaluation published recently by the National Academy Press. In it, Carolina was ranked as one of the nation's best graduate and research institutions. The faculty was rated as the best in the Southeast and one of the nation's finest. Other studies have rated schools and departments among the best and the University library was rated first in the Southeast and 17th in the nation.

Such lofty standing also is reflected in the honors received by faculty members and students. Members of the faculty have won major awards and held top positions in virtually every discipline in which Carolina has a program. Fifty-four Guggenheim fellowships have been awarded since 1951, and numerous Fulbrights and other awards are received each year. The Pulitzer Prize has been awarded to University faculty members, alumni and to books published by the UNC Press, one of the nation's best academic presses. Many Carolina students have been named Rhodes Scholars, and the Morehead Scholarship Program, patterned after the Rhodes and considered the best of its kind, annually brings about 65 outstanding freshmen to Chapel Hill.

The need for both quality long-range developmental planning and the best facilities also has been recognized. Buildings recently completed have included the Kenan Center of North Carolina, the Dean E. Smith Center, the Hanes Art Center, the Morehead Chemistry Laboratories and the Carmichael Residence Hall. Sitterson Hall, the new computer science building, opens this fall and construction continues on the Public Health and Environmental Sciences Center.

The flagship institution of the 16-campus University of North Carolina system, the University at Chapel Hill ranks among the nation's great institutions.

And as it approaches its bicentennial year, the University aims to advance its tradition of excellence in service to the state and the nation, says Chancellor Christopher C. Fordham III.

"In very few states can the most promising students truly reach for the stars at their own state-owned university," Fordham says. "That the people have made these outstanding academic resources available—at such a modest cost—is part of the genius of the University of North Carolina."

Chancellor Christopher Fordham

Since Dr. Christopher C. Fordham III became chancellor in 1980, the University of North Carolina increasingly has been recognized as one of the top academic, research and public service institutions in the United States and one of the leading universities in the world.

As its sixth chancellor, Fordham has not been content to allow Carolina to rest on past laurels. He has built on those honors, guiding the school into new areas critical to the nation's future.

With Fordham at the helm, Carolina has renewed its longtime partnership with the state's public schools. More than 20 joint programs have been established to improve teacher education, postgraduate teacher training and student experiences in Tar Heel public school systems.

Examples include the Lyndhurst Fellowship Program, which draws some of the nation's brightest recent college graduates into the teaching profession through a one-year program; the Center for Mathematics and Science Education, aimed at increasing the supply of qualified secondary school math and science teachers; the Mellon-Babcock Reynolds Program, a series of workshops and one-year learning leaves for writing and foreign language teachers from public high schools; and the Principals Executive Institute, a management training course for school principals and superintendents through the Institute of Government.

The University's renewed interest in the well-being of the public schools has had a significant effect upon the morale and public image of the schools, Fordham says. That effort came at a time when many major universities across the nation were cutting back their teacher training programs.

Under Fordham's leadership, alumni, friends and students have supported Carolina at record levels. The last four senior classes have set new national records for class gifts. Fordham and his development staff have forged one of the strongest development programs in the nation with increasingly impressive results.

The Fordham era also has been marked by the recruitment of outstanding faculty and staff, which has greatly strengthened the institution's effectiveness.

At the same time, Fordham has proven to be an effective and articulate spokesman of the University's mission and its values.

Says William M. Cochrane, president-elect of the General Alumni Association, "Chris Fordham can tell the University story much better than anyone I know. Alderman had the gift to express the spirit of the place. So did Frank Porter Graham and Edward Kidder Graham. They all are key figures in the history of the University."

Fordham has used that gift often. It's just one reason he has been successful in molding an effective team representing the wide variety of special University groups—alumni, students, faculty, staff, administrators and trustees.

But Fordham's influence goes beyond Carolina. He was a founding member of the board of directors of the Microelectronics Center of North Carolina, and holds other memberships and committee appointments in professional organizations, including the governing council of the National Academy of Sciences' Institute of Medicine.

He is a past chairman of the American Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC) and the National Council of Deans and Southern Regional Deans. He also is a diplomate of the American College of Physicians and a three-term president of the Southeastern Universities Research Association's Council of Presidents. He also is an accomplished researcher and has written widely on health policy.

The Greensboro native is the son of a Carolina alumnus, and he met his wife, the former Barbara Byrd, in Chapel Hill. The Fordhams have three daughters—Pamela Fordham Richey, Susan Fordham Crowell and Betsy Fordham Templeton—all of whom attended UNC.

Fordham completed his certificate of medicine at Chapel Hill in 1949 and his M.D. from Harvard Medical School in 1951. After internships and residencies at Georgetown University Hospital, Boston City Hospital and Carolina, he served as a medical officer in the U.S. Air Force from 1955-57.

After two years in private practice in Greensboro, Fordham returned to Chapel Hill in 1958 to join the medical school's faculty. He left in 1969 for two years to become dean of medicine at the Medical College of Georgia. He returned to Carolina in 1971, becoming dean of the School of Medicine, a post he held until 1979. That tenure was marked by the establishment of the Area Health Education Centers Program, now a national model for decentralized health care, and expansion within the medical school. He served as vice chancellor for health affairs, overseeing one of the few such divisions in the country with five professional health schools on one campus, from 1977-80.

Except for two months, Fordham has remained in Chapel Hill since 1971. Then he served as acting assistant secretary for health and acting surgeon general of the United States at the request of President Jimmy Carter.

Athletic Director John Swofford

The director of athletics at the University of North Carolina is John Swofford, nationally recognized as one of the best administrators in intercollegiate sports.

Swofford, a 1971 Carolina graduate, is in his eighth year as head of his alma mater's athletic department. The Tar Heel program is one of the biggest in the South, fielding 26 varsity teams, and one of the finest in the nation in terms of success both on and off the playing field.

In his short time as athletic director, Swofford has already seen Carolina teams win 38 Atlantic Coast Conference championships and nine national collegiate titles.

Certainly, credit for Carolina's on-the-field success must go to Swofford for his behind-the-scenes work. While the day-to-day running of the athletic department is a time-consuming task alone, Swofford has also undertaken several special projects on campus and has served on some of the most important national committees in college sports.

With Swofford in the lead, Carolina successfully completed a $34 million fundraising drive to construct the Smith Center, a complex which includes a 21,500-seat basketball arena and an Olympic-size swimming pool. Swofford planned the construction of the Student-Athlete Development Center as an addition to Kenan Fieldhouse. That building, a one-of-a-kind facility, includes the most modern equipment to aid student-athletes in their studies and physical development.

A Morehead Scholar himself, Swofford has a special interest in the academic side of intercollegiate athletics. The new academic center at Kenan is a prototype in its field. Swofford has also established a special award to annually honor the top student in each of the Tar Heels' 26 sports. In addition, he has expanded the academic support staff to better serve the student-athletes who use its services.

Since Swofford became athletic director, a new tennis stadium and clubhouse have been built; Boshamer Stadium has been expanded and dressing rooms renovated for the Tar Heel baseball team; three new holes have been completed at Finley Golf Course; the football practice fields have been rebuilt and lighted; a new Astroturf playing field installed; and the Fetzer Field track has been resurfaced.

Swofford has also made Carolina's facilities available to the North Carolina High School Athletic Association for its state championships. Last year he received the NCHSAA Special Person Award for his contributions to high school sports. It was only the third such award ever given by the association.

Nationally, Swofford was appointed to the NCAA Football Television Committee in 1982 and was named its chairman in 1984. He handled the committee during the stormy dispute over football television rights. He is currently chairman of the NCAA Communications Committee. Swofford also is a member of the NCAA Football Post-Season Bowl Committee and is serving on a sub-committee which is investigating a possible national championship playoff. He served as chairman of the ACC Television Committee when the current basketball contract was signed. This is generally considered to be the most lucrative regional television agreement in college sports.

These accomplishments are a good indication Swofford is well aware of the problems facing intercollegiate athletics and how to cope with them. But, Chancellor Christopher Fordham knew that when he named him to replace Bill Cobey as athletic director on May 1, 1980. Cobey had resigned to pursue public office.

"My single greatest desire is for our program to be a shining example that you can be nationally competitive at the major-college level without breaking the rules or prostituting academic integrity," says Swofford.

"Our approach is not complicated. I tell our coaches three things: we want to be competitive for ACC championships, we expect our student-athletes to graduate and cheating will not be tolerated. If we accomplish those things, we can be termed successful.

"Our basic philosophy is not complex. It is a commitment to excellence and integrity; to represent our University in a positive way and reflect her character and values; and to care about our athletes as people, constantly keeping in mind that their positive development as human beings is paramount."

A native of North Wilkesboro, N.C., Swofford was a two-time all-state football player and a three-sport MVP at Wilkes Central High School. An honor student in high school, he majored in psychology and industrial relations at Carolina.

Swofford played quarterback and defensive back on Tar Heel football teams in 1969, 1970 and 1971. Those last two teams went to bowl games. He tied a then-school record against Vanderbilt in 1969 by throwing three touchdown passes in one game.

He was named to the ACC Academic Honor Roll and Who's Who in College Athletics. He also served as president of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes on campus.

In 1973 he earned a masters in athletic administration at Ohio University. In his time there Swofford served as a graduate assistant to the assistant business manager of athletics.

From 1973 to 1976 he was athletic ticket manager and assistant to the director of athletic facilities and finance at the University of Virginia. He returned to Carolina in May, 1976 as assistant athletic director and business manager, handling all the athletic department's business affairs. Among his many other responsibilities were handling fundraising affairs, team travel and the athletic dining hall. He also coordinated sports camps.

Although he remained assistant athletic director, Swofford dropped the business manager title and was named assistant executive vice-president of the Educational Foundation in January, 1979. In that job he was in charge of the overall financial structure of the athletic department. His position with the Educational Foundation involved general office procedures, membership services and fundraising.

Swofford is a member of the executive committee of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics and is on the alumni advisory board for the Ohio University Sports Administration program. He received the Distinguished Alumni Award from Ohio University in 1984. Last spring he was inducted into the Order of the Golden Fleece, Carolina's highest honorary society.

Swofford serves on the board of directors of the Chapel Hill Ronald McDonald House and North Carolina National Bank in Chapel Hill. He also was on the board of directors for North Carolina Amateur Sports which brought the 1987 U.S. Olympic Festival to this area.

A regular jogger, Swofford enjoys reading and tennis. He is married to the former Becky Owens of North Wilkesboro. They have two children, Autumn and Chad.

Head Coach Dick Crum

Dick Crum, heading into his 10th season as the head football coach at the University of North Carolina, is on the verge of becoming the winningest coach in school history.

Crum has compiled a record of 67-35-3 in his first nine years in Chapel Hill. Bill Dooley is the all-time Tar Heel leader in coaching victories with 69.

Counting four years at Miami of Ohio, the famed "Cradle of Coaches," Crum has an overall record of 101-45-4. That's a winning percentage of .687 and ranks among the best in the game today.

Crum has an incredible record in post-season play. He has taken Carolina to six bowl games, including the Aloha Bowl last year. From 1979 to 1982, the Tar Heels defeated Michigan in the Gator Bowl, Texas in the Bluebonnet Bowl, Arkansas in the Gator Bowl and Texas in the Sun Bowl. That made Crum the first coach in Atlantic Coast Conference history ever to win more than two bowl games in a row. In fact, Crum has won more bowl games than any coach in ACC history.

His overall bowl record is 6-2, counting wins over South Carolina and Georgia while at Miami.

When Carolina finished sixth nationally in total offense last year, it marked the fourth time in the last seven seasons that the Tar Heels have led the ACC in total yardage. Carolina has also been first in total defense three times in that same stretch. Carolina is the only school to lead the ACC in both at least once in that period.

Tackle Harris Barton's selection to the Associated Press All-America Team last fall marked Crum's eighth first-team All-America in the last seven seasons. The others were outside linebacker Lawrence Taylor and offensive guard Ron Wooten in 1980, offensive guard David Drechsler in 1981, Drechsler and defensive tackle William Fuller in 1982 and Fuller and offensive tackle Brian Blados in 1983.

All of those players, plus 11 others coached by Crum at Carolina, have gone on to become starters in the National Football League. Taylor was voted the NFL's Most Valuable Player last season after leading the New York Giants to a Super Bowl triumph. He has been the league's Defensive Player of the Year five times.

Since Crum became the head coach, Carolina has had 45 All-ACC players.

Under Crum's direction, Carolina finished in the top 10 of both wire service polls in 1980 and 1981. Crum is the only ACC coach ever to make both final top 10's in back-to-back seasons. The Tar Heels were ninth and 10th in 1980 and eighth and ninth in 1981.

In nine seasons at Carolina, Crum has coached ten 1,000-yard rushers. In that short period he has already produced three of the school's top five all-time leaders in total offense and rushing and four of the top five career passers.

Now the dean of ACC coaches, Crum took the Tar Heel job in January, 1978. He replaced Dooley who had resigned to become athletic director and head football coach at Virginia Tech. Prior to coming to Chapel Hill, Crum had compiled a 34-10-1 record in his four seasons at Miami.

In announcing the selection of Crum as Dooley's replacement, Carolina Chancellor Ferebee Taylor said, "Dick Crum was the unanimous choice of our nominating committee to be the new football coach."

"Coach Crum's outstanding record at Miami University speaks for itself and we are confident that under his leadership, our football program will continue to maintain Carolina's high standards of excellence."

It has done just that. Crum got off to a rough start as his first Tar Heel team suffered a disappointing 5-6 season in 1978.

The problems of players adjusting to a new coaching staff and an assortment of injuries were major reasons for that losing mark. However, Crum quickly brought Carolina back to national prominence.

His 1979 team had the best record in the ACC, going 8-3-1. The Tar Heels were the only team in the country to defeat Pittsburgh that year and toppled Michigan, 17-15, in the Gator Bowl.

That was followed by a great 11-1 season in 1980. The Tar Heels won the ACC championship and led the league in scoring, scoring defense, total offense, total defense and rushing offense. Crum was ACC and District III Coach of the Year. Carolina whipped Texas, 16-7, in the Bluebonnet Bowl. The 11 victories equalled the most in school history.

The Tar Heels then went 10-2 in 1981, leading the ACC in total offense and scoring. Carolina climbed to as high as third in the national polls during the season, the highest the Tar Heels had been since 1948. The season might have been even better had it not been for an early injury to Kelvin Bryant and a mid-season injury to quarterback Rod Elkins. Carolina capped the year with a 31-27 triumph over Arkansas in the Gator Bowl.

In 1982, the Tar Heels set school records for total offense and passing yardage while compiling an 8-4 record. Carolina was second nationally in total defense and sixth in total offense. The Tar Heels defeated seventh-ranked Texas, 26-10, in the Sun Bowl.

Crum's team led the ACC in total offense and total defense in 1983 and set another school total offense record in the process. At one point during the year the Tar Heels climbed to third in the national polls, but finished 8-4 with a Peach Bowl loss to Florida State.

Playing with a number of freshmen and sophomores, Carolina experienced up-and-down seasons in 1984 and 1985. However, with those young players maturing, the Tar Heels went 7-4-1 last fall, dropping an Aloha Bowl decision to Arizona.

Although Crum's teams have rewritten Carolina's total offense and passing records, he is best known for his defensive philosophies. And he still says defense is the key to Carolina's football success.

"I think you win championships with good defensive teams," he says. "Fundamentals are also so important in football. If you play fundamental and sound football and don't make mistakes, you're going to win a lot of games."

A stickler for the smallest detail, Crum is a master with the x's and o's of the game. However, what he enjoys most is dealing with the many individuals which make up a football squad.

"I think one of the reasons Coach Crum has had success is that he really cares about his players," says Bryant, the Washington Redskin tailback who rates as one of the best runners in the game. "He's interested in everything you do, on the field and off it. I know he's helped me in a lot of things not even related to football."

One reason for Crum's good rapport with his young players may be his 12 years of experience as a high school coach. He considers those years great preparation for his college coaching career.

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Crum attended Boardman High School and then enrolled at Muskingum College. He later transferred to Mount Union College where he received his B.S. degree in 1957, majoring in mathematics with a minor in physics. He also holds an M.Sc. from Western Reserve.

In football, Crum was a non-scholarship halfback. He saw most of his action with the B team and it was there he learned of the great importance of fundamentals.

The first six years of his coaching career were spent as an assistant at Boardman High, Sandusky High and Warren Harding High, all in Ohio.

Crum accepted his first head coaching position in 1963 at Mentor High School in Mentor, Ohio. He compiled a six-year record of 50-9-1, winning three league championships. His record in his last four seasons there was 38-2.

He joined Bill Mallory's Miami staff as defensive backfield coach in 1969.

He was appointed defensive coordinator in 1970 and held that position for four years. While he was defensive coordinator his teams ranked third, fifth, sixth and first in the nation in total defense. The Redskins also topped the nation in rushing defense in 1973.

When Mallory left Miami to become head coach at Colorado after the 1973 season, Crum was named his successor. He won three Mid-American Conference championships in four years there and twice took teams to the Tangerine Bowl. The Redskins defeated Georgia, 21-10, in 1974 and South Carolina, 20-7, in 1975 in those post-season appearances.

Crum's Miami teams had records of 10-0-1 in 1974, 11-1 in 1975, 3-8 in 1976 and 10-1 in 1977.

In his only losing season at Miami, the Redskins lost nine of their 11 starting defensive players in their first two games. After an 0-6 start, however, Crum rallied his team to three wins in its final five games. The Redskins then capped that comeback by going 10-1 in 1977, coming from behind eight times to win.

At Miami, Crum was following in the coaching footsteps of such men as Woody Hayes, Ara Parseghian, John Pont, Bo Schembechler and Mallory. It has been because of their success that the Oxford school has gotten its "Cradle of Coaches" nickname.

Like all those men Crum was extremely successful at Miami. He was selected Ohio Coach of the Year in 1974 and 1975, MAC Coach of the Year in 1974 and District Five Coach of the Year in 1974 and 1977. His 1974 squad finished the season ranked 10th in the wire service polls, the highest rating of any team in MAC history. His three MAC championships are the most ever won by a Redskin coach.

Twice Crum was selected to serve as head coach in the Ohio Shrine Bowl Game. He has also been on coaching staffs in the All-America Bowl, the Coaches' All-America Game and the Japan Bowl.

Crum has served on several committees of the American Football Coaches Association and is currently a member of the AFCA's board of trustees.

While at Miami, Crum had been considered for other head coaching jobs. However, he had always asked that his name be withdrawn from consideration.

"I had been interviewed at other schools," he says, "but I always left those meetings with very mixed feelings and emotions. After I interviewed at Carolina, I had no such qualms. On the plane ride back to Ohio I told my wife, 'If they offer me the job, I'm going to accept.'"

"The thing that influenced me more than anything else is the fact that Carolina is an excellent academic institution as well as a home of great athletics."

In his spare time Crum enjoys fishing and the outdoors in general. Each summer his family takes a two-to-four week fishing trip to Canada. Their vacation spot is in an area just north of North Bay.

Crum also has a great interest in flying. He obtained his pilot's license in the summer of 1980.

In 1984 Crum received the Alumni Service Award from Mount Union College, the highest honor his alma mater bestows on an alumnus. It was "presented in recognition of outstanding achievement in chosen or professional fields, service to the college and community service."

Dick is married to the former Shirley Moncur of Delaware, Ohio. She is an Ohio University graduate with degrees in physical education and library science. They have three sons—Mike, 24, and twins, Jeff and Joel, 22.

The Tar Heel Staff

Bobby Cale (Wide Receiver Coach)

Bobby Cale, now in his sixth season as a member of the Tar Heel coaching staff, will work with the team's wide receivers this fall.

Cale, a former star North Carolina player, first worked here two years as a graduate and part-time assistant coach. He became a full-time staff member in the spring of 1982.

In his first four seasons on the job, Cale coached the Tar Heel running backs. In that time Carolina produced four 1,000-yard rushers—Kelvin Bryant in 1982, Tyrone Anthony in 1983 and Ethan Horton in 1983 and 1984. Last fall he spent the majority of his time on the road, evaluating high school talent along the Eastern seaboard.

During his playing days in Chapel Hill, Cale was a four-year starter at cornerback. He led the Atlantic Coast Conference in interceptions in 1976 with five and finished his career with 12, tying him for second place on the school's all-time interception list.

After graduating in 1979, Cale signed a free agent contract with the Seattle Seahawks. He then returned to Chapel Hill that fall to serve as a graduate assistant under Crum.

After spending one year in private business, Cale came back to Carolina in 1981 as a part-time assistant. He was elevated to his full-time post the following spring.

A native of Middletown, Del., Cale and his wife, Emily, have two daughters, Charmain and Madison.

Dean Campbell (Secondary Coach)

Newest member of the Carolina coaching staff is Dean Campbell who will work with the Tar Heel defensive backs.

Campbell replaced Bobby Elliott on the staff last spring. Elliott had resigned to take a coaching position at Iowa, his alma mater.

A native of Austin, Texas, Campbell graduated from Austin High School in 1967 and walked on at Blinn Junior College. He earned a scholarship there and was a two-year letterman as a running back and wide receiver.

Campbell transferred to Texas in 1969 and again went out for football on his own. He also won a scholarship there and played wide receiver in 1970 and 1971. He led the Southwest Conference in punt returns in 1971.

After graduation Campbell served as a graduate assistant at Texas A&M for two years before becoming a full-time staff member in 1974. He moved to New Mexico as defensive backfield coach in 1978 and then back to A&M the following season.

In 1982 Campbell returned to Texas as secondary coach and spent five years there, four of them working in the defensive backfield and one with wide receivers.

Campbell and his wife, Cindy, have two children—a daughter, Cris, and a son, Scott.

Fred Chatham (Strong Safety Coach)

Fred Chatham will coach the outside linebackers in his fifth year as a full-time member of the Carolina coaching staff.

This will actually be Chatham's seventh season as a Tar Heel coach, counting two years he spent as a part-time assistant in 1981 and 1982. He was elevated to a full-time staff position in 1983 when NCAA rules were changed, allowing schools to hire a ninth assistant.

Chatham worked in the secondary in 1983 and 1984 before handling the tight ends in 1985. He moved back to defense last season, coaching the strong safeties in an eight-man alignment. One of his players there, Walter Bailey, won All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors.

A native of Elkin, N.C., Chatham is a 1974 Carolina graduate. He was a Dean's List student here and played varsity baseball.

He began his football coaching career at Elkin High School as an assistant in 1977. He served as head coach there from 1978 to 1980 and was named Tri-County Coach of the Year in 1979. He left Elkin to return to Carolina.

A fine all-around athlete, Chatham played on Virginia prep football championship teams at Woodbury Forest in 1968 and 1969. He played semi-professional baseball in Winston-Salem at one time and also once qualified as a member of an Oklahoma rodeo circuit.

Chatham and his wife, Pam, have a son, Thurmond.

Marc Dove (Defensive Coordinator and Linebacker Coach)

Marc Dove will move into the role of defensive coordinator in his fourth year on the Carolina coaching staff.

Dove will also work directly with the Tar Heel linebackers after coaching outside linebackers and defensive backs in his first three seasons on the job. In his two years as secondary coach, he produced the Atlantic Coast Conference leader in interceptions each season—Larry Griffin in 1985 and Derrick Donald last fall.

Dove came to Carolina from Mississippi State following the 1983 season. He had been the defensive coordinator there for two years.

A 1972 graduate of Texas Tech, Dove was a three-year regular in the Red Raiders' defensive backfield. He was named Southwest Conference Defensive Player of the Year in 1971.

In high school Dove had played on a state championship team at San Angelo, Texas. His coach there was Emory Bellard.

After graduating from Tech, Dove worked as a graduate assistant there for one year under Jim Carlen and then spent two seasons as a full-time member of the coaching staff. He went with Carlen to South Carolina in 1975.

After three seasons in Columbia, Dove was named defensive backfield coach at Mississippi State in 1978. He was appointed the Bulldogs' defensive coordinator in February, 1982.

Marc and his wife, Judy, have two sons—Zachary Paul and Seth.

Ted Gill (Defensive Line Coach)

Coaching the Tar Heel defensive linemen is Ted Gill, who is beginning his fourth year on the Carolina staff.

A 17-year veteran of collegiate coaching, Gill came to Chapel Hill from Army in the summer of 1984. His assignment at West Point had also been the defensive front. In fact, most of his coaching career has been spent with defensive units. He has helped produce two All-Atlantic Coast Conference players at Carolina—Reuben Davis and Tim Goad.

Gill, a 1970 graduate of Idaho State, was a two-time All-Big Sky defensive tackle for the Bengals. After graduation, he stayed on at Idaho State and coached the freshmen in the fall of 1970 as a part-time assistant. He spent the next three seasons as a full-time staff member with responsibilities in the offensive and defensive lines.

Gill then worked two seasons each at Utah and New Mexico State before going to Ball State in 1978 for four years. He coached the defensive line in his first two years there and served as defensive coordinator in the last two.

He coached the defensive line at Cornell in 1982 before going to West Point in 1983.

Ted and his wife, Gloria, have three children—Nichole, Erica and Tracy.

Lawson Holland (Running Back Coach)

Heading into his second year on the Carolina staff is Lawson Holland, who will again coach the Tar Heel running backs.

Holland is beginning his 10th year as a college assistant. He also spent one valuable season coaching on the high school level.

His career began as an assistant at Duke in 1977. He then took the job of head coach at Douglas Byrd High School in Fayetteville, N.C. the following year. After one season there, he joined the staff at Clemson, his alma mater.

Holland spent seven years on the Tiger staff. While there, he coached in three bowl games. He worked with the Clemson wide receivers and one of his players, Perry Tuttle, was a first-team All-America and set the all-time Tiger pass-receiving record. A native of Mooresville, N.C., Holland returned to his home state in June, 1986 to become a part of Dick Crum's Tar Heel staff.

During his college days, Holland played quarterback at Clemson, graduating in 1975. He had been a three-sport star at Mooresville High School, winning nine letters in football, basketball and baseball.

Holland is married to the former Cathy Pool. They have two children, Jake and Katie.

Denny Marcini (Assistant Head Coach and Tight End Coach)

Denny Marcini moves into the newly-created position of assistant head coach as he begins his 10th year on the North Carolina staff.

In this new role, Marcini will handle a number of administrative duties in the football office. On the field, he will coach the Tar Heel tight ends.

During his first nine years in Chapel Hill, Marcini had served as defensive coordinator and also coached the Carolina linebackers. Five of his linebackers won All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors.

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Marcini was a two-way tackle at Miami University. After graduating in 1964, he served as an assistant football coach at Lakewood St. Edward High School for eight years. He then was head coach for two seasons, compiling a 17-2-1 record. He also was baseball coach for eight years, posting a 160-39 record.

Marcini returned to Miami in 1974 to coach the offensive guards and centers. He was named the Redskins' defensive coordinator in 1977 and assumed that same position when he joined Dick Crum at Carolina the following year. The Tar Heels led the ACC in total defense three times while Marcini was coordinator.

In addition to football, Marcini also enjoys wrestling and has officiated on the high school, college and professional levels.

Marcini and his wife, Betsey, have four children—Jeff, Denny, Melinda and Susie. Denny is a junior at Carolina.

Bill Stewart (Offensive Line Coach)

Bill Stewart is in his third season as coach of the Carolina offensive line.

Stewart is actually in his second tour of duty in Chapel Hill. He worked here as a part-time assistant during the 1979 season. He returned as a full-time staff member in the spring of 1985 after spending the previous year as offensive line coach at the U.S. Naval Academy.

Last year, Stewart's star player, tackle Harris Barton, won first-team All-America honors and was a first-round choice in the NFL draft.

A native of New Martinsville, W.Va., Stewart is a 1975 graduate of Fairmont State. He served as team captain in his senior year there and played on two conference championship teams as a center and guard.

Stewart began his coaching career at Sistersville High School in West Virginia before joining the staff at Salem College for the 1977 and 1978 seasons. He then spent one year working at Carolina in his part-time role.

After working at Marshall University in 1980, Stewart then coached three seasons at William and Mary. He was a member of Gary Tranquill's Navy staff in 1984.

Stewart is married to the former Karen Kacor.

Randy Walker (Offensive Coordinator and Quarterback Coach)

Coordinating Carolina's offense is Randy Walker, who also coaches the Tar Heel quarterbacks.

Walker, beginning his 10th year on the Carolina staff, is in his third season of coordinating the attack and in his sixth as the quarterback coach. In his first four seasons here he worked with the Tar Heel running backs.

A 1976 Miami graduate, Walker played on Redskin teams which compiled a 32-1-1 record. His teams won three Mid-American Conference championships and three consecutive Tangerine Bowl titles.

Walker finished his playing career as the sixth-leading rusher in Miami history. He was selected his team's most valuable player in his senior year after playing tailback, fullback and wingback during the season.

A native of Troy, Ohio, Walker was drafted by the Cincinnati Bengals after graduation. He worked as a graduate assistant for Dick Crum at Miami in 1976 and became a full-time staff member in 1977 as the Redskins went 10-1. He joined Crum at Carolina in 1978.

In his four years of coaching Tar Heel running backs, Walker had five 1,000-yard rushers. As quarterback coach, he has worked with three of the top four passers in school history. Under his direction, Carolina led the Atlantic Coast Conference and finished sixth nationally in total offense last season.

Walker and his wife, Tammy, have two children—a daughter, Abbey, and a son, Jamie.

John Blanchard (Director of Academic Athletic Affairs)

John Blanchard is beginning his third year as director of academic athletic affairs at Carolina.

In that position, Blanchard heads up the Tar Heel academic counseling program for student-athletes.

A native of Sacramento, Calif., Blanchard is a 1975 graduate of Stanford University. He was voted the most inspirational senior on the 1974 football team there and won first-team All-West Coast honors. He was a first-team Churchmen's All-America and a second-team All-Pac Eight selection.

After graduation, Blanchard became national director of the NCAA's Volunteers for Youth organization. He headed up the first NCAA staff which implemented, administered and supervised the establishment of 22 programs across the country and planned further expansion.

Blanchard obtained his masters degree from San Diego State in 1981. He served as a specialist for the Social Advocates for Youth programs in San Diego in that same year. He then taught sixth grade students at Friendship Christian Schools in Raleigh before becoming executive director of Volunteers for Youth in Carrboro in 1982. He held that position until taking the job at Carolina in 1985.

Blanchard and his wife, Dawn, have a daughter, Janel.

Mike Marks (Athletic Fitness Director)

Mike Marks, who worked for the late Bear Bryant at Alabama, is in his sixth year as athletic fitness director at Carolina.

Marks' major responsibility is to develop strength and conditioning programs for all Tar Heel athletic teams. He is the first and only strength and conditioning specialist in the Atlantic Coast Conference to be certified by the National Strength Coaches Association.

A native of Richardson, Texas, Marks worked at Alabama for seven years before coming to Chapel Hill. In his first four years at Tuscaloosa, he served as assistant track coach. During his last five years there he supervised the strength and conditioning programs for all Crimson Tide athletes.

While Marks was a member of Bryant's staff, Alabama won two national football championships. Marks also coached six track and field All-Americas there, including an NCAA champion in the shot put.

Marks is a 1974 graduate of Oklahoma State where he played football and participated in track. He was a two-time Big Eight champion in the shot and also a two-time NCAA finalist in that event.

Mike has a great interest in flying and has his pilot's license.

Marks and his wife, Lee, have a daughter, Whitney.

Skip Hunter (Trainer)

Carolina's head football trainer is Skip Hunter, now in his fourth season at that position.

Hunter has actually been at Carolina since January of 1980. Prior to moving into the head trainer's job, he had been serving as director of physical therapy at the Student Health Service on campus. His responsibilities there included coordinating all medical aspects of rehabilitation for football players who suffered injuries.

Before coming to Chapel Hill, Hunter had been director of sports medicine at the Shamrock Physical Therapy Clinic in Houston, Texas. One of his main duties there was to work with the team physicians for the Oilers and the Astros. He evaluated and treated all athletic injuries for the clinic and also performed pre-season screening tests for the Oilers.

A native of Belton, S.C., Hunter is a 1970 graduate of the University of South Carolina where he majored in biology. He took post-graduate courses at Clemson and then received his B.S. in physical therapy from South Carolina in 1977.

Hunter worked at clinics in Columbus, Ga. and at Duke University before going to Houston in 1978.

Skip and his wife, Jane, have two sons—Jeb and Clay.

Rick Brewer (Sports Information Director)

Rick Brewer is beginning his 20th year in the Carolina Sports Information Office and his 13th as its director.

Brewer is a native of North Carolina, growing up in Winston-Salem and Greensboro. He is a 1971 Carolina graduate with a degree in journalism.

A student assistant in the sports information office here for three years, Brewer was selected the school's first assistant SID upon graduation. He held that position for four years and then was named sports information director in 1975.

Brewer is directly in charge of handling publicity for Carolina's football and men's basketball teams. In addition, he oversees the publicizing of the University's entire 26-sport program.

In 1984 Brewer served as a press officer for the United States Olympic committee at the Summer Games in Los Angeles. In that role, he worked as a liaison between the media covering the Games and American athletes and coaches. He has handled similar duties at two USOC Olympic Festivals—at Indianapolis in 1982 and on the Carolina campus last summer.

For the past five years Brewer has been a member of the Media Coordination Committee which assists the media at the Final Four of the NCAA Men's Basketball Championships. He is a member of CoSIDA, the Football Writers Association of America, the U.S. Basketball Writers Association and the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association.

Brewer, a bachelor, is regarded as one of the world's finest parallel parkers and worst dancers.

Dave Lohse (Assistant Sports Information Director)

Dave Lohse is in his ninth year as assistant sports information director at Carolina.

Lohse's major responsibilities include editing the football and basketball game programs and handling publicity for a number of non-revenue sports. He has won several national editing and writing awards from CoSIDA (College Sports Information Directors of America). His football program has been voted second best in the nation.

Lohse has coordinated publicity for seven national championship teams at Carolina, three in lacrosse and four in women's soccer. For the past two summers he has served as a press officer at the U.S. Olympic Committee's National Olympic Festival—in Houston in 1986 and on the Carolina campus in 1987.

A 1977 graduate of Purdue University, Lohse worked in the Boilermaker Sports Information Office for three years as a student assistant. He also was inducted into Phi Beta Kappa there.

Lohse spent two years as a graduate assistant in the Carolina Sports Information Office before being named assistant SID in August, 1979.

A native of Griffith, Ind., Lohse is a member of CoSIDA, the Football Writers Association of America, the U.S. Basketball Writers Association and the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association. He is also a long-suffering Chicago Cubs fan.

Lohse is a bachelor.

Scott Jared (Assistant Sports Information Director)

Scott Jared is beginning his third year as an assistant in the Carolina Sports Information Office.

Jared joined the Tar Heel athletic staff in the summer of 1985 after working in the sports information office at the University of South Carolina.

A native of Durham, N.C., Jared is a 1982 graduate of Tennessee Tech. He worked in the sports information office at Tech for two years, serving as SID on an interim basis during the 1982 football season.

He went to South Carolina in January, 1983 as a graduate assistant in the sports information office there.

He handled publicity for the USC women's basketball team for three years, edited several award-winning media guides and assisted with the publicity of other Gamecock athletic teams.

Jared's primary responsibilities in Chapel Hill are in the area of non-revenue sports. However, he also assists with the publicizing of the Tar Heel football and basketball teams. He is a member of CoSIDA (College Sports Information Directors of America) and the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association. In judging by CoSIDA, his 1986 Carolina golf brochure was selected as the best in the nation.

Jared was married to the former Heather Lee last fall.

Background On Carolina

School Colors

The adoption of light blue and white as the University of North Carolina's colors dates back to the 19th Century.

When the University reopened following the War Between the States most social activities were directed by two literary societies, the Dialectic and Philanthropic. The official color of the Di was light blue and that of the Phi white. Since society membership was compulsory for all students, the opinions and activities of these organizations were by nature of circumstances all embracing. It was the custom for all men from localities west of Chapel Hill to affiliate with the Di and generally for students from the east to become members of the Phi.

On public occasions such as commencement exercises, the student officers, marshals and ball managers were chosen equally from the membership of the two societies. It had long been the custom of each society for its members to wear its color on such occasions. However, the chief marshal and chief ball manager, one from the Di and the other from the Phi, wore combination light blue and white regalias and rosettes signifying that they represented the whole student body and not just one of the societies.

Later, when intercollegiate athletics were established and students began accompanying teams to other colleges or cities, the question of what to wear became a problem. Certainly, the students wanted to be associated with the University, but the school had no official colors. So it seemed only natural for the fans to adorn themselves with the same combination as that used by the chief marshals and ball managers, colors which represented not membership in a society, but in the University student body.

The light blue worn by Tar Heel students today has many different names. It is called simply light blue, powder blue, sky blue or Columbia Blue among other things. Generally, however, it is just referred to as Carolina Blue. The accomplishments of Tar Heel athletes have made the color synonymous with the University so it now simply bears its name.

Why Tar Heels?

University of North Carolina athletic teams are known as the Tar Heels because North Carolina is "The Tar Heel State."

There are a number of different stories about how the nickname was originally acquired. The two most widely accepted explanations are repeated here. The fact that the production of tar, pitch and turpentine was for many years the state's principal industry is a key element in both stories.

One legend has the nickname being applied to the state's residents as long ago as the Revolutionary War. According to this story, the troops of British General Cornwallis were fording what is now known as the Tar River between Rocky Mount and Battleboro when they discovered that tar had been dumped into the stream to impede their crossing. When they finally got across the river they found their feet completely black with tar. Their observation that anyone who waded North Carolina rivers would acquire tar heels led to the nickname first being used.

Others say the nickname was acquired during the War Between the States. During one of that war's fiercest battles a column supporting North Carolina troops was driven from the field. After the battle, the North Carolinians, who had successfully fought it out alone, happened to meet the regiment which had fled to safety and were greeted with the question, "Any more tar down in the Old North State, boys?"

"No, not a bit," shot back one of the North Carolina soldiers. "Old Jeff's bought it all up," he went on, referring to Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy.

"Is that so? What's he going to do with it?"

"He's going to put it on you'n heels to make you stick better in the next fight."

Upon hearing of the incident, Robert E. Lee smiled and said to a fellow officer, "God bless the Tar Heel boys."

Five Retired Jerseys

Five Carolina football jerseys—numbers 22, 46, 50, 59 and 99—have been retired over the years in honor of the men who wore them.

The number 22 was almost as well known as the athlete who wore it—Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice. One of college football's all-time superstars, Justice was an All-America halfback at Carolina from 1946 to 1949. In fact, those years generally are known as simply "The Justice Era" in Chapel Hill.

Carl Snavelly, Justice's coach, was instrumental in getting number 46 retired. That belonged to Cotton Sutherland, an outstanding back who was killed in an automobile crash while a Carolina student.

Number 50 was Art Weiner, an All-America end in the late Forties. In 1949 Art caught a school-record 52 passes. He was also a great defensive player.

Another end, Andy Bershak, wore 59. A defensive standout, he was an All-America selection in 1939.

Carolina's first All-America, George Barclay, had the number 99. He was a star guard and earned All-America honors in 1934.

The Educational Foundation

John Cherry

Neal Harrell

Ernie Williamson

One of the most important organizations in the Carolina Athletic Department is the University's Educational Foundation, Inc.

It is the Educational Foundation which makes possible all athletic scholarships awarded by Carolina.

These scholarships, either partial or full, will be awarded to nearly 400 student-athletes for the 1987-88 academic year, with an additional 100 awarded for summer school. The scholarship budget, which has more than doubled in the last six years, will total $2.25 million this year, with $800,000 allocated to women's scholarships.

"Since its founding in 1938, the Educational Foundation has provided scholarships, either partial or full, to over 5000 student-athletes," says Moyer Smith, the Foundation's Executive Vice-President.

The purpose of the Foundation is to offer financial aid to worthy young men and women seeking an education at the University and to support University programs by providing services and funds for the construction of facilities or purchase of equipment.

The following are categories of annual giving:

Super Ram ($1,200) - Entitles a member to purchase up to eight season football tickets (selected location) and receive an assigned parking space. Football seating and parking will be in a preferred area.

Big Ram ($500) - Entitles a member to purchase four season football tickets (selected location) and receive an assigned parking space. Football seating and parking will be in a preferred area.

Ram ($300) - Entitles a member to purchase two season football tickets (selected location). Additional tickets may be purchased, but location of tickets is subject to the point system.

Little Ram ($150) - Entitles a member to purchase four season football tickets. However, location of tickets is subject to the point system each year.

Educational Foundation Member ($50) - Those who give less than $150 receive periodic bulletins and the option to purchase tickets. The minimum Foundation membership is $50 per year. However, contributions of any amount are welcome.

Carolina was one of the first schools in the nation to set up an endowment program for athletics. This program was started in 1968 and has already surpassed the $12,000,000 mark.

The endowment program consists of $50,000 endowed scholarships—set up through insurance, life memberships, wills and bequests and a pooled income program.

The Foundation operates on a dignified and realistic plane in compliance with all of the regulations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Atlantic Coast Conference.

"We couldn't have the type program we do without the Educational Foundation," says Athletic Director John Swofford. "We've enlarged our staff in the last several years and I think the staff additions we have made will enable us to do a better job for our members."

The Foundation offices are located at the Smith Center in the North end of the Koury Natatorium. This new office complex has helped tremendously in allowing the Foundation staff to better serve the membership.

Moyer Smith

Moyer Smith is beginning his first fall as executive vice-president of the Educational Foundation.

Smith was appointed to the position last December, replacing Ernie Williamson. Williamson, who had held the job since 1957, is now heading the Foundation's endowment program.

A native of Lexington, N.C., Smith has been connected with Carolina throughout a good portion of his athletic career. He played half-back on Tar Heel football teams from 1958 to 1960.

Following graduation in 1961, he coached for six years in high schools in Winston-Salem, Albemarle and Lexington. He then returned to Chapel Hill to serve as an assistant on Bill Dooley's football staff for six seasons. He was head coach of the Tar Heel freshmen for three years, posting a 14-1 record and winning three straight Big Four championships.

He left Carolina in 1973 to join the coaching staff at Florida State, but returned the following year to become assistant athletic director for business. He was named associate athletic director two years later.

Before taking over Williamson's position, Smith served on the foundation staff for nine years. He worked first as field secretary and then as vice-president for membership services.

Smith is married to the former Jane Webster of Lexington. They have two sons, Moyer, Jr. and Brent.

Kenan Stadium

Nestled among the tall pine trees near the center of the Carolina campus is Kenan Stadium. It is here in this beautiful natural valley that Tar Heel football teams have played their games for 60 years.

Kenan Stadium is generally referred to as one of the most beautiful football arenas in the country. Considering its majestic setting among the Carolina pines, some say it is the most beautiful. Little can be done to actually enhance its natural beauty. In fact, most of the work on the stadium has been directed toward keeping up the natural setting.

Inside Sports magazine has rated Kenan

In January, 1927 work was just getting underway on Carolina's new football stadium.

Kenan Stadium in the early years

Stadium one of the five best places in America to watch a college football game. For scenery, atmosphere and charm, it can't be surpassed.

William Rand Kenan, Jr. deserves the credit for making the stadium a part of the University. He was born in North Carolina in 1873 and was an 1894 Carolina graduate. An international industrialist, Kenan discovered carbide and made monumental progress in the field of chemistry.

The stadium was built as a memorial to his parents, William R. Kenan and Mary Hargrave Kenan. Construction began in November, 1926 and was completed the following August. Complete cost of the stadium and accompanying fieldhouse was $303,000.

In the first game played there, Carolina defeated Davidson, 27-0, on November 12, 1927.

Carolina's all-time record in Kenan is 185-109-15. The most points scored by the Tar Heels in Kenan came in the third game played there. Carolina whipped Wake Forest, 65-0, in the 1928 season opener.

As originally built, the stadium seated 24,000. However, in later years the benefactor added portable stands and then an upper deck to the permanent stands, bringing capacity to 48,000. Work has been done in the last decade to increase that to 50,000.

After the 1976 season, Kenan Fieldhouse underwent a massive renovation. The building was expanded to 30,000 square feet of dressing rooms, coaches' offices, lounges, meeting rooms, weight-training quarters and other facilities.

A new addition to the fieldhouse, the Student-Athlete Development Center, opened last fall. A 20,000-square foot building, it is a one-of-a-kind facility.

For study purposes, it contains a language laboratory, a video room, a computer lab, a theater-style lecture hall, several reading rooms and numerous tutorial rooms. Carolina's academic counseling staff has the advantage of using the most modern techniques in helping student-athletes with their studies.

The bottom half of the building is one of the finest strength fitness areas in the country. Workout rooms and performance laboratories contain the most current apparatus available.

Besides giving the stadium to the University, Kenan also sponsored and financed the famous Kenan Professorships. He was awarded the honorary degree of LL.D. by his alma mater in 1944.

Capacity crowds have come to be expected in Kenan. Highest attendance at a game there was the standing-room-only crowd of 53,689 which saw the Tar Heels play Clemson in 1983.

The 1983 season also saw another first in the stadium—a game played under artificial lights. The Carolina-Duke game was played in the late afternoon so it could be televised throughout the Atlantic Coast Conference area. Portable lights were brought in since the second half was played after sunset.

A Look Back at 1986

Team

★ Carolina finished sixth in the nation in total offense, averaging 436.0 yards a game, and 10th nationally in rushing offense (252.5).

★ Carolina led the Atlantic Coast Conference in total offense (436.0), was second in rushing (252.5), placed fifth in passing (183.5) and was third in scoring (25.8).

★ The Tar Heels' 4,796 yards of total offense was the second-highest in school history, trailing only the 4,860 yards accumulated in 1983.

★ Carolina averaged 5.8 yards a play for the season, its best figure ever.

★ The Tar Heels equalled a school record by throwing 18 touchdown passes.

★ For the 10th time in history, Carolina averaged 250 yards a game rushing (252.5). The Tar Heels have had nine winning seasons and one 5-5 mark in those 10 years.

★ Carolina rushed for 2,500 yards for the 12th time (2777). Those 12 occasions have now produced 11 winning seasons and one break-even 5-5 campaign.

★ Carolina was fifth in the ACC in total defense (387.1), third in rushing defense (151.4), eighth in passing defense (235.7) and fourth in scoring defense (22.6).

★ Opposing runners had just two 100-yard rushing days against the Tar Heel defense. Jerry Mays of Georgia Tech had 111 yards on the ground and Clemson's Terrence Flagler ran for 114.

★ Carolina was in the plus column on turnovers, losing the ball to the opposition 26 times and coming up with 27 enemy turnovers.

★ For only the third time in ACC history, one school had both the league's leading rusher (Derrick Fenner) and top passer (Mark Maye).

★ Carolina produced a 1,000-yard rusher (Derrick Fenner) for the 18th time, most in collegiate history.

★ The Tar Heels had an ACC-season high in total offense with 613 yards against The Citadel, produced the most first downs by an ACC team in one game with 35 against The Citadel and ran the most plays of any conference team with 95 against Maryland.

Offensive Tackle Harris Barton was named to the Associated Press All-America team and appeared on the Bob Hope Christmas Special. (NBC photo)

★ Carolina had the biggest rushing day of any ACC team with 451 yards against Virginia.

★ Carolina had the fourth and fifth-highest total offense figures in school history with 613 yards against The Citadel in the opener and 605 against Duke in the season finale.

★ The 451 yards gained on the ground against Virginia was the sixth-highest total ever at Carolina.

★ Carolina had the second, third and fourth-highest passing yardage totals in school history with 319 yards against Duke, 316 against Maryland and 311 against N.C. State.

★ The three 300-yard passing days last season pushed Carolina's all-time total to six. All have come in the past three seasons.

★ Tar Heel tailbacks had six 100-yard rushing performances in the regular season and a seventh in the Aloha Bowl.

- ★ Carolina appeared in a bowl game for the 12th time in the past 17 years.

- ★ The Tar Heels had a first-team All-America in the offensive line (Harris Barton) for the fifth time in the last seven seasons.

- ★ Four Carolina players won All-ACC honors: defensive back Walter Bailey, offensive tackle Harris Barton, tailback Derrick Fenner and defensive lineman Tim Goad.

- ★ Carolina placed four men on the ACC All-Academic Team: quarterback Mark Maye, offensive tackle Harris Barton, fullback Tripp Hardy and place-kicker Lee Gliarmis.

Individually

- ★ Mark Maye finished 12th nationally in passing efficiency.

- ★ Maye led the ACC in passing efficiency and was sixth in total offense, although he only started the last six games of the year.

- ★ Maye's 141.3 rating points in passing efficiency was the second-best single-season total in school history.

- ★ Maye had the three highest passing yardage figures in Tar Heel history with 319 yards against Duke, 316 against Maryland and 311 against N.C. State.

- ★ Maye's performances against Duke, Maryland and N.C. State were the third, fourth and sixth-best passing days of the ACC season.

- ★ Maye had the third, fourth and fifth best total offense figures of the ACC season with 348 yards at Duke, 335 against N.C. State and 331 against Maryland.

- ★ Maye recorded the second, third and fourth-highest single-game total offense marks in Carolina history.

- ★ Maye's 25 completions against N.C. State and Maryland were the second-most ever by a Tar Heel player in one game.

- ★ Maye completed 19 passes for 246 yards in the second half of the N.C. State game. Both figures were all-time Carolina highs for one half.

- ★ Maye's passing attempt, completion, passing yardage and total offense figures against N.C. State and Maryland were all-time Carolina highs against those two schools.

- ★ Maye and Randy Marriott equalled the second-longest pass play in Carolina history when they teamed up on an 82-yard scoring play at Duke.

- ★ In passing efficiency, Maye became the second-leading career passer in school history last season by increasing his rating points to 135.26.

- ★ Maye increased his career completion total to 120, moving into 14th place among the school's all-time leaders.

- ★ Jonathan Hall threw an ACC-high four touchdown passes against Wake Forest, all in the first half.

- ★ Hall improved his all-time passing efficiency rating to 124.15, sixth-best ever at Carolina.

- ★ Hall increased his career completion total to 81, the 20th-highest figure of any Tar Heel player.

- ★ Derrick Fenner was fifth nationally in rushing (125.0) and 18th in all-purpose running (137.2).

- ★ Fenner led the ACC in rushing and all-purpose running and was eighth in total offense (125.0).

- ★ Fenner became Carolina's 18th 1,000-yard rusher.

- ★ Fenner equalled the third-best rushing year in Tar Heel history with 1,250 yards.

- ★ Fenner set a school and ACC rushing record by running for 328 yards against Virginia.

- ★ Fenner recorded the 11th-best rushing performance in collegiate history with his 328 yards against Virginia.

- ★ Fenner had the top two rushing days of the ACC season with his 328 yards against Virginia and 216 against The Citadel. He also had the ninth-best mark of the year with 173 against Maryland.

- ★ Fenner's 216 yards against The Citadel was the most rushing yardage ever by a Tar Heel player in a season opener.

- ★ Fenner's 173 yards rushing against Maryland was the most ever by a Carolina back against the Terps.

- ★ Fenner became only the second Carolina player in history to record two touchdown runs of over 60 yards in the same game. Fenner scored on runs of 68 and 73 yards against Virginia. Sam Nicklin had TD runs of 80 and 67 yards against N.C. State in 1895.

- ★ Fenner and James Thompson combined for 400 yards rushing against Virginia (328 and 72), most ever by two Tar Heels in one game.

- ★ Fenner moved into 14th place on Carolina's all-time rushing list with 1,643 yards.

- ★ Harris Barton won first-team All-

America honors from the Associated Press.

- ★ Barton won one of 11 post-graduate scholarships awarded by the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

- ★ Barton was a first-round NFL draft choice by the San Francisco 49ers.

- ★ Eric Streater finished seventh in the ACC in receiving with 37 catches.

- ★ Streater finished his Carolina career with 82 catches, seventh-highest total among all Tar Heel players.

- ★ Streater ended his career averaging 16.6 yards a catch, third-highest figure among the school's top 20 all-time receivers.

- ★ Eric Starr was seventh in the ACC in all-purpose running (90.8).

- ★ Starr had the sixth-best rushing day of the ACC season with 184 yards at Duke.

- ★ Starr had 67 and 57-yard runs from scrimmage, a 50-yard punt return and a 42-yard kickoff return.

- ★ Torin Dorn had a 58-yard touchdown run in the Aloha Bowl, the longest run in that bowl's history.

- ★ Eric Lewis had a 84-yard punt return against N.C. State, the longest by an ACC player this decade.

- ★ The 84-yard punt return by Lewis against N.C. State equalled the fourth-longest in Carolina history. It was the longest by a Tar Heel since Charlie Justice had an 84-yarder against Georgia in 1948.

- ★ Lewis finished second in the ACC in punt returns, averaging 10.1 yards a return.

- ★ Quinton Smith's 126 yards on pass receptions against N.C. State was the eighth-highest total by an ACC player last year.

- ★ Kenny Miller finished fifth in the ACC in punting (39.4).

- ★ Miller kicked field goals of 50, 48 and 47 yards, giving him four of the 13 longest in school history.

- ★ Derrick Donald tied for the ACC lead in interceptions with six.

- ★ Lee Gliarmis finished sixth in the ACC in scoring with 63 points.

- ★ Gliarmis won two games with last-minute kicks—a PAT with 58 seconds to play to beat Georgia Tech, 21-20, and a 28-yard field goal with four seconds left to edge Maryland, 32-30.

The Outlook

Although Illinois returns 44 lettermen from last fall, the Illini could well have a new look in 1987. In addition to that nucleus, Illinois also worked with 27 red-shirts and 10 junior college transfers in spring practice. Coach Mike White has also brought in new offensive and defensive coordinators. Among the returning players are 13 starters, seven on defense and six on offense. The defense should be led by linebacker Steve Glasson, who won All-Big Ten honors last fall in just eight starts. Other key defenders will include strong safety Bobby Dawson and linemen Scott Davis and Mike Piel. Top offensive player may be Keith Jones who was moved to running back late last season and ended up as the team's leading rusher. Another important figure will be place-kicker Chris Siambekos, who hit 14 of 19 field goal attempts in 1986.

The Outlook

Oklahoma will begin another run for the national championship with 45 lettermen from last season's 11-1 third-rated team. The Sooners will have plenty of weapons on hand in their bid for that title as 15 starters return. Offensively, the Oklahoma wishbone will again be run by quarterback Jamelle Holieway, the Big Eight Offensive Player of the Year last fall. He has a brilliant cast around him, featuring All-America tight end Keith Jackson and fullback Lydell Carr. Sparked by Holieway, the Sooners led the nation in both rushing and scoring last season and just missed the total offense title. In addition, Oklahoma became the first team ever to sweep all four of the major defensive crowns—total defense and scoring, rushing and passing defense. Linebacker Dante Jones, end Darrell Reed and backs David Vickers and Ricky Dixon will anchor what should be another rugged defense this year. Biggest question on defense appears to be at tackle where both starters are gone. However, the leading candidates there do have game experience.

The Outlook

New Coach Bobby Ross has 50 lettermen and 17 starters returning from last year's 5-5-1 squad as he prepares for his first season at Georgia Tech. Ten starters are back on defense, including nose guard Ivery Lee, who sat out last year. Ross declared all positions open before spring practice so the Yellow Jackets' depth chart is still quite tentative. Trouble spots figure to be the offensive line, where three starters (including All-America center John Davis) have graduated; place-kicking, where David Bell, the most accurate field goal kicker in Tech history, is missing; and quarterback where Ross must decide on a starter to run his pro-style attack. There are three lettermen from whom to choose at that spot—last year's starter, Rick Strom; Darrell Gast, the top backup in 1986; and Todd Rampley, the hero of Tech's 1985 All-American Bowl victory. Free safety Riccardo Ingram, rated the best athlete on the team, heads the Jackets' list of all-star candidates.

The Outlook

There is optimism on offense, but question marks defensively as Elliot Uzelac begins his first season at Navy. Uzelac has installed the wishbone as the basic attack and the Midshipmen seemed to adapt to it well in spring practice. Little-used veteran John Nobeers won the quarterback job with an impressive spring and there is both talent and depth at the other backfield positions. Halfback Chuck Smith looms as an All-America candidate after ranking 15th in the country last year in rushing. There is good ability at wide receiver and three starters headed by Brian McGoldrick, return in the offensive line. Defensively, however, Navy is in the unusual position of having no returning starters from 1986. Still, the defensive front could be an exceptional one with tackles Mike Musser and Troy Holland and middle guard Clark Nichols. Inexperience in the secondary and at linebacker is a concern.

The Outlook

For the first time since 1983, Auburn heads into a season with an experienced quarterback. Senior Jeff Burger, who led the Tigers to a 10-2 record in 1986 and a victory over Southern California in the Florida Citrus Bowl, completed 126 passes for 1,671 yards as a junior. On the other hand, for the first time since 1983, Auburn does not have an experienced tailback heading into the season and will rely on red-shirt senior Curtis Stewart and sophomore James Joseph to fill the shoes of departed All-America Brent Fullwood. On the offensive line the leader should be All-America tackle Stacy Searels. Defensively, Auburn should be solid with the return of nine starters. That group is led by outside linebacker Aundray Bruce, linebacker Kurt Crain, cornerback Kevin Porter and tackle Tracy Rocker. Last year's squad finished second in the nation in scoring defense and this unit could be even better. In addition, Brian Shulman should be one of the nation's top punters after averaging 44.1 yards a kick last fall.

The Outlook

Veteran Coach Bill Dooley takes over the coaching duties at Wake Forest this season. The highly successful coach (he's 11th among active coaches in career wins) welcomes back 30 lettermen from a year ago. That group is led by the entire offensive backfield of quarterback Mike Elkins and running backs Darryl McGill and Chip Rives. Elkins passed for 2,541 yards last fall and led the ACC in total offense. Of course, the Deacs must adjust to Dooley's traditional Power-I attack, as well as rebuild an offensive line that lost four starters. Defensively, six first-stringers return, led by linebacker Jimmie Simmons and safety Ernie Purnsley. Dooley expects his young defense to be improved from a year ago, but again the line will be the number one concern. The kicking game has good possibilities as all three lettermen return there.

The Outlook

If N.C. State can find a replacement for quarterback Erik Kramer, the Wolfpack could again be one of the better teams in college football. State will have a solid offensive line and returns five veteran running backs. In fact, four of the Wolfpack's top five rushers from last year will be back this fall. The receiving corp, led by Nasrallah Worthen, is deep and talented. Although only five starters return defensively, Coach Dick Sheridan feels his team will be stronger there than in 1986. The front five should be outstanding with four seniors and a junior slated to start. There is good experience at linebacker and State has a pair of standout safeties in Chris Johnson and Michael Brooks. Biggest concern is at cornerback where some young players need to develop rapidly. Although place-kicker Mike Cofer and punter Kelly Holodick are gone, the Wolfpack does have lettermen ready to step in at both spots.

The Outlook

Although Maryland posted just a 5-5-1 record in 1986, optimism prevails in College Park under new head coach Joe Krivak. The Terps return 43 lettermen from a team which was only 20 points away from being 10-1 last fall. Maryland has 16 of its top 22 offensive players and 14 of its top 22 defensive players back this year, along with both kickers. Krivak rates tight end Ferrell Edmunds an All-America candidate. He joins with wideouts James Milling and Aziz Abdur-Ra'oof to give the Terps a solid pass-catching corp for record-setting quarterback Dan Henning. All five starters return in the offensive interior and Dan Plocki is an outstanding place-kicker. Defensively, Maryland will have a new look, dropping its traditional wide-tackle six alignment in favor of a multiple front. Linebacker Kevin Walker is expected to head up the defensive unit.

The Outlook

Clemson returns 48 lettermen and 17 starters, counting specialists, from last year's 8-2-2 team. The Tigers won the Atlantic Coast Conference championship last fall, posted a 5-1-1 record away from home, defeated Stanford in the Gator Bowl and was ranked in the Top 20 of the final polls. Clemson should be especially strong in the offensive and defensive lines this season as nine of the 10 starters from 1986 return. Guard John Phillips is expected to anchor a veteran offensive front and Michael Dean Perry should be Phillips' counterpart on the defensive side. The number one concern is the skilled positions where three tailbacks and three receivers are no longer around. However, quarterback Rodney Williams is back to direct the I-formation attack. He has started the last 21 games and owns a 13-6-2 record in that role. Donnell Woolford leads a group of nine defensive secondary lettermen.

The Outlook

Optimism is high at Virginia with 41 lettermen, including 16 starters, returning for the 1987 season. Nine starters are back on defense. That group includes four of the Cavaliers' five leading tacklers in 1986. The defensive leader should be senior end and co-captain Sean Scott, the team's top tackler last fall with 88 hits, 40 of them unassisted. Offensively, Virginia's top three rushers and receivers are back. Sophomore running back Durwin Greggs was the Wahoos' leading rusher last season with 404 yards on 83 carries. The receiving corp should be led by senior wide receiver Keith Mattioli, who led the Cavaliers in receptions last year with 44, and junior wide-out John Ford, who had 32 catches last season, five of them for touchdowns. Virginia will be trying to bounce back from last year's 3-8 record. That losing mark snapped a string of three consecutive winning seasons for the Wahoos.

The Outlook

Duke should field a strong defense and a much-improved offense under first-year coach Steve Spurrier. The Blue Devils return starting players at 10 positions on defense, but must replace all-star linebacker Mike Junkin. Duke hopes its defense can continue to stop opposing ground games and also improve its pass coverage schemes this fall. The offense returns seven starters and should prove to be one of the best attacks in the Atlantic Coast Conference under Spurrier's direction. Fourth-year starter Steve Slayden will run the team at quarterback and will look to senior wide receiver Doug Green and senior tight end Jason Cooper as his top targets. Green had 46 catches last year and Cooper had 39. The backfield will feature two new starters at the running back slots, while the offensive line has two of the ACC's best blockers in tackle Chris Port and guard Steve Ryan.

Carolina's First-Team All-Americans

George Barclay, Guard, 1934

Here is Carolina's first football All-America. The 5-11, 185-pound guard and linebacker was a three-year standout for Chuck Collins and Carl Snively. A fine blocker and an extraordinary tackler, Barclay lined up in the offensive interior next to tackle Jim Tatum. He was captain of the 1934 team which went 7-1-1. Barclay later served as head coach at Carolina for three seasons, from 1953 to 1955.

Andy Bershak, End, 1937

A 185-pound end, Bershak was a two-way performer for the Tar Heels. He was a fine receiver, but was even better on defense. He played two years for Carl Snively and one for Ray Wolf. Bershak, a honor student, also was a basketball starter. He was selected to the Order of the Golden Fleece and served as president of the Carolina Athletic Association.

Steve Maronic, Tackle, 1938

Maronic was a two-way tackle for the Tar Heels and team co-captain in 1938. He was an "iron man," playing almost 60 minutes in every game that season. He turned in two of his best performances in front of the New York media against NYU at Yankee Stadium and Fordham at the Polo Grounds. Those games solidified his All-America chances. Maronic also was a place-kicker and hit 13 straight PATs in his final season.

Paul Severin, End, 1939-40

Severin was two-time All-America selection by the Associated Press (1939 and 1940) and made most of the all-star teams in his senior season. His career was filled with big plays—a touchdown catch to tie Tulane in 1939, two scoring catches against Penn that same season and a touchdown-saving tackle from behind of Duke's great Steve Lach in a 6-3 win over the Blue Devils in 1940.

Ray Poole, End, 1943

Ray came to Carolina in 1943 as part of the Navy's World War II V-12 program. He had spent the previous two seasons at Mississippi and returned to Ole Miss after the war to finish his education. A 6-3, 215-pound end, Ray was a rugged defender. His brothers, Barney and Oliver, joined him at Carolina. Barney later earned All-America honors at Ole Miss in both 1947 and 1948.

Charlie Justice, Halfback, 1948-49

Twice runnerup for the Heisman Trophy, Charlie Justice is rated by many as the best all-around player in the history of southern football. He was a true triple-threat performer, leading Carolina in rushing, passing and punting from 1946 to 1949. He sparked Tar Heel teams which appeared in the Sugar Bowl twice and the Cotton Bowl once. He is the school's all-time total offense leader with 4,883 yards and also ranks as the Tar Heels' second-leading career scorer, sixth-leading rusher and 10th-leading passer. He had a career punting average of 42.6 and averaged 14.2 yards on punt returns and 26.6 yards on kickoff returns.

Art Weiner, End, 1948-49

A great, all-around end, Weiner led the nation in receiving in 1949 with 52 catches. He had been seventh nationally in receiving the previous year with 31 catches. His 106 career catches are the second-most in school history and he still holds the Carolina career record with 18 touchdown receptions. However, many remember him best for a game-saving defensive play on the last snap of the 1949 Duke game. After his senior season, Weiner was named the most outstanding lineman in the Senior Bowl.

Ken Powell, End, 1949

Powell teamed with Art Weiner to give Carolina sensational end play during the post-war "Justice Era" in Chapel Hill. A brilliant defensive player, Powell also caught 10 passes during the 1949 season. As a freshman, he had been a standout in the 1947 Sugar Bowl game with Georgia.

Irv Holdash, Center, 1950

While Carolina's football fortunes slipped in the years immediately following the Charlie Justice Era, Holdash still received national attention for his outstanding play. A center on offense and linebacker on defense, Holdash was a three-year regular who never missed a game during his varsity career. He probably made All-America in 1950 with a sensational performance in a 14-7 loss at Notre Dame. Irish quarterback Bobby Williams called him "the best I've played against."

Al Goldstein, End, 1958

Goldstein was another outstanding two-way end at Carolina. He earned All-America honors in 1958 by making 24 catches for 490 yards, averaging an amazing 20.4 yards a reception. Adept at making the seemingly impossible catch, he had a 68-yard TD reception at Virginia. He also starred defensively and had a 46-yard interception return for a touchdown against Maryland.

Bob Lacey, End, 1963

Lacey led the Atlantic Coast Conference in receiving in 1963 with 48 catches for 533 yards. His pass-catching was a key factor as Carolina rolled to a 9-2 record, defeating the Air Force, 35-0, in the Gator Bowl. Lacey was also the team's top receiver in 1962 with 44 catches. He is the only Tar Heel player to have at least 39 catches on two occasions. His career total of 102 receptions is the third-best in school history.

Don McCauley, Halfback, 1970

Don McCauley shattered the Carolina and the Atlantic Coast Conference record books with a dazzling senior season in 1970. He rushed for 1,720 yards and scored 21 touchdowns, setting marks which still stand. His 1,720 yards rushing was an all-time collegiate high at the time, breaking O.J. Simpson's NCAA record. McCauley led the nation in all-purpose running that season. He was twice the ACC Player of the Year and still ranks fourth in both career scoring and rushing at Carolina. He had a lengthy professional career with the Baltimore Colts.

Don McCauley

Ron Rusnak, Offensive Guard, 1972

Rusnak was a unanimous All-America selection in 1972 as Carolina posted an 11-1 record. At 6-2 and 220 pounds, he did not have the size to play professional football, but Rusnak was a great college player. He was a two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference choice, starting on teams which combined for a 20-4 record. In 1972 he won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the best blocker in the ACC.

Ron Rusnak

Ken Huff

Ken Huff, Offensive Guard, 1974

Huff was a key man on one of the most explosive offensive units in Carolina history. He was the leader of an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels accumulate 4,691 yards in 1974, at the time a school record. The 6-4, 255-pound Huff won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the best blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Sparked in great part by his play up front, the Tar Heels had two backs rush for over 1,000 yards in the same season. Huff was the third player selected in the NFL draft by the Baltimore Colts.

Charles Waddell

Dee Hardison

Charles Waddell, Tight End, 1974

Waddell rates as one of the best all-around athletes in Carolina history. He won three football letters, two in basketball and one in track. Not only was he a fine receiver at tight end, but he also was a dynamic blocker there. He set a school single-game record in 1974 with three touchdown catches against Clemson. He had 41 career catches for 518 yards and seven TDs. His professional career was cut short by a knee injury.

Dee Hardison, Defensive Tackle, 1977

A two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection, Hardison played on one of the top defensive teams in Carolina history. In 1977 Carolina led the nation in scoring defense, giving up just 7.4 points a game. The Tar Heels led the ACC in total, rushing, pass and scoring defense. A big reason was Hardison, a 6-3, 252-pound tackle who dominated the line of scrimmage all season. After leaving Carolina he began a lengthy NFL career with the Buffalo Bills.

Lawrence Taylor

Ron Wooten

Lawrence Taylor, Outside Linebacker, 1980

From midway in his junior season until the end of his senior year in 1980, Taylor dominated the football field as few defensive players ever had. Now regarded as the finest outside linebacker in the history of the game, Taylor had a remarkable senior season which featured 16 quarterback sacks and six other tackles for losses. In Carolina's only close games in an 11-1 season, Taylor made the game-saving defensive plays against Texas Tech and Clemson. He was a runaway selection as Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year.

Ron Wooten, Offensive Guard, 1980

Wooten won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy in 1980 as the best blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference. He was the leading vote-getter in the offensive line on the All-ACC team. He was one of the leaders of an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels lead the ACC in total offense and which also helped produce two 1,000-yard backs. He is currently a starting guard with New England in the NFL.

David Drechsler, Offensive Guard, 1981-82

Drechsler became Carolina's first two-time All-America since Charlie Justice and Art Weiner when he earned first-team honors in 1981 and 1982. He played every position in the offensive interior during his Carolina career, but settled in at guard. The 6-4, 253-pound Drechsler played on Tar Heel teams which were 37-10-1 and were unbeaten in four bowl games. He also was the winner of a post-graduate scholarship from the NCAA. Drechsler went on to become a starter with the Green Bay Packers until a back injury forced him to give up the game.

William Fuller, Defensive Tackle, 1982-83

Fuller is one of just five Carolina players to win first-team All-America honors twice. Although powerfully built at 6-3 and 250 pounds, Fuller's greatest asset was his great quickness. He used that quickness to make 13 tackles for losses and six sacks in 1982 and 17 tackles for losses and five sacks the following year. He was the only unanimous choice on the 1983 All-ACC team and is one of just two linemen ever to make All-ACC for three straight years.

David Drechsler

William Fuller

Brian Blados, Offensive Tackle, 1983

When two Carolina tailbacks ran for over 1,000 yards in 1983, much of that yardage came behind Blados. The 6-6, 305-pound left tackle dominated the line of scrimmage as Carolina set a school total offense record and finished seventh nationally in yardage. Blados was named on 90 of 100 ballots in voting for the All-Atlantic Coast Conference team. He was a first round choice by the Cincinnati Bengals in the NFL draft.

Harris Barton, Offensive Tackle, 1986

Barton was a four-year starter for the Tar Heels, first at center and then at tackle. With so many teams playing even-man front defenses, Barton was moved to tackle in 1984 to take better advantage of his skills. He excelled at left tackle, the key blocking spot in the Carolina passing game. As a senior, he led an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels rank first in the Atlantic Coast Conference and sixth nationally in total offense. An excellent student, he was chosen for a post-graduate scholarship by the National Football Foundation and was a first-round selection in the NFL draft.

The Incomparable Charlie Justice

There is an understandable tendency by sports fans to be wary when an athlete is called "the absolute greatest ever" or "the best who ever played."

It is so difficult to compare athletes of the past with those of today that such descriptions are generally regarded as exaggerations of overzealous publicists.

Even with that in mind, however, it is undeniably safe to say that the greatest all-around football player ever to wear Carolina Blue was Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice.

Some have even said Charlie Justice was the best all-around player in the history of the South. We won't go that far even though there's a good chance it's true. We don't want to make our readers too wary.

Charlie Justice was more than just a great football player. He was a bonafide superstar... a hero... a legend in his own time. He had an impact on his home state as no other athlete had ever had before or few have had since.

During his four years in Chapel Hill, from 1946 to 1949, Justice helped guide the Tar Heels to three major bowl games. For one week during the 1948 season Carolina was ranked as the nation's number one college football team. The Tar Heels ended that year rated third, the best finish in school history.

It is no wonder then he was held in great esteem by everyone in the state. Certainly, the time was right for a hero like Charlie Justice. The war had just ended and people wanted to turn their attention to more pleasant things. They wanted someone to make them forget the trauma they had just suffered. So they looked for heroes and they found Charlie Justice.

In his book, They Made the Bell Tower Chime, the late Bob Quincy summed up Charlie Justice's college career quite succinctly. An excerpt is repeated here:

The Justice Era of 1946-49 was the most exciting in Carolina's football history. Charlie was the ringleader of a circus of thrills. He set the pace, but his backing was superb. Carl Snavely had so many football players he couldn't have named them all had he taken a memory course. The Tar Heels operated from the single wing with the kind of variations that at times resembled the Harlem Globetrotters' pre-game ball-handling act. The four seasons netted 32 victories, seven losses and two deadlocks. Plus three major bowl appearances.

The 170-pound Justice was one of the nation's most sought-after players when he enrolled at Carolina. Some called him the hottest property in the history of football at that time. He had been a standout at Asheville's Lee Edwards High, leading the Maroons to two unbeaten seasons. He was All-Southern two years at Asheville, and as a member of the Shrine Bowl football team in 1942 he scored three touchdowns against South Carolina, a record that still stands.

The Navy became home for Charlie during the war years, and he became a phantom on a pro-studded Bainbridge Navy squad. After two years of romping for Bainbridge against opponents across the country, he was a target for pro offers from the Philadelphia Eagles and Washington.

Charlie wanted an education, and scouts stayed in pursuit. He chose Chapel Hill after seriously considering South Carolina and Duke. An off-hand remark by Snavely—"I hope he comes out for football"—became a classic understatement.

Justice was all his press clippings indicated—and more.

Smart! Example: In the Virginia Tech opener, Justice had two kicks blocked. He bristled and vowed it would never happen again. It didn't during his collegiate career.

After Virginia Tech's 14-14 stalemate, a shocker to say the least, the Tar Heels played at Miami. Early in the game, Justice went back to punt. The Hurricane came hard with an all-out rush to block him. He faked the kick and ripped off a 65-yard touchdown run.

In the Virginia game his freshman year he gained 170 yards in 17 carries with runs of 18, 40 and 56 yards. He had seen little practice because of a leg injury, but the Cavaliers were certain he carried a spare appendage.

Choo Choo (he acquired the name at Bainbridge when a gob remarked, "He runs along just like a choo choo train.") was excitement. He was all eagerness on the sidelines and all business when he moved into the tailback slot. He thrived on duty, and he was a master of the quick kick, a devastating rusher, a good passer, and a fake artist who could charm a cobra.

Jack Fitch, a thick-legged back who occasionally shared duty with Justice when not playing the wing, sized up Charlie's style by noting, "Justice has the ability to be running at full speed, stop suddenly, and then be back at full speed almost instantly. He was never regarded as fast in terms of a track man. He had a change of pace that couldn't be matched, and he knew how to follow blockers as well as any back I've ever watched."

Justice was blessed by having excellent blocking backs in front of him (Joe Wright, Don Hartig, Eddie Knox, Paul Rizzo, Bobby Weant) and two fullbacks in Hosea Rodgers and Walt Pupa who could pass as well as run. Pupa had been a tailback in pre-war years.

The Snavely system called for a spinning fullback, fakes and counter fakes, fullback pass plays and reverses. It was a dashing brand of football made more exciting by men who had the ability and maturity to accept Snavely's often complicated maneuvers.

A book, "Choo Choo," documents the career of Charlie Justice. He was a folk hero and deserved the special treatment. The great Benny Goodman and the late Johnny Long recorded the Campbell-Beebe song, "All the Way Choo Choo." It sold by the thousands.

Pictures by Hugh Morton

Typical of Justice was the Georgia game of 1948. He scored three times against the Bulldogs in a 21-14 triumph, the climax being an 84-yard punt return. At mid-way point that season, the Tar Heels were ranked No. 1 in the nation.

Justice erased more records than a company of auditors during his four years at UNC. He scored 234 points and passed or ran for 64 touchdowns. As a ball carrier he accumulated 2,634 yards.

His total offense record is still in the books at 4,883 yards. His punting average for four years was 42.6 yards per kick for 231 boots. Justice also was a dependable defensive player, going both ways on occasion for the Tar Heels and also as a Redskin.

Justice seemed to peak when the traditional games were being played. He led the Tar Heels to four straight wins over Duke. He was an All-America mention as a freshman and made many of the major teams as a junior and as a senior. He was runner-up for the Heisman Trophy to Doak Walker of SMU in 1949.

Charlie's finest moment came in the College All-Star Game of 1950 at Chicago's Soldier Field. He was voted the MVP of the game for good reason. The All-Stars walloped the Philadelphia Eagles, led by Steve Van Buren, 17-7. Justice gained 133 yards individually, or 48 more than the Eagles posted as a team. He set up a touchdown on a 60-yard pass from Eddie LeBaron of College of the Pacific.

Every year since Charlie's departure from Chapel Hill, someone has a "find" who is labeled as "the next Charlie Justice." No player has yet come up to Choo Choo's standards. Good runners, yes! Expert passers, yes! Booming punters, yes! But for endurance, ability to dazzle the crowd and overall quality, there was only one Charlie Justice.

Carolina Football — A Brief History

By Dave Lohse, Assistant Sports Information Director

Although football cannot lay claim to being the oldest varsity sport at the University of North Carolina, its tradition of success over the past century has secured it a special place in the overall history of Tar Heel athletics.

Baseball is actually the oldest sport at UNC with teams having competed as far back as 1867, but football ranks second in age. As Carolina enters the 1987 season, it is but a year away from its football centennial.

The first UNC team competed back in 1888 and played but two games, losing both and being outscored 22-4. That inauspicious beginning belies the success of the program since then, but those football pioneers are nevertheless credited with starting football at Carolina.

In the fall of 1888, the sophomore class at UNC had formed a team and after vanquishing all the other classes at UNC, began to look around for stiffer opposition. The UNC team challenged the Wake Forest eleven to a game which was scheduled during the State Fair in Raleigh on October 18, 1888. Wake won the game 6-4 in what came to be acknowledged at the first intercollegiate football game in the history of the state of North Carolina.

Later that same fall, Carolina challenged Trinity (now Duke) to a Thanksgiving Day contest in Raleigh that drew a crowd of 600 for a 16-0 Trinity triumph. One member of that 1888 UNC team was John Motley Morehead who went on to great fame as the founder of Union Carbide and who endowed the Morehead Scholarship program and several buildings on the Carolina campus.

Just a few months after that loss to Trinity,

UNC acquired the services of Hector Cowan, former great tackle and captain at Princeton, to help teach the UNC players the fundamentals of the game. Cowan arrived in February in 1889 and drilled the Tar Heel troops on the existing athletic field, located on the current site of Bynum Hall.

The 1889 team played two games in the spring and two in the fall. On March 1, 1889, Carolina earned its first win in football as it routed Wake Forest 33-0 before a crowd of 500 in Raleigh. UNC went on to post a 2-2 record that year and earn a share of the state championship with Trinity and Wake Forest.

After a Carolina player suffered a broken collarbone that fall, the University faculty voted to discontinue the sport of football in January 1890 and Carolina did not compete at all the following fall. That is one of only three years since the start of football in 1888 in which the Tar Heels have not fielded a team, the other years being during World War I.

The following year, students petitioned to have football restored at UNC and the ban was lifted with the help of Professors Horace Williams, F.P. Venable and Eban Alexander. At this time, athletic control passed from the hands of students to the faculty, a situation that has continued on through today.

Football returned to UNC that fall with W.P. Graves as coach and UNC compiling an 0-2 record.

The following year, 1892, is considered by most to be the first year of real football at UNC with a six-game representative schedule. That squad also earned the distinction of being UNC's first really good team. Mike Hoke acted as team captain and the entire squad consisted of just 15 players with UNC using only one substitute the entire season. The team opened the year with a 40-0 rout of Richmond and after a loss to Virginia in the next game, it went on to win its last four. Carolina's 5-1 mark was the best record in the South that year. 1892 also marked the first year in which University teams were referred to as "Carolina," with the appellations "University" and "Chapel Hill" being dropped from the popular vernacular.

A meeting in February 1893 signalled the start of the formation of what would become the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association in later years. Ten schools, including UNC, were involved in the meeting and Dr. Venable was voted temporary chairman of the group. Later that same year on May 12, the athletic association approved the awarding of varsity letters for the first time.

Although the 1893 team managed only a 3-4 record, it did have the distinction of being the first Southern team to play in New York City as Carolina lost a 34-0 decision to Lehigh on November 25, 1893. A year later, Carolina brought in Vernon K. Irvine from Princeton as the coach and he led Carolina to a 6-3 mark, attesting to the fact that good and regular coaching benefitted the team's performance. That UNC team finished second in the South and won the state championship. It was also the first to be forced to stage closed practices because of problems with crowd control at open sessions.

In 1895, T.C. "Doggie" Trenchard came from Princeton to coach the Tar Heels and he led UNC to an outstanding 7-1-1 season marred only by a loss to Virginia. A crowd of 12,000 was on hand for the meeting between the Tar Heels and the Cavaliers in Richmond, which UVA won 6-0. Twice during the game spectators ran onto the field to block the path of Tar Heel runners who had broken into the clear on apparent touchdown runs.

Carolina began to gain some consistency in the sport of football with the arrival of Will A. Reynolds of Princeton as head coach in 1897. Reynolds produced four winning Carolina teams in his four-year tenure at Chapel Hill. His first squad in 1897 went a formidable 7-3 and was followed in 1898 by what is still the only unbeaten, untied team in school history. That 1898 squad was a perfect 9-0 and outscored its opponents by an amazing 201-8. The team finished the season by beating Virginia for the first time in six years, 6-2, in Richmond.

Reynolds' final two teams also posted respectable records, going 7-3-1 in 1899 and 4-1-3 in 1900.

Reynolds yielded the coaching reins after the 1900 season to Charles Jenkins, who led UNC to seven straight wins prior to a pair of season-ending losses. Carolina beat all of its state opponents to win its seventh state championship since 1892. In this season, letters began to be awarded by an advisory committee of the athletic association. Previously, anyone who played had lettered.

The next 11 seasons saw nine different head coaches. The 1905 Carolina eleven was coached by William Warner, the brother of the famed "Pop" Warner.

Trenchard returned as Carolina coach in 1913 for a three-year run. His 1914 squad was outstanding. Sixty men reported for the team and UNC went on to win its first 10 before losing to Virginia 20-3 before a record crowd of 15,000 in Richmond. That UNC team outscored its opponents 359-42 and became the first team in the South to display players' numbers on their jerseys.

Trenchard's 1915 squad did not fare as well, finishing the campaign with a 4-3-1 mark. Seven regulars missed the VMI game and the rookies did not fare well, fumbling 16 times en route to a 3-3 tie. That same year, Trenchard started the first athletic training table at UNC in his home, feeding the 56 squad members on a daily basis.

The year 1916 found the Tar Heels in a new home as Carolina began to play its games at Emerson Stadium, the site of the current Davis Library. Freshmen were banned from varsity participation for the first time this year and the team went 5-4 and won its sixth successive state championship.

All of the members of the 1916 squad had entered the military service in World War I by the following fall and varsity football was dropped for the second time in UNC history.

Carolina made its full-fledged return to the gridiron in 1919, going 4-3-1 under coach Thomas J. Coleman. Carolina twice broke its single-game home attendance record that year as it won the state championship. The Tar Heels defeated N.C. State, 13-12, before a crowd of 7,500 and then topped that with 9,000 in a 6-0 win over Virginia. That game marked the first time the Cavaliers had ever played in Chapel Hill.

The 1920 campaign was a dismal one as UNC went 2-6 and scored only 16 points in eight games. But a new more positive era in North Carolina football began a year later with the hiring of Bill and Bob Fetzer as co-head coaches. This also marked a change in athletic policy at UNC as the Fetzers were offered long-term positions instead of the usual one-year contract. Carolina went 5-2-2 under the Fetzers in 1921 and 10,000 filled Emerson Field for Carolina's 7-3 win over Virginia.

That year also marked the first for UNC participation in the Southern Intercollegiate Conference. At a February 25, 1921 meeting in Atlanta, the SIC was formed with a 16-school membership. The conference agreed to bans on post-season play, freshman eligibility and athletic training tables, required eligibility forms for players and disallowed organized practice before September 10.

Carolina would go on to have great success in the Southern Conference, tying for the league crown in 1922 and winning outright in 1934, 1937, 1946 and 1949.

The Fetzers' greatest team was probably the 1922 edition which posted an impressive 9-1 mark, won the South Atlantic championship and tied for the Southern Conference crown. That team lost only to Yale, 18-0, and had three touchdowns called back by penalties in the game. The squad was ranked 11th in the nation by I.B. Thomas in the January 1923 issue of Intercollegiate Athletics and played before a record 68,500 fans during the course of the campaign.

The 1923 team was ravaged by injuries but limped through to a 5-3-1 record and a state championship for a second straight year. A year later, the Tar Heels were only 4-5 but they did play before their largest crowd to that date, 25,000 at New Haven's Yale Bowl in a 27-0 loss to the Bulldogs.

The 1925 season would prove to be the Fetzers' last as co-coaches. The Tar Heels responded with an excellent season, going 7-1-1 and winning the state championship. The only loss came at the hands of Wake Forest. A crowd of 16,000 jammed Emerson Field (capacity 2,400) to see the Heels and Virginia play to a 3-3 tie in the season finale.

1926 brought a new era to Carolina football as Chuck Collins came on the scene as head coach. He had the longest tenure (eight years) of the early Carolina coaches. Collins, who was one of the seven mules for Notre Dame's Four Horsemen, served as Carolina's coach from 1926 through 1933.

The 1926 season brought the infamous Kay Kyser, later to be a renowned Big Band leader, as head cheerleader and his Cheerios as the first major organized cheer block at Carolina. New stadium plans were also in the works in 1926. Carolina alumni in Durham and Chapel Hill met on May 24, 1926 to form the Durham Stadium Committee. On November 13 of that same year, William Rand Kenan, a New York City engineer and 1893 UNC football letterman, gave the University a gift of $275,000 to help build the stadium.

The first game was played in Kenan Stadium on November 12, 1927 with UNC beating Davidson 27-0 before a crowd of 9,000 fans. The following Saturday, UNC beat two-touchdown favorite Duke 18-0 at Kenan. The stadium was officially dedicated on Thanksgiving Day 1927 with 28,000 attending as Carolina edged Virginia 14-13. John Sprunt Hill officially made the presentation of the stadium to Governor A.W. McLean who accepted on behalf of the University and state.

Carolina won its first state championship since 1925 during the 1928 season. Its 5-3-2 record that year included a 65-0 win over Wake Forest in the season opener. That still stands as the largest margin of victory in UNC history. President Calvin Coolidge attended the Carolina-Virginia game in Charlottesville that year and saw the Tar Heels pull out a 24-20 win. It was the first time a U.S. president had ever attended a game in the South.

Collins' first great team was the 1929 edition which went 9-1 and outscored its opponents 346-60. The only loss of the year came to Georgia and only Southern California scored more points during the course of the season. Ray Farris was the captain of that UNC team and was a unanimous All-Southern Conference choice at guard. Carolina was called the "Team of a Million Backs" and drew a record attendance of 139,500.

The 1931 team coached by Collins went 4-3-3 and won the state championship. The Duke-Carolina game went big time for the first time that year as a crowd of 20,000 in Durham watched the two teams play to their second straight scoreless tie. Johnny Branch, a great all-purpose runner, was the star of that squad.

The quiet Dutchman, Carl Snavely, came to Chapel Hill in 1934 from Bucknell to take over the reins of the Tar Heels. It would be the first of two tours of duty for Snavely as head coach. The 1934 team went 7-1-1 and was led by George Barclay, UNC's first recognized All-America in football, at guard. Carolina lost only to Tennessee and tied N.C. State that season. The Carolina-Duke game drew state and Kenan record crowds as the Tar Heels eked out a thrilling 7-0 victory.

The 1935 team also proved to be a great one as Snavely led his squad to an 8-1 record. Carolina won its first seven of the season and there was talk that the Tar Heels were headed to the Rose Bowl. But arch-rival Duke made sure that didn't happen on Saturday, November 14 in Durham as the Blue Devils played an errorless game, winning 25-0. That game at Durham drew a new Southern attendance record of 47,000 and in total 149,500 saw UNC play during the course of the year, another record. After losing to Duke, UNC came back to pummel Virginia 61-0 and ended up eighth in the final Associated Press rankings. Ace passer Don Jackson was named a second-team All-America.

Ray Wolf came to Carolina in 1936 to coach after Snavely had gone on to Cornell. Wolf had six successful seasons at UNC, producing winning teams the first five. The 1936 team went 8-2 and lost only to Tulane and Duke. That squad was led by end Andy Bershak, who was a second-team All-American in 1936 and a first teamer a year later. Wolf's teams continued their success, going 7-1-1, 6-2-1, 8-1-1 and 6-4 in subsequent years. Some of Wolf's outstanding players were Jim Lalanne, Paul Severin and George Stirnweiss.

The World War II years were an unsettled time in Carolina athletic history. From 1942 through 1944, UNC had three different head coaches who put makeshift teams through the paces against adjusted schedules which included some military teams. Jim Tatum, an outstanding player at Carolina in the 1930's, coached the 1942 unit. He would return for another coaching tenure later.

Snavely returned to Chapel Hill in 1945 and during the next five years turned out some of the best teams in Carolina football history. His 1947 team finished third in the AP poll, the highest final ranking ever for the Tar Heels.

An Omaha, Nebraska native, Snavely was a 1915 alumnus of Lebanon Valley College. He had coached Carolina teams in 1934 and 1935 to a 15-2-1 record and returned in 1945 after nine years at Cornell.

His 1945 team did well, finishing 5-5 after winning only one game the previous season. Then the incomparable Charlie Justice arrived a year later, and with his compatriots, UNC went to three major bowl games and won two Southern Conference titles in the period from 1946-49.

Snavely's 1946 team was 8-2-1, won the Southern Conference championship and lost to Georgia, 20-10, in the Sugar Bowl. The 1947 team was probably the best of the four. It finished 8-2, winning its last seven, but went uninvited in the post-season. The 1948 unit had only a regular-season tie with William & Mary to mar its record. It went on to lose to Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl. Finally, the 1949 team was unbeaten in the conference and finished 7-4 overall, losing to Rice in the Cotton Bowl.

Justice was not the only star of those Snavely teams. Art Weiner and Ken Powell were tremendous ends on those teams and Hosea Rodgers was a great rugged fullback of the era.

But Justice was the main attraction unquestionably. He ran and passed for over 5,000 yards in his four-year tenure and he averaged over 42 yards a punt for his career. He had only two punts blocked and both of those were in the first game of his freshman year. When he was done after the 1949 season, Justice had established NCAA records in total offense and punting and was considered the greatest punter of all-time.

As a triple-threat All-America halfback, Justice captured the imagination and fancy of the football fan as no one else ever had. He was idolized and the attention he received from the fans and the media was almost unheard of in that time.

A native of Asheville, he had served in the Navy in World War II and was already 26 years old by the time of his senior year in 1949. He capped his amazing career by being named the Most Valuable Player in the 1950 College

All-Star Game in Chicago.

The departure of Justice from campus coincided with a 20-year drought in UNC's football fortunes. Snavely, despite all his earlier successes, could not produce a winning team after the Justice era. George Barclay, Carolina's first All-America player back in 1934, was brought in as head coach, but he encountered little success in his three years of running the program. That's when Carolina successfully lured Jim Tatum back to the fold. Tatum was a great UNC player in the 1930's and had coached the Tar Heels during the war in 1942. He had since been at Maryland where he led the Terrapins to the national championship on one occasion.

Tatum returned to Chapel Hill in 1956 and after a 2-7-1 record that year, produced back-to-back 6-4 records. It appeared Carolina had the corner turned when Tatum died suddenly in the summer of 1959 from Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever. He was replaced by assistant Jim Hickey whose teams did not meet with a great deal of success in his eight seasons as head coach. Hickey produced only one winning record, that in 1963 when the Tar Heels finished 9-2 and shared their first Atlantic Coast Conference title. That team went on to win the school's first bowl game, a 35-0 decision over Air Force in the Gator Bowl. That 1963 squad was led by the running of Ken Willard, the passing of Junior Edge and Gary Black and the pass receiving of Bob Lacey. Linebacker Chris Hanburger was a stalwart on defense for the Tar Heels.

After Hickey, UNC looked to Bill Dooley to revitalize its football fortunes. The choice proved to be a wise one. Dooley's teams won 69, lost 53 and tied two in his 11-year tenure. ACC championships were won under Dooley in 1971, 1972 and 1977. Bowl trips became a regular feature—six in all during the Dooley years.

After three rebuilding seasons, Dooley's first great team was in 1970. It finished 8-4 and went on to play Arizona State in the Peach Bowl. Tailback Don McCauley, who had gained 1,092 yards rushing in 1969, returned for a 1,720-yard season in 1970. He was the first of UNC's 18 1,000-yard rushers. The Garden City, N.Y. native's 1,720 yards in 1970 broke what was then O.J. Simpson's single-season NCAA rushing standard.

Dooley's teams won back-to-back ACC titles in 1971 and 1972. The '71 team lost to Georgia 7-3 in the Gator Bowl in a matchup of coaching brothers, Vince Dooley being the head mentor of the Bulldogs. The 1972 team had an 11-1 record marred only by a loss at Ohio State. It won a thrilling 32-28 decision from Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl.

The mid-1970's brought more success as UNC made bowl appearances in 1974 (Sun), 1976 (Peach) and 1977 (Liberty). Sammy Johnson was a 1,000-yard rusher for Carolina in 1973 and James Betterson in 1974. But the outstanding offensive player of this time was Mike Voight who gained over 1,000 yards in 1974, 1975 and 1976, including 1,407 yards in

'76. Voight was named the ACC Player-of-the-Year in both 1975 and '76 for his efforts.

The 1977 team would prove to be Dooley's last at UNC. It won the ACC title and earned a berth opposite Nebraska in the Liberty Bowl. A rugged defense led by All-America tackle Dee Hardison helped Carolina lead the nation in scoring defense that season. UNC allowed only 81 points in 11 regular-season games. The new offensive star was a freshman tailback named Amos Lawrence who rushed for 1,211 yards and was named ACC Rookie-of-the-Year.

After Dooley left to be head coach and athletic director at Virginia Tech, UNC turned to Miami of Ohio's "Cradle of Coaches" for its next and current coach, Dick Crum.

Crum's tenure at UNC has been an outstanding one. In but nine years, he has become Carolina's second winningest coach with a 67-35-2 record. His teams have been to six bowl games in nine years and the 1980 team won the ACC title.

From 1979 through 1982, UNC won successive bowl games over Michigan (Gator), Texas (Bluebonnet), Arkansas (Gator) and Texas (Sun). No other ACC team has ever won four straight bowl games. The 1980 and 1981 teams finished with 11-1 and 10-2 records, respectively, and both were ranked in the final Top 10 of both wire service polls, another feat unparalleled in ACC history. The 1983 and 1986 squads also made bowl appearances in the Peach and Aloha, respectively.

There have been great players at Carolina during Crum's tenure, including linebacker Lawrence Taylor, the ACC Player-of-the-Year in 1980, offensive guards Dave Drechsler and Ron Wooten, defensive tackle William Fuller and offensive tackles Brian Blados and Harris Barton. Most of these players have gone on to significant stardom in the professional ranks and all were All-Americans.

The 1,000-yard rushers have also continued under Crum's guidance. Lawrence went on to three more 1,000-yard seasons. He and Tony Dorsett are the only two runners in history to gain 1,000 yards four times. Tailback Kelvin Bryant, now with the Washington Redskins, had three 1,000-yard seasons.

Under Crum's tutelage, Carolina teams have consistently rewritten the Tar Heel record book with diversified offensive play and rugged defensive work.

As Carolina looks to its football centennial next year, it can rest sure in the knowledge that the winning tradition at this institution has provided a solid bedrock for the future. In another 100 years, the legacy is sure to be even more glorious.

Ricky Barden with the 1979 Gator Bowl Trophy.

Carolina's 1,000-Yard Rushers

1,000 yards.

That's the magic figure for any runner in football.

Call him a halfback, a running back, a tailback, an I-Back or whatever you want. But, when he rushes for 1,000 yards, you simply call him something special.

Nowhere in college football have there been more special runners than at the University of North Carolina.

In the last 18 years Tar Heel tailbacks have rushed for over 1,000 yards on 18 occasions. That gives Carolina more 1,000-yard backs than anyone else in collegiate history.

The University of Southern California has produced sixteen 1,000-yard rushers. That's the second-highest total in the game and puts the Tar Heels and the Trojans well ahead of everyone else.

In a 12-year period from 1973 to 1984, Carolina had at least one player break the 1,000-yard mark each season.

Three times in that 12-year stretch, the Tar Heels had two tailbacks get 1,000 yards in the same season. It has been rare in college football for a school to produce two 1,000-yard backs in one year. When it has happened it has generally been with option attacks—the veer or the wishbone. But, on all three occasions when Carolina has had a pair of 1,000-yard rushers, the players actually shared the same position—tailback in the Tar Heels' I-formation.

Tailback at Carolina, in fact, has become the glamour position in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Year in and year out, more attention goes to Tar Heel tailbacks than to players at any other position at any other school in the league. To be a tailback at Carolina, one has to be a superb athlete, one of the nation's best players, someone special.

How has Carolina been able to produce so many 1,000-yard backs?

Certainly, having outstanding runners has been a major factor. But, other schools also have had great backs and haven't been able to compile the figures of Carolina. For example, the Tar Heels have had more 1,000-yard rushers than Alabama, Notre Dame and Penn State combined.

No, there are also other reasons, the most important of which are probably fine offensive linemen, belief in the I-formation and tradition. Those reasons also hold true for Southern California.

Carolina and USC have each had two players rush for 1,000 yards three times—Mike Voight and Kelvin Bryant of the Tar Heels and the Trojans' Charles White and Anthony Davis.

In addition, Carolina's Amos Lawrence had an amazing four 1,000-yard seasons. He and Pittsburgh's Tony Dorsett are the only major college players ever to hit the 1,000-yard mark four times.

The biggest difference between the tailback systems at Carolina and Southern Cal is that Trojan backs have generally had higher yardage totals. But, USC usually picks one player as its tailback and sticks with him throughout the season. In fact, Southern Cal has never had two backs gain 1,000 yards in the same season.

Carolina, on the other hand, has alternated tailbacks quite a bit, trying to keep a fresh player in the game at all times. When two players split a position, their individual yardage totals obviously aren't as high as those of runners who stay in the game constantly. The Tar Heel philosophy is simply that if you've got two great runners, let them both play. In the long run, both will be more effective.

That's not to say Carolina would never go with a system like USC's. If one runner is clearly better than all others, he will get the majority of the playing time. For example, Don McCauley rushed for 1,720 yards in 1970. At that time that broke O.J. Simpson's all-time NCAA single-season yardage record. Still, McCauley's backup, Ike Oglesby, had 562 yards.

McCauley is Carolina's only 1,000-yard back from outside the ACC's geographic area. He is a native of Garden City, N.Y.

Kevin Bryant

Bryant, Tyrone Anthony, James Betterson, Ethan Horton and Sammy Johnson are all North Carolinians. Lawrence and Voight grew up in Virginia, while Derrick Fenner, who smashed the 1,000-yard barrier last season, is from Maryland.

All except Fenner have played professional football. McCauley and Bryant have had the most success to date. McCauley played with the Baltimore Colts for 11 seasons and broke many of the club's rushing and scoring records set by Alan Ameche and Lenny Moore. Bryant was the USFL's Player of the Year in that league's first season. He joined the Washington Redskins last fall.

Horton and Johnson were recruited as quarterbacks. All of the others were high school halfbacks, although McCauley was more highly regarded as a defensive back.

Those players have turned in some of the greatest individual performances in ACC history. In fact, Carolina players have had the four best rushing days in league history. Fenner set a new ACC rushing record last season by gaining 328 yards against Virginia. The old record had been 286 by Lawrence against Virginia in 1977. McCauley has the third-best figure with 279 against Duke in 1970. Fourth on the ACC list is Voight's 261 yards against Duke in 1976.

Top single-season efforts ever in the ACC were McCauley's 1,720 yards in 1970 and Voight's 1,407 in 1976.

It has been performances like that which have made Carolina's tailback position what it is—a spot filled with tradition, a spot for special players, a spot for 1,000-yard rushers.

Carolina Linebackers

The most dynamic defensive player in the National Football League is Lawrence Taylor, the sensational linebacker of the New York Giants and another in a long line of standouts at that position from the University of North Carolina.

Just last season Taylor captured pro football's most prized award when he was named the NFL's Most Valuable Player. That honor came after he led the Giants to a Super Bowl triumph. The MVP trophy gave Taylor a sweep of the NFL's top individual honors in just his sixth year in the league.

Taylor roared into the NFL in 1981 as few rookies ever have. He not only was the league's Rookie of the Year, but also the NFL Defensive Player of the Year as well. In his six seasons with the Giants he has established himself as the outside linebacker with whom all others must will be compared.

Of course, Taylor's success has come as no surprise to those who had followed his great career at Carolina.

And the fact Taylor played for the Tar Heels was no surprise to NFL fans. Carolina has been turning out star linebackers for years.

The biggest star of them all may well be Taylor. The second player chosen in the NFL draft, Taylor actually helped turn the Giant franchise around. New York, which had only a 4-12 record in 1980, improved to 9-7 in Taylor's first year there. The Giants made the playoffs for the first time since 1963.

The major reason for that improvement was an outstanding defense featuring Taylor. The New York offense wasn't great by any means, but the defense was strong enough to offset that. In his first year in the league Taylor received more votes than any other NFC player in balloting for the Pro Bowl.

Taylor has been an All-Pro selection in all six of his NFL seasons and has also been in the Pro Bowl each year. Four times he has been named the Defensive Player of the Year.

Taylor had similar success at Carolina. He was a consensus All-America and the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year in his senior season. During that fall of 1980 he led a Tar Heel defense which helped Carolina post an 11-1 record, equalling the most wins in school history.

However, as mentioned earlier, Taylor was not the first Tar Heel linebacker to reach stardom in the NFL. The year before Taylor entered the league, the NFL's best rookie linebacker was Buddy Curry of the Atlanta Falcons. Curry had won All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors at Carolina in 1977 and 1979.

Two former Tar Heel linebackers helped their teams reach the Super Bowl in the 1970's. Chris Hanburger sparked a Redskin defense which took Washington to Super Bowl VII. John Bunting was a key performer for the Philadelphia Eagles when they reached Super Bowl XV.

While Hanburger and Bunting were two of the NFL's premier linebackers during the 1970's, two of the league's best in the 1960's were also former Tar Heels—Rip Hawkins of the Minnesota Vikings and Bill Koman of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Like Curry, Hanburger and Hawkins were also two-time All-ACC choices during their college days. Jimmy DeRatt, a Carolina linebacker in the 1970's, also won all-conference honors twice.

Other Tar Heel linebackers who have made the All-ACC team since 1970 are Bunting, Taylor, Bill Richardson, Mike Mansfield, Darrell Nicholson, Lee Shaffer, Chris Ward, Mike Wilcher and Micah Moon.

Wilcher is one of the NFL's best young defenders today. He has become a Pro Bowl player for the Los Angeles Rams.

In addition to Taylor, Curry and Wilcher, other Carolina linebackers still active in the NFL are Calvin Daniels of the Washington Redskins and Shelton Robinson of the Detroit Lions.

The First Forward Pass

While it is foolish to state emphatically that the first forward pass was thrown by a North Carolina football team, certain records would indicate as much. No less an authority than John Heisman himself credits the Tar Heels with the game's first pass.

The scene was Atlanta on October 26, 1895. Carolina and Georgia were locked in a scoreless struggle in the game's closing moments. The Tar Heels were in a punting situation deep in their own territory. Here is an account of what then happened as reported by Heisman in a 1928 edition of Collier's Weekly:

"The North Carolina fullback retreated until the crossbar of his goal was above his head and from the Georgia stands came the exhortation to 'block it, block it, block it.'

"And Georgia's forwards, gathering all their waning strength and riding over North Carolina's tired defense might have blocked it and even scored, had the sturdy boy from North Carolina kicked.

"But instead of punting into the leaping bodies of those onrushing Georgians, he ran a few mincing steps to the right. Raising the ball to his shoulder he tossed it.

"Luck was with the boy. The ball was caught by a North Carolinian. Now as we know forward passes, it wasn't much. It traveled a few yards and laterally as well as forward. It may have appeared to the spectators that it had been knocked from that fullback's hands.

"At any rate the lad who caught it ran 70 yards for a touchdown!

"I had seen the first forward pass in college football. It was illegal, of course.

Already Pop Warner, the Georgia coach, was storming at the referee. But the referee had not seen the North Carolina lad, goaded to desperation, toss the ball. A touchdown had been made and a touchdown it remained."

Other accounts of the game do not mention the forward pass. However, George Stephens is credited with a 70-yard touchdown run in the game.

At any rate, Heisman wrote that he immediately saw the possibilities that the forward pass had. He personally wrote Walter Camp about the play.

The forward pass was discussed for several years. It became a part of the rules at Camp's suggestion in 1906.

Certainly, the idea of the pass had to come from something. It may well have been Carolina's strange play in 1895.

Carolina's Bowl History

North Carolina has played in 16 post-season bowl games, including 12 in the last 17 years.

Carolina's post-season trips have been to the Sugar Bowl in 1947 and 1949; the Cotton Bowl in 1950; the Gator Bowl in 1963, 1971, 1979 and 1981; the Peach Bowl in 1970, 1976 and 1983; the Sun Bowl in 1972, 1974 and 1982; the Liberty Bowl in 1977; the Bluebonnet Bowl in 1980; and the Aloha Bowl in 1986.

The Tar Heels' bowl history started in the late Forties when Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice was running wild from the single wing. Carolina went to bowl games three times during the Justice Era, but lost all three.

Perhaps the most famous of those games was the 1947 Sugar Bowl which matched Carolina against Georgia. The game produced one of the most controversial plays in bowl history. Carolina was leading 7-0 in the third period when Bulldog defensive end Joe Tereshinski intercepted a Tar Heel pass. He then flipped a lateral to Dick McPhee who raced to the Carolina 14.

The Tar Heels argued the lateral was a forward one and the play should have been called back. However, the officials ruled differently. Georgia went on to score and eventually won the game.

Carolina returned to the Sugar Bowl two years later and lost to Oklahoma, 14-6. Justice had a great day for the Tar Heels, clicking off runs of 10, 13, 25, 11 and 14 yards. He punted four times for 65, 65, 57, and 53 yards.

Justice had another great day in the 1950 Cotton Bowl, but Carolina lost to Rice, 27-13.

The Tar Heels' next bowl appearance came in the 1963 Gator Bowl where Carolina walloped the Air Force, 35-0. Ken Willard was the big star that day. He ran for 94 yards on 18 carries and scored the first touchdown which keyed the runaway victory.

In the 1970 Peach Bowl the Tar Heels dropped a wild 48-26 decision to unbeaten Arizona State. All-America tailback Don McCauley had 143 yards rushing and three touchdowns for Carolina. But a second-half snowstorm and an injury to quarterback Paul Miller helped the Sun Devils to race to victory.

The 1971 Gator Bowl produced a bowl first—brothers opposing each other as coaches in bowl competition. It matched Vince Dooley of Georgia against Bill of Carolina. The game was a great defensive struggle in which the Bulldogs came from behind to win, 7-3.

Carolina capped an 11-1 season in the 1972 Sun Bowl by defeating Texas Tech, 32-28. Quarterback Nick Vidnovic was the big star, completing 14 of 26 passes for 215 yards. He fired a 62-yard scoring strike to Ted Leverenz to help the Tar Heels to a 24-21 halftime lead.

Tech came back to go ahead, 28-24, but Vidnovic hit Leverenz with a 13-yard TD pass with just a minute to play to bring Carolina back. The Tar Heels then added two more points when Ronnie Robinson dropped Raider quarterback Joe Barnes for a safety.

Mike Voight and James Betterson had big days rushing in the 1974 Sun Bowl, but Mississippi State won another thriller, 26-24. The Tar Heels put on a desperation drive in the game's closing moments, but were stopped on a fourth-and-one at their own 48-yard line.

Playing without the injured Voight, Carolina lost to Kentucky, 21-0, in the 1976 Peach Bowl. The Tar Heels had trouble all day with a tough Wildcat defense.

Carolina dropped a heartbreaking 21-17 decision to Nebraska in the 1977 Liberty Bowl. Sparked by quarterback Matt Kupec, the Tar Heels held a 17-7 lead going into the fourth period. However, the Cornhuskers rallied behind reserve quarterback Randy Garcia to score their come-from-behind victory.

Kupec and Amos Lawrence were the big stars in Carolina's 17-15 win over Michigan in the 1979 Gator Bowl. Kupec directed a 97-yard touchdown drive in the third quarter which put the Tar Heels ahead to stay (14-9). Jeff Hayes later added a 32-yard field goal. Michigan scored with 1:28 left to cut the lead to two, but a two-point pass failed.

Kupec completed 18 of 28 passes, while Lawrence ran for 118 yards. They were named co-MVPs.

Lawrence again was the big star in Carolina's 16-7 win over Texas in the 1980 Bluebonnet Bowl. He rushed for 104 yards and had a 59-yard touchdown run. Carolina's other scoring came on a short plunge by Kelvin Bryant and a field goal by Hayes. A key factor in this game was the Carolina defense which limited the Longhorns to just two first downs and only 36 yards of total offense in the second half. Lawrence topped Bryant in voting for the game's outstanding offensive player, while Steve Streater edged Lawrence Taylor in balloting for the defensive MVP.

Bryant and his backup, Ethan Horton, both had big nights as Carolina defeated Arkansas, 31-27, in the 1981 Gator Bowl. Bryant rushed for 148 yards and Horton added 144. They shared the MVP award.

Horton again was the big star in 1982 as Carolina came from behind to defeat seventh-ranked Texas, 26-10, in the Sun Bowl. Coming off the bench in the second half for an injured Bryant, Horton rushed for 119 yards and won MVP honors. Sparked by his play, the Tar Heels rallied from a 10-3 halftime deficit.

However, Horton was not the only Carolina star. The Tar Heel defense, which made two brilliant goal line stands, shut down the Texas attack in the second half. Rob Rogers and Brooks Barwick each kicked two field goals despite weather conditions which featured a wind chill factor of 12 degrees and snow throughout the game.

Carolina suffered its first bowl loss under Dick Crum in the 1983 Peach Bowl. Florida State scored the first two times it had the ball and was never headed in a 28-3 victory. The Tar Heels hurt themselves badly with a fumbled punt which allowed FSU to go just 16 yards for its third touchdown and penalties which killed two drives of their own.

Last season in Honolulu, Carolina spotted Arizona a 30-0 lead before putting on a big second-half rally in the Aloha Bowl. The Wildcats seemed to have the game in hand as the Tar Heels struggled offensively against a rugged Arizona defense. However, a 58-yard touchdown run by Torin Dorn got the Tar Heels going in the third quarter.

Then Norris Davis made two big plays, intercepting a pass and blocking a punt, to get the ball back for the defense. Mark Maye threw to Randy Marriott for one score and got another TD himself on a two-yard run. That cut the lead to 30-21 with over nine minutes to play. But, despite driving inside Wildcat territory on two other occasions, Carolina could get no closer.

That defeat left the all-time Tar Heel bowl record at 6-10.
